CONSECRATION OF ST. PAUL'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—The new Episcopal Church, in this city, will be consecrated by the Rt. Rev. Samuel A. McCroskey, Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan, on Sunday next, 29th inst, at half past ten o'clock, A. M. A collection will be taken at the same time to assist in the completion of the payment for said Church.

DENIAL.—Mr. David Wait, of Delhi, the Locofoco School Inspector, has notified us that "no Miss North has been inspected" by the Delhi Board, and that "no one has refused to parse a sentence when he was present." We may be mistaken in the name of the young lady examined, but we believe the statement we made to be substantially correct.

FIRE.—On Saturday last a fire occurred in the first ward of our city, which resulted in the destruction of a two story dwelling house, owned by Mr. Boardman, and occupied by Mr. Emery, principal of one of our Union schools.

Torrent company No. 1, were prompt and energetic in their efforts to extinguish the flames, but for the want of decent hose were able to render but little assistence. The Hook and Ladder company were on hand, and did effective service. The loss is estimated at $500.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.—On Friday of last week, a distressing accident occurred at the Lower Town, in our city. It appears that a number of children have been accustomed to amuse themselves by riding on logs as they are brought in upon trucks to the saw mill. On this day one of them took along a little girl, a daughter of C. P. Ten Eyck, to enjoy the ride, but carelessly letting it fall, one of the wheels of the truck ran over it, crushing its head and killing it instantly. At the same time another of the children had a foot severely injured in the same manner. Let children take warning.

A Remarkable Book.

HINTS TOWARDS PHYSICAL PERFECTION: OR, THE PHILOSOPHY OF HUMAN BEAUTY; showing how to Acquire and Retain Bodily Symmetry, Health, and Vigor; secure Long Life; and avoid the Infirmities and Deformities of Age. By D. H. Jacques. New York: Fowler and Wells, publishers, 308 Broadway; $1.

This is a work which, if we mistake not, is destined to command almost universal attention, and awaken everywhere a deeper interest in the physical improvement of the race than has yet been manifested; as it shows how certain and easy this improvement may be made by the use of the perfectly legitimate means therein pointed out. Its revelations of the laws of human configuration, on which symmetry and beauty depend, are not less interesting and important than they are novel and surprising; showing, as they do, that the form and features of even the mature man or woman (and much more those of the child) may be modified at will, and to an almost unlimited extent—that we have the power to change, gradually but surely, the shape and arrangement of bone, fiber, and fluid, thus growing, day by day, more beautiful or more ugly, according to the direction given to the vital forces.

It will be found deeply interesting to both sexes (but especially to women) and to all ages; and we earnestly commend it to all for whom health, strength and beauty have any attractions; to parents, as a guide to the right performance of their all-important functions and duties; to teachers, who may learn from it how to develop the minds and bodies of their pupils harmoniously together; to young women, who will not look in vain in its pages for the secrets of that womanly beauty and personal attractiveness which they very properly desire to possess; and to young men, who will find it a manual of rules for the development of those high qualities of physical vigor and manliness which will command the admiration of their own sex no less than the love of the other. Illustrated with twenty plates and a large number of cuts, executed in the highest style of art.
