Sept. 27. ANON.

The Pitt Diamond.

While Pitt, the grandfather of Lord Chatham, was governor of Fort St. George in 1698 he became acquainted with a jewel merchant named Jamchund, who brought a diamond of great size for sale. He asked £30,000 for it in the rough. It should, of course, have been bought on behalf of the company, but Pitt, seeing money in it, could not resist the temptation of making a private bargain. He became the possessor of the stone for the sum of £20,400, and he was quite satisfied that he had behaved honorably when he paid the man, who on his part was also content. But the diamond was known to be worth more than Jamchund had received, and the transaction gave rise to a good deal of gossip, which in no way decreased when later on Pitt had the stone cut in England and sold it to the regent of France for £135,000. Even that enormous sum did not represent its true value. The stone was set in the royal crown of France. It weighed 410 carats in the rough, but the cutting reduced it to 135 carats.—Mrs. Penney's "Fort St. George, Madras."

Changeable Names.

Tom—Belle is a strange girl. She doesn't know the names of some of her best friends. Maud—That's nothing. Why, I don't even know what my own will be a year from now.—Boston Transcript.

The Process.

"You are a pretty sharp boy, Tommy."

"Well, I ought to be. Pa takes me out in the wood shed and straps me three or four times a week."—Harper's Weekly.

A New Problem.

Jones—I say, Smith, are you a good hand at arithmetic?

Smith—Yes, I am considered very good. Why?

Jones—Well, here is a little problem for you. There was a man named Little, living in Dublin, who had a daughter. Now, she was in love with a chap she knew her pater did not approve of, so one day she eloped with him. When the old man found out, he was very angry, and at once followed them. Now, then, what time was it?

Smith (angrily)—What time was it? How on earth do you suppose I can tell you? I give it up.

Jones (triumphantly)—Why, a little after two, of course.

"Say, grandpa, make a noise like a frog," coaxed little Tommy. "What for, my son?" Why, papa says that when you croak we'll get $5,000.

"I used to tell my wife when I had done wrong, played cards or the like, but I had to quit it." "Why?" "She kept raising the price of forgiveness."

"Live like a hermit and work like a horse." This is the reply attributed to Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, when asked to define the secret of success.

Remember that if the opportunities for great deeds should never come, the opportunity for good deeds is renewed day by day. The thing for us to long for is the goodness, not the glory.—F. W. Faber.

Mistress—Jane, I can't have you entertaining company in my kitchen all the time. New cook—Faith, an' it do be your own fault, ma'am. Yez should 'ave advertised for a plain cook.

The most valuable work in existence is said to be a copy of the Koran, now treasured in the Mohammedan city of Ispahan—Ruza, Persia. The covers, nine and one-half inches by four inches, are of solid gold, one-eighth inch thick, while precious stones set in symbolic designs figure in the center and at each of the corners. The book is written upon parchment, and this part of the work alone is valued at $10,000.

The erratic warbling of the amateur tenor drifted through the air shaft. "Ah," said the girl with the dreamy eyes, "he calls himself the 'mournful nightingale.' Don't you feel sad when he sings?" The coarse man in black suspenders shrugged his shoulders. "Very sad, Tessie; very sad." "Ah, it makes you feel sad to hear his sentimental songs?" "No, it makes me sad to think there is a law against shooting nightingales." And far away in the summer night a lone cat joined in the chorus.

SUFFERED FOR YEARS

Says Per-na Completely Restored Health.

MRS. CHAS. GROS LOUIS, Indian Lorette, Quebec, Can., writes:

"For years I suffered from a disease that the doctors did not understand."

"One day I read in the paper about your excellent remedy, Peruna. I procured a bottle of it and took it according to directions. It was not long until I observed a change for the better."

"I can say that Peruna has cured me. I could not take any nourishment except milk."

"I will at all times say a good word for Peruna. I hold it in the highest esteem."

Not only women of rank and leisure praise Peruna, but the industrious, useful women engaged in manual toil would not be without Dr. Hartman's world-renowned remedy.

The doctor has prescribed it for many thousand women every year and he never fails to receive a multitude of letters like the above, thanking him for his advice, and especially for the wonderful benefits received from Peruna.

Not Coughing Today?

Yet you may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says. He knows. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Robust health is a great safeguard against attacks of throat and lung troubles, but constipation will destroy the best of health. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills.

The First Prize

In life's contest is robust health. For sixty years, the true "L. F. Atwood's Bitters" have safeguarded the health of thousands of families. You can always depend on them to promptly relieve constipation, indigestion and bilious attacks. Try them; that is all we ask. Results will prove convincing enough. A large bottle for 35c. and only a teaspoonful to a dose.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, God in His wisdom, has called our dearly beloved sister, Elizabeth E. Jordan, from her earthly home to be with Him, and

Whereas, We, the members of Companion court Sunbeam, I. O. F., No. 323, wish to honor her memory and extend our heartfelt sympathy to those bereft of their loved one, be it therefore

Resolved, That in the death of our sister, we, as an organization, have lost one of our earliest, most faithful and most conscientious members. And the removal of such a life from our midst leaves a vacancy that will be felt by all who knew her.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy for the bereaved relatives we express our hope that even so great a loss may be overruled for good by Him who doeth all things well. It is hard to understand the justice of a decree of Providence that dooms to early dissolution a life so fraught with good, so capable of his highest development with maturing years, but let not those who mourn complain; the design of her life lies broken, unfinished.

And we know that each of us
Soon must follow—one by one,
And may say, while her love is mourning,
God is love; Thy will be done."

Resolved, That as a further expression of our respect, our charter be draped for thirty days, and a copy of these resolutions be placed upon our records, a copy sent to the bereaved family and copies sent to THE ELLSWORTH AMERICAN and Bangor Commercial for publication.
