

CORRESPONDENCE.

Capac Clips.

Mrs. J. A. Smith is taking a little recreation, visiting friends at Flint and Pontiac, previous to the opening of fall and winter trade.

S. S. Brooker is suffering with that most aggravating of maladies—hay fever—and sighs for the return of the "wee lady" of his home and fire-side, who is visiting in the Empire State, all unconscious of her tormented hubby at home.

A. Finn of Port Huron was in town Monday evening.

J. E. Soules of Fort Gratiot spent Sunday in town.

A number of Capacers drove to Lynn Friday evening to see the "Whitney Family world's combination troupe" (wonder if that's the whole of 'em) which exhibited there on that evening and if we may judge from the time of departure to the hour of return to Capac they evidently enjoyed themselves exceedingly well.

Dr. D. Paterson met with a slight accident the same evening at Lynn owing to his horse taking fright at its own shadow (a thing by the way that some people are subject to) making things rather lively for a few minutes. No great damage done however excepting the pony's a bruised limb and the carriage somewhat demoralized.

Capac can no longer boast of being a "Temperance town" as we have now two places for the accommodation of men and—beasts, the latter, of which we have already several illustrations.

Rumor bath it—two weddings in town shortly.

Ah! those "Band Concerts" (?) are too gorgeous. An revoir. "SWEET BRIAR".

Minden Murmurings.

Dog days in Minden last the year round. I think the nights are the worst. I hope they will get the Asiatic Cholera and die.

The fire sufferers re-union in Minden was well attended. The Governor gave us a good speech this was followed by a fine address from Judge Mitchell of Pt. Huron, afterward a dinner was served in abundance on the Fair ground. But afterward some of the weaker ones came in contact with our Minden Whiskey and caused a fight, which ended in a stabbing affray which was a disgrace to the whole affair.

Our looked-for flowing well did not prove a success, but plenty of water was found which will be brought to the surface by means of a windmill.

Rev. A. P. Delory of Bad Axe was married this week, to Miss Hattie Brown of Minden it occurred at the house of the bride's parents in Minden Rev. J. Bettes officiating. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for Pt. Huron. Mrs. J. Brown Miss Bettes, Mr. A. Delory and A. S. Brooks accompanying them as far as Croswell and returning on the evening train. May trouble never cross their pathway.

I am going away next week, to see my girl, Mr. Editor, so I cannot write for your paper, but I am coming back again.

The Minden boys went out to Tyre last Saturday to play a match game of base ball. I think they got Tyred.

Rev. John Bettes left this week for Conference, held in Detroit.

That young man who slides out of his chamber window, down the verandah after a cat, which is making the night hideous, and runs his abdomen against the pump handle; then yells worse than the cat, had better stay in bed where life is more pleasant.

Fargo Notes.

Having neglected you for some time, owing to business, I now will tell you what we are doing down here. First, we are trying to get some subscribers for your paper but fail every time. Farmers say when they sell wheat for 60 and 80 cents they cannot afford to take a paper. F. A. Hill has got his new store and dwelling finished and has moved into the same. There is a shoe shop in connection with the store and Mr. Somes says he can give you good fits. Try him and patronize home industry. Our great mill is a success and the farmers say it is so handy to go to mill after supper. We have a boss blacksmith and now we want a wagon shop and we can get along very well. Chas. Farr Jr is getting his house pretty well finished. The Grangers commenced to buy grain here next Monday. We wish them success. Farmers says the ground is so hard they can hardly plow for fall wheat. Mrs. Sarah Bradley, of Jeddo is visiting at F. A. Hill's. Filling up and grading in front of the new store adds much to its appearance. More Anon. Monoc.

Wales Correspondence.

The samples of your paper have come to hand and meet our approbation.

Harvest is through and the majority of farmers have a good crop. Some of the oats were considerably damaged by rain, but the wheat was mostly secured in good condition. Many are now putting in fall wheat while others are engaged in thrashing.

Two Sunday schools in connection with the M. P. church met together on Thursday last near the Mt. Pleasant chapel, and held a very enjoyable picnic. About 200 were present. Ebenezer Carl, of the Mt. Pleasant school was marshal of the day, and W. E. Chute acted as chairman and chorister. Dr. Stephens was leader in the castor school. Each school sang 6 or 7 pieces a dozen or more pieces were read or recited by the scholars, and teachers of classes. A good dinner was enjoyed, a good speech from Rev. G. Sharp, and some good organ music by Miss Ella Lawlor.

An ice cream social is to be held at Mt. Pleasant on the evening of the 20th inst.

Died, in Wales, on the 2nd, Fred W. Keopfen, aged 70 years. He was born in Prussia in 1812, came to New Jersey in 1838 and married Ann Lawlor there. He was a blacksmith by trade and worked several years in New York. He moved to Canada in 1849, and to Michigan in 1850. He left a valuable property, consisting of 3 farms, well stocked and equipped, a wife, 5 sons and 2 daughters, all of which except one son were at the funeral, which was attended by Rev. G. Shary, at Mt. Pleasant. STEEL PEN.

—Oh how dusty.

—J. H. Brown has our thanks for a basket of those most luscious plums which he raises on his farm. The d—l says they are fine and we will not contradict him. Yum, yum.
