28,000 Strike in Jurisdictional Protest

Striking members of the Mechanics Educational Society of America number approximately 28,000 in Cleveland, Detroit and Toledo where the independent union is protesting what it declares is the government's support of the C.I.O. Above, strikers are shown outside the S. K. Wellman Company in Cleveland collecting their last pay as the walkout started. Threatening to invoke full penalties of the anti-strike law, the War Labor Board has ordered Matthew Smith of Detroit, secretary-treasurer of the union, to appear for a hearing in Washington. PREDICT WHEAT SHORTAGE

PULLMAN, Wash.—UP—Agricultural economists at the Washington State College experiment station foresee a severe wheat shortage this year for both livestock feeding and human consumption. The shortage will come and its effect will be felt not later than July 1 if the present condition of the winter wheat crop does not improve, they reported.

DATE BOOK LISTS 2,700 GIRLS

FORT-SHERIDAN, Ill.—UP—A little black date book with 2,700 names and telephone numbers belongs to Mrs. Gertrude Taugher, senior hostess of the post's Service Club. The book is the roster of all types of girls available for dates with the soldiers at dances held in the club. But there's a catch to it, says Mrs. Taugher, explaining "it's an open book only when we're having a dance."

TEAR GAS SAVES SAFES

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—UP—Dale C. Lucas recently went to work at his realty company office with tears in his eyes—but he was happy. When Lucas arrived at the office, he found it filled with tear gas. He previously had attached tear gas tubes to the combination on his two safes; and when thieves attempted to break the locks during the night, the gas was released. The burglars fled without waiting to open the safe doors.

Navy Man Awarded First War Bond

In the awarding of the first of the $200 in free war bonds to be given away by the Hillside Gift and Novelty Shop, Fred R. Amerman, 569 Towner St., was the lucky person. Mr. Amerman, who has been in the Navy over a year, has just returned to his base after spending a furlough here in Ypsilanti with his mother, Mrs. Minnie Amerman. He has seen action in the African campaign.

The second war bond for the week was awarded to John Wagner, 301 Holmes Rd.

FLIERS DROP GIFTS

MELBOURNE—INS—A strange friendship has developed between natives on a lonely South Pacific island and U. S. Navy patrol fliers. Gifts were dropped near a village by the airmen and soon the natives appeared every time the planes went over. Then they began writing notes on the beach with bits of rock and wood. One message said: "The great thank to our friend thanks you we will help you when we prayers because you helps very much to us." How the natives acquired their meager English is not known but the fliers believe a missionary may have served among them at some time.
