From the National Era.

KENTUCKY POLITICS.

The politicians of Kentucky of both parties are playing a most unprincipled game for the spoils. The sham Democracy, for the sake of keeping or making terms with the anti-Lecompton Northern 'Democracy,' has ventured to take the position that Congress should not intervene to prevent the Territories from excluding Slavery by "unfriendly legislation." This position falls short in liberality of that heretofore occupied by the "Americans" and Whigs.—But the latter, with unparalleled prostitution, have seiz d the opportunity to outbid the Democracy for the support of the slave interest. The American or Whig candidate, Bell, takes the ground that it is the duty of Congress to protect Slavery in the Territories; and the Louisville Journal, the old organ of Henry Clay, and defender of his anti-Slavery-extension views, comes up squarely and enthusiastically to the support of this ultra Southern demand.

From the report of a debate between Messrs Bell and Magoffin, the candidates of the Whigs and Democrats for the Governorship, which took place at Lebanon, Ky, we quote as follows from the Louisville Journal:

"As for myself, said Mr. Bell, I have no concealments to make. By virtue of the Constitution of the United States, Slavery goes into the Territories as soon as a Territorial Government is organized; and as soon as it is organized, the Constitution flings its protecting wing around it. The power of Congress under the Constitution is ample to protect and not to impair any right. Slave property stands on the same footing as all other personal property, and, as a northern man has a right to be protected in any species of property, so a southern man has under the Constitution the fullest guarantee for the full protection of his slave property in the Territories. He then would ask Mr. Magoffin

1st. Has Congress the Constitutional power to protect Slavery in the Territories?

2d. Ought Congress to interfere to protect Southern property in slaves in the Territories?

Mr. Bell answered both these questions fully and fairly in the affirmative, and inserted that it was the bounden duty of Congress to protect not only against any actual prohibition but against any 'unfriendly legislation' on the part of the Territorial Legislature."

The same report continues:

"Mr. Magoffin, in his half-hour reply, took the ground that Congress has the power to pass laws to protect Slavery in the Territories, but if the Territorial Legislature refuse to pass protective laws or legislate unfriendly to Slavery, he was on the ground, broad and square, of Congressional non-intervention. We had the Supreme Court of the United States to appeal to, and that was the last resort."

The Louisville Journal referring to this debate in a leading editorial, says:

"Who does not turn with an exalting sense of relief and a glow of pride from this rickety and slouching heresy, to the fair and manly and statesmanlike position of Joshua F. Bell? Rejecting with ineffable scorn, as every candid man of ordinary sense must do, the Statesman's cherished fallacy that the power to protect implies the the power to destroy, Mr. Bell asserts, frankly, at once the power and duty of Congress to protect (if necessary) the rights of the South in the Territories of the Union. 'On the new question of protection of Slavery in the Territories,' says the Democratic authority from which we have already quoted, 'Mr. Bell assumed a bold and decided position. He was in favor of the protection of slave property by Congressional legislation, in the event of the Territorial Legislature's failing to pass protective laws.' How nobly does this position contrast with the cowardly and faithless dodge of non-intervention, as now interpreted by the Democracy of the State, whether resting on a denial of the power of Congress to intervene, or on the alleged impolicy of exerting the power! It is as light compared with darkness."

We confess our surprise at finding Mr. Crittenden ardently engaged in supporting this ultra Pro-Slavery sectional ticket.—From the editorial columns of the Journal we again quote the following:

"Hon. John J. Crittenden was present at an Opposition meeting in Franklin county last week, which appointed Congressional conferences, and addressed those assembled in an earnest, forcible, and eloquent speech."

The idea of a co-operation between honest Republicans and such an "opposition" as that of Kentucky, is utterly preposterous.

Henry Clay said that no human power could induce him to vote for the spread of Slavery over a foot of free soil; and here are his degenerate followers in Kentucky, proclaiming their readiness to legislate the institution into all the Territories of the Union, however revolting it may be to the inhabitants.

He Can't Bear Noise.—A good story is told in Washington in reference to the cannon fireing of the Republicans over the Conneticut election. The Mayor of the city decided a year or ago, that he would not allow such political demonstrations within the limits of the corporations. So the Republicans dragged their field-piece across the river and planted it on the point of the Virginia shore which runs in close to the Presidential mansion, and there fired their hundred guns into the ears of James the First. While engaged in this business, some gentleman crossed from the White House with very anxious looks, and supposing that some one was drowned, and that the firing was only to raise the body eagerly asked:

"Is any one dead?"

"Yes," was the reply in solomn tones.

"James Buchanan."

The stranger soon learned the nature of the joke, and laughed as heartily as the rest.

Price-Current—Mixed.—Mrs. Perkins says she never can understand these 'ere market reports. She can understand how cheese can be lively and pork can be active — that is before it is dead—and feathers can be dropping—that is if it's raining—but how whisky can be steady, or hops quiet, or spirits dull, she can't see; neither how lard can be firm in warm weather, nor iron unsettled, nor potatoes depressed, nor flour rising—less there had been yeast put into it—some times it would not rise even then.

Shot.—At Rome Centre, yesterday, while two boys were scuffling and "fooling," a gun in the hands of one of them exploded, and sent two bullets entirly through the body of the other boy. The boy who was shot is a son of Martin Cure, aged 14 years. He was alive this morning but what his prospects are we could not learn.—Adrian Watchtower.

DOCTOR HOOFLAND'S

CELEBRATED

GERMAN BITTERS,

WILL EFFECTUALLY CURE

LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA,

Jaundice, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach.

Such as Consumption, Inward Piles, Fulness or Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering of the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Fever and Dull pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and great Depression of Spirits.

The proprietors, in calling the attention of the public to this preparation, do so with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its virtues and adaptation to the diseases for which it is recommended.

It is now and untried article, but one that has stood the test of a ten years' trial before the American people, and its reputation and sale are unsurpassed by any similar remedy in this country or Europe. The testimony in its favor is from prominent and well known Physicians and individuals in all parts of the country in common, and a careful perusal of the Almanac, published annually by the proprietor, and to be had gratis of our Agents, cannot but satisfy the most skeptical that this remedy is really deserving the great celebrity it has obtained. 1y195

DR. HOOFLAND'S

BALSAMIC CORDIAL,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Croup, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Diseases of the Bowels arising from Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief and (if at all possible) cure of Patients in advanced stages of the latter disease.

This celebrated preparation, like the Bitters, may be confidently relied on. It is designed for a class of diseases more general and more fatal than any other to which the people of this country are subject—those springing from a "slight cold." This eminent authority, Dr. Beck, says: "I will not say that Colds are to our inhabitants what the Plague and Yellow Fever are to those of other countries; but, I can safely say that they usher in diseases of greater complexity and mortality than those latter."

A further proof of the terrible fatality of diseases result from a "common cold" may be seen by a glance at the following statistics, taken from the records of the Board of Health of Philadelphia, confessedly one of the most healthy localities in the Union:

1852. Total deaths in Philadelphia		10,251
Died of Consumption	1,012
" " all other diseases (250 in number)	9,249
		10,261
1853. Total deaths		9,749
Died of Consumption	1,870
" " all other diseases	7,804
		9,749
1854. Total deaths		11,814
Died of Consumption	2,176
" " all other diseases	9,638
		11,814

From these figures, it will be seen that nearly one fourth of the total deaths in the country are caused by consumption, to say nothing of the numerous other diseases springing from a "slight cold."

Do not trifle with your health; but, if suffering from a cough or cold on the lungs, buy a bottle of HOOFLAND'S BALSAMIC CORDIAL, and you may safely count on a cure. Thousands have found it so, and have certified to its wonderful effects.

Coughs sometimes proceed from a disordered or a dyspeptic state of the stomach, in which case the German Bitters should be used. In case of weakness, or general debility of the system, resulting from a protracted cough, the German Bitters will be found of great benefit.

Prepared only by Dr. C. M. Jackson, 418 Arch Street, Philadelphia, and for sale by Druggists and Storekeepers throughout the United States and Canada. Price 75 cents per bottle.

For sale by R. Thayer & Co., E. D. Buffington, and Newbro & Bro., Lansing, and all respectable Druggists in the Union. 1y193

DR. J. W. KERMOTT,

Eclectic Physician and Surgeon,

Would most respectfully announce that he will visit Lansing on the fourteenth day of every month, for the purpose of meeting patients afflicted with Chronic or Lingering Diseases.

Rooms at the Lansing House.

Dr. Kermott has in his possession certificates from, and is permitted to refer to hundreds of gentlemen of high standing and respectability, in Detroit, London, Toronto, and other cities and towns, who, having been reduced to the border of the grave from Liver Complaints, Dyspepsia, and other diseases, and having tried in vain their physician's prescriptions, and most of the quack nostrums for the cure of those diseases, are now, from the use of his Vegetable Medicines, in the enjoyment of perfect health.

Dr. Kermott has, in the cities of London and Detroit, during the last seven years, administered the different remedial agents of the Vegetable Kingdom to thousands of patients, in almost every variety of disease, with unparalleled success. His medicines are exclusively vegetable, and such as are safe and efficacious in the cure of disease, without entailing on the patient any of those miseries experienced from mineral poisons.

Chronic or Lingering Diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, and Scrofula Cancers, all impurities of the blood, and all diseases of Women and Children, treated sucessfully.

Dr. Kermott has had great experience in diseases of the Chest and Nervous System, curing hundreds of cases pronounced incurable by other physicians.

NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION

☞ Dr. Kermott's residence, Detroit. Entrance to Dispensary, No. 14 Congress street; entrance to office, Griswold street, first door from Congress.

Dr. Kermott will also visit Onondaga the 11th, Eaton Rapids the 12th, and Mason the 13th of every month. 129

LIVES SAVED

BY THE USE OF

St. John's Cough and Consumption

SYRUP.

Two Bottles of Syrup cured Mrs. E. D. Fife, Bascom, Ohio, of a cough and pain in her side of three years' standing.

One bottle cured the wife of C. Zimmerman, Esq., of Seneca county, Ohio, of a cough and pain in the breast of three years' standing.

One bottle cured Mrs. John Hoxie, Wolfersty town, Ohio, of a severe pain in her side and breast.

One bottle cured Mrs. C. W. Zeigler, Fort Seneca, Ohio, of a cough and pain in the side and breast, and which prostrated her for three months, and whom pronounced by three physicians in consumption.

Two bottles cured Mrs. Small, of Fort Ball, Ohio, of a severe pain in her side, which she took it when a young lady in the family of Mr. [illegible], Huron township, Seneca Co., O., of a cough and pain in the breast of about a year's standing, so desperate upon the verge of the grave. Her friends expected she would soon die, and had [illegible] to be dead.

One bottle cured Mrs. Harriet Campbell, an old resident of Mexico, Ohio, of a cough [illegible] which was feared would [illegible] consumption, which it was feared would [illegible] her grave.

One bottle cured C. R. Wilson, Member of Congress, Huron, Ohio, of a cough [illegible] Troy, Ohio, of his family. "I want you to express me bottle of St. John's Consumption Syrup, which I want for a friend. I obtained the day I left home, cured [illegible] of a friend of mine, of a cough and pain in her side about six months standing."

One bottle cured Mr. J. Slater, near Green Spring, Ohio, of a severe cough of three years' standing, which prostrated him for a long time. Was [illegible] consumption, has been [illegible] ever since.

One bottle cured Dr. Smiley, a respectable old school physician of Bascom, O. He was some months confined to the house with a disease of the lungs. Seven physicians had given him up. Was [illegible] to be the last resort. Was induced to try St. John's Consumption Syrup, and was cured.

One bottle cured Mrs. Sharp, of Bascom, O., of a severe cough and pain in her side about six months standing.

Connecticut.—Mr. Edward H. Kaylor, New Haven, Conn., writes Dec. 15, 1856: "Having travelled through a great portion of the Western country, I became acquainted with your popular Cough and Consumption Syrup. I was induced to try it on the New York and New Haven Railroad. I found it a most excellent article in the world for [illegible] My wife was also troubled with a severe cough, and found it a most excellent remedy. My children were also troubled with the croup, and I found your Syrup the greatest article in the world for that complaint. My wife says she knows it saved her life. I would not be without it for any consideration. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and they all speak highly of it. I have no doubt but it will be the means of saving thousands of lives in the future."

Iowa.—Mr. E. W. Brooks, a well known wealthy resident of Newton, Iowa, said to the proprietor of St. John's Consumption Syrup: "I wish you would express me another bottle of your Syrup. I would not be without it for a similar purpose. It has saved my life and would be worth a hundred dollars to me, if I could not obtain another bottle." Mr. Brooks is well known throughout the State of Iowa, and his statement may be relied upon as entirely reliable.

Illinois.—Messrs. Williams & Adams, of Huntley, Ill., write, April 1, 1857: "Send us a supply of St. John's Consumption Syrup. We are entirely out. It is considered by those who have used it as the very best."

Mr. Jesse Latham, Otto Township, Seneca Co., N. Y., was troubled with a severe cough and pain in the side of two years' standing, by the use of one bottle of St. John's Consumption Syrup, was entirely cured.

New York.—"I am satisfied it is a very good remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, &c. I have used it in my family, and have found it to be the best remedy I have ever used. I have recommended it to my friends, and they all speak highly of it. I have no doubt but it will be the means of saving thousands of lives in the future."
