

"Seeing the Elephant."

A SOLDIER TALKS OF WAR.—The Boston Courier says the letters from the volunteer regiments in Mexico show that the men have already seen enough of the war and the country, and desire to return home.

"I am heartily sick of the life of a soldier.—Our situation here in garrison is much better than it would be if we were on the march, but still I do not at all relish it.

Executions for Treason. We are astonished at the stolidity which characterizes the American Public, in every grade and station of society, in regard to the unheard usurpations and outrages of the present Administration.

We shall, after a few days, be called upon, by custom, to celebrate the Declaration of our National Independence, but who that feels the full extent of our terrific retrograde from the principles of our national founders, can forbear looking upon these festive rites, as any thing but mockery.

Let any of our readers suppose that an invading force had now crossed from Canada, occupied Detroit, and other points through the State; established a military government for the time being, (as was done in the last war) and should immediately commence punishing those who should refuse to take the oath of allegiance or who, after being forced to take it, as guilty of treason to the Queen of Great Britain.

On Friday last the whole of this gallant regiment, whose history we have thus briefly sketched, arrived in our city. It numbers just three hundred and fifty, about one-third the force with which it left. And this loss it has sustained in a twelve months' campaign.

1st Resolved, That we esteem the declaration of Independence issued by the American Congress on the 4th July, 1776, an event fraught with higher and holier consequences than mankind than any other political event since the commencement of the christian era, and that it is the duty of all good citizens to celebrate, that, the birth day of civil and religious liberty in such manner as shall convey to the minds of the rising generation the most vivid and lasting impression of the virtues and patriotism of the men of the revolution, and shall lead them to a just application of the benefits secured to us by the sacrifices of our forefathers.

JUDICIAL ELECTIONS.—The Judicial election in the State of New York, passed off with but little interest, either of a partisan or general character. The vote was every where light & the result, in many cases different from what the previous political complexion of Counties lead us to anticipate.

WASHTENAW TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—We have been furnished by Mr. D. Harmon, with a catalogue of the Teachers' Institute held at Ann Arbor, March 22d to 26th. The number of Teachers in attendance was 72; males 46, females 26.

MEXICAN PRIVATEERS.—A Barcelona date of the 3d of May, states that the Mexican privateer Unica, of Vera Cruz, 1 gun and 33 men, had captured and brought into that port, the American brig Cecilia 198 tons, Capt. Littlefield, freighted with coffee & bound to Trieste. The captors were arrested by the Spanish authorities, and the brig allowed to resume her voyage.

Passengers. Geo. Van Doren, Lower Sandusky, O. Mrs. Hook, Waterbury, N. Y. E. Corn, Belleville, O. S. York, Tiffin, O.

Straker Washmore.—This First American Ocean Steamer left New York on Tuesday at the appointed hour, with a goodly number of passengers, and one of the largest mails, as she was informed, ever taken from New York.

Directed for Europe.—We announced a few days since the first sail vessel in our port direct from the Atlantic via the St. Lawrence River.
