

The Effects of the Recent Victory in Kentucky.

The signal defeat and route of Zollicoffer's forces opens the roads to East Tennessee and the great line of Railroads by which the army of Manassas is supplied. The threatening advance of the Mississippi Expedition will prevent the confederate forces along its banks from moving, while Buell's large army threatening Nashville will keep Gen. Johnston at or near Bowling Green.

The result will be that the rebel generals at Manassas, seeing their communications with their supplies threatened, will be compelled to do one of these three things: they will either (1) send a large force by railroad into East Tennessee to thwart Gen. Buell, or (2) they will withdraw the whole army southward, or (3) they will make a desperate push towards the Potomac, and offer immediate battle to Gen. McClellan.

If they adopt the first of these expedients they will be so weak that Gen. Banks and Stone can safely push forward their columns in a flank movement on Manassas. If the rebels come out to meet this, Gen. McClellan immediately marches to Manassas and takes it. If the rebels should withdraw their thin army from Manassas southward, (which is highly improbable,) the several coastwise expeditions particularly that of Gen. Burnside, will be before-hand with them, having penetrated inland and destroying the railroad communications.

In whatever view the case is looked at, we think we have the rebels at a great disadvantage, which, we believe, will increase at every successful step. Gen. McClellan's plans are but beginning to be developed, and we have the utmost confidence that the result will be such as to vindicate the cause of the Union and the Generalship of our Commander-in-Chief.

Later from Europe. By the arrival of the Europa, we have at last definite intelligence from England, as to how the answer of our Government to the demand of Great Britain in the "Trent" affair was received, and how it will affect the future relations of the two countries. The Ministry are represented to have declared themselves gratified and satisfied, and the press generally receives the adjustment in good temper, though one or two of them, possessed of a chronic hate of the United States, cannot give their acquiescence in the settlement of one controversy, without attempting to get up another in reference to the sinking of stone-laden vessels in Charleston harbor. This they affect to regard as atrocious, although Great Britain has done the like more than once, and they give a characteristic growl.

The most significant feature of the news is the fact that the London Times and others are disapproving any step on the part of the English people to Mason and Slidell any public demonstrations of honor on their arrival—and we judge that John Bull will give the fugitive traitors the cold shoulder, and rather hoot at than applaud them.

The War Department. The change in the War Department appears to give very general satisfaction, and it is believed that the event will prove to be the inauguration of more honesty, greater economy, and more real energy in the affairs of the War office and the Army, than have thus far characterized them. There has been an amazing degree of mismanagement and maladministration in that department, especially in the matter of army contracts, and we have but little doubt that this fact, more than any other, made the resignation of Mr. Cameron necessary. It is to be hoped that under the charge of Mr. Stanton, a man of great energy of character and business talents, and honorable reputation for integrity, these things will be reformed, and all the affairs of the Department be properly administered, and with an honest regard to the best interests of the Government and the efficiency of the army of the Union.

REMEMBER!—Remember the solemn exhortation of Daniel Webster:—"Cling to the Constitution as the shipwrecked mariner clings to the plank, when night and the tempest close around him."

Cholera is making great ravages in India. At Cawpore the natives are the principal victims. At Kandahar 3,000 people have died in eighteen days.

The Position of Parties. The present Administration is something of a mystery to those who have no faith in it, because they do not know its "policy."

The Burnside Expedition. By the arrival of the steamer Eastern State, we have the first direct and official intelligence of the Burnside Expedition.

There is in the South 680,000 strong and loyal male slaves who have fed and clothed the rebel army and have as good as fought upon their side. Government now proposes that these loyal slaves shall now feed and clothe our army and fight upon our side.

The Economy of Health.—This busy nation of Americans have 12,000,000 working people, whose services may be estimated at $2 a day, and their annual loss by sickness at an average of ten days each in the year.

The Rebel General Crittenden. It is said that Hon. John J. Crittenden is deeply affected by the news from Kentucky, and has not been in the House since the report of the battle of Somerset was received.

NOTICE.—The Ladies Mite Society will meet at the residence of Henry Rutter, on Friday afternoon and evening next, Feb. 7th, 1862. All are cordially invited to attend.

NOTICE.—The Congregational Social Aid Society will meet at the residence of M. F. Smith, on Tuesday evening next, February 4th, 1862. All are cordially invited to attend.

MARRIED. January 2nd, by Rev. S. H. D. Van, FRANCIS L. CHURCHILL, of Volia, to LYDIA A. DIX, of the same town.

A Fresh Supply of CHESTNUTS at the Bakery A. G. TOWNSEND.

The Position of Parties. The present Administration is something of a mystery to those who have no faith in it, because they do not know its "policy."

The Burnside Expedition. By the arrival of the steamer Eastern State, we have the first direct and official intelligence of the Burnside Expedition.

There is in the South 680,000 strong and loyal male slaves who have fed and clothed the rebel army and have as good as fought upon their side.

The Economy of Health.—This busy nation of Americans have 12,000,000 working people, whose services may be estimated at $2 a day.

The Rebel General Crittenden. It is said that Hon. John J. Crittenden is deeply affected by the news from Kentucky.

NOTICE.—The Ladies Mite Society will meet at the residence of Henry Rutter, on Friday afternoon and evening next, Feb. 7th, 1862.

NOTICE.—The Congregational Social Aid Society will meet at the residence of M. F. Smith, on Tuesday evening next, February 4th, 1862.

MARRIED. January 2nd, by Rev. S. H. D. Van, FRANCIS L. CHURCHILL, of Volia, to LYDIA A. DIX, of the same town.

A Fresh Supply of CHESTNUTS at the Bakery A. G. TOWNSEND.

The Position of Parties. The present Administration is something of a mystery to those who have no faith in it, because they do not know its "policy."

The Burnside Expedition. By the arrival of the steamer Eastern State, we have the first direct and official intelligence of the Burnside Expedition.

There is in the South 680,000 strong and loyal male slaves who have fed and clothed the rebel army and have as good as fought upon their side.

The Economy of Health.—This busy nation of Americans have 12,000,000 working people, whose services may be estimated at $2 a day.

The Rebel General Crittenden. It is said that Hon. John J. Crittenden is deeply affected by the news from Kentucky.

NOTICE.—The Ladies Mite Society will meet at the residence of Henry Rutter, on Friday afternoon and evening next, Feb. 7th, 1862.

NOTICE.—The Congregational Social Aid Society will meet at the residence of M. F. Smith, on Tuesday evening next, February 4th, 1862.

MARRIED. January 2nd, by Rev. S. H. D. Van, FRANCIS L. CHURCHILL, of Volia, to LYDIA A. DIX, of the same town.

A Fresh Supply of CHESTNUTS at the Bakery A. G. TOWNSEND.

The Position of Parties. The present Administration is something of a mystery to those who have no faith in it, because they do not know its "policy."

The Burnside Expedition. By the arrival of the steamer Eastern State, we have the first direct and official intelligence of the Burnside Expedition.

There is in the South 680,000 strong and loyal male slaves who have fed and clothed the rebel army and have as good as fought upon their side.

The Economy of Health.—This busy nation of Americans have 12,000,000 working people, whose services may be estimated at $2 a day.

The Rebel General Crittenden. It is said that Hon. John J. Crittenden is deeply affected by the news from Kentucky.

NOTICE.—The Ladies Mite Society will meet at the residence of Henry Rutter, on Friday afternoon and evening next, Feb. 7th, 1862.

NOTICE.—The Congregational Social Aid Society will meet at the residence of M. F. Smith, on Tuesday evening next, February 4th, 1862.

MARRIED. January 2nd, by Rev. S. H. D. Van, FRANCIS L. CHURCHILL, of Volia, to LYDIA A. DIX, of the same town.

A Fresh Supply of CHESTNUTS at the Bakery A. G. TOWNSEND.

The Position of Parties. The present Administration is something of a mystery to those who have no faith in it, because they do not know its "policy."

The Burnside Expedition. By the arrival of the steamer Eastern State, we have the first direct and official intelligence of the Burnside Expedition.

There is in the South 680,000 strong and loyal male slaves who have fed and clothed the rebel army and have as good as fought upon their side.

The Economy of Health.—This busy nation of Americans have 12,000,000 working people, whose services may be estimated at $2 a day.

The Rebel General Crittenden. It is said that Hon. John J. Crittenden is deeply affected by the news from Kentucky.

NOTICE.—The Ladies Mite Society will meet at the residence of Henry Rutter, on Friday afternoon and evening next, Feb. 7th, 1862.

NOTICE.—The Congregational Social Aid Society will meet at the residence of M. F. Smith, on Tuesday evening next, February 4th, 1862.

MARRIED. January 2nd, by Rev. S. H. D. Van, FRANCIS L. CHURCHILL, of Volia, to LYDIA A. DIX, of the same town.

A Fresh Supply of CHESTNUTS at the Bakery A. G. TOWNSEND.

The Position of Parties. The present Administration is something of a mystery to those who have no faith in it, because they do not know its "policy."

The Burnside Expedition. By the arrival of the steamer Eastern State, we have the first direct and official intelligence of the Burnside Expedition.

There is in the South 680,000 strong and loyal male slaves who have fed and clothed the rebel army and have as good as fought upon their side.

The Economy of Health.—This busy nation of Americans have 12,000,000 working people, whose services may be estimated at $2 a day.

The Rebel General Crittenden. It is said that Hon. John J. Crittenden is deeply affected by the news from Kentucky.

NOTICE.—The Ladies Mite Society will meet at the residence of Henry Rutter, on Friday afternoon and evening next, Feb. 7th, 1862.

NOTICE.—The Congregational Social Aid Society will meet at the residence of M. F. Smith, on Tuesday evening next, February 4th, 1862.

MARRIED. January 2nd, by Rev. S. H. D. Van, FRANCIS L. CHURCHILL, of Volia, to LYDIA A. DIX, of the same town.

A Fresh Supply of CHESTNUTS at the Bakery A. G. TOWNSEND.