Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

DEVIL WORSHIP

AN AMERICAN explorer has just returned to civilization after a visit to the interior of Ecuador and the homeland of the Jibaros Indians.

This tribe of head-hunting savages have lived in the same territory since long before Columbus discovered the Americas and have kept wholly free from the influence of civilization.

The most striking evidence of their failure to advance in the centuries which have passed over them is the report of the explorer that the Jibaros do not believe in a God, but that they do worship devils.

It is practically the universal history of the developments of all peoples from the savage state to that of civilization, that the belief in devils precedes that of a belief in God.

Before they conceive or defy a ruler in the realm of good they establish a kingdom of evil and nominate a being supreme in the management of one or all forms of danger and misfortune.

Herbert Spencer in his analysis of human worship bases religion on the Unknown, declaring that the savage first worships those powers which he does not understand.

It is the savage's inability, because of his savagery, to trace cause from effect that leads him to assign to totally unrelated things the cause for what he observes.

And since it is those things which harm or threaten him with harm which most concern him he establishes first his devil causes rather than his God causes.

He hears in the thunder the voice of a devil living in the sky who punishes with the swift lightning and with fire.

He sees a devil in the wild beast that kills his cattle. There is a demon power that helps his enemies of another tribe.

The white man's gun is an invention of some evil spirit and the drought which spoils his crop or the deluge which overflows his lands are evidences to him of the activities of some powerful and unfriendly spirit which he must in some way appease.

In some of the earliest written history of this country, the narrative left by Captain John Smith of Virginia, there is much space devoted to the devil worship of the Indians of that territory and the sacrifice of children to quiet the wrath of the evil ones.

All through tradition and history from Set, the demon of death and evil in the mythology of early Egypt down to the Hopi Indian dances which take place yearly in Arizona, there has been a continuous story of devil worship and rites and rituals intended to appease his wrath and gain his friendship.

PRESIDENT URGES FULL ATTENDANCE

WANTS EVERY YOUNG MAN WHO CAN, TO REPORT AT WAR TRAINING CAMPS.

INDIVIDUAL AND NATION BENEFIT

Expresses Hope That System of Voluntary Military Training Will Be Established in U. S.

Washington.—President Harding urges every young man who can possibly arrange to do so to attend one of the citizens' military training camps to be conducted by the war department this summer. In a statement made public early this week he expressed the hope that during his administration arrangements will be completed for giving military training to at least 100,000 young men each year.

The text of the statement said: "I hope every young man who can arrange it will attend one of the citizens' military training camps to be conducted this summer by the war department in each of the nine army corps areas.

"In this way he will increase his worth to the nation and obtain individual benefits of priceless value to himself and to the community in which he lives.

"I hope to see established during my administration a comprehensive system of voluntary military training for at least 100,000 men each year. Every young man who is willing to prepare himself for the defense of his country should be given an opportunity to do so.

"Our present national defense law established an economical and democratic military policy thoroughly consistent with our national traditions. It provides for a small regular army to be augmented by great citizen forces in the event of national emergency.

"This is our traditional military policy. But whereas in the past these larger war forces have been extemporized after the occurrence of an emergency, the new law wisely provides that the framework of their organization shall be established and developed in time of peace, insofar as this is practicable through the voluntary service of our patriotic young men.

"The army of the United States as defined in the new law comprises the regular army, the National Guard and the organized reserves. Every patriotic citizen should encourage development of these forces, each within its proper sphere."

GROWERS SUE HEALTH BOARD

Allege $1,000,000 Damages for Warning Against Ripe Olives.

Detroit.—Members and officials of the Detroit health board were named defendants in a $1,000,000 damage suit filed in federal court late last week by the Curtis corporation, producers of ripe olives and other products.

The bill of complaint charges that the company was damaged to this amount because of the health board's warning against the eating of ripe olives following the deaths of five persons who were said to have eaten olives on Oct. 18, 1919, at the Murray W. Sales' home in Grosse Pointe.

OHIO EDITOR NAMED DRY CHIEF

Appointment of Roy Haynes Was Announced Recently.

Washington.—Formal announcement of the appointment of Roy Haynes, a Hillsboro, Ohio, editor, as national prohibition commissioner has been made.

The new commissioner is editor of the Hillsboro Dispatch, and was one of the first Ohio editors to suggest the nomination of Mr. Harding for president. He has been a factor in Ohio Republican politics for a number of years, and in 1912 was a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress.

MRS. BERGDOLL PAYS $23,000

Mother of Draft Evaders Saves Her Self From Going to Jail.

Philadelphia.—Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, mother of the Bergdoll brothers, convicted army deserters, saved herself and her four co-defendants charged with conspiracy to aid Grover C. and Erwin R. Bergdoll to evade army service, from going to jail by paying $23,000 in fines recently imposed by the United States District court here.

Would Cool Spurred Passion.

Chicago.—When Senorita Francesca Sapiero, who came from Mexico, spurned professions of love made by Peter Lopas, her countryman, Peter, employed at a hotel, entered the ice chest and stretched himself on a cake of ice, flanked by two other cakes. The butcher found the disappointed lover unconscious. As he regained consciousness Peter tried to shoot himself four times, but the cartridge failed to explode. The police are caring for him.

Mother's Cook Book

"Man may be the head of the family, but, far better than that, woman is the heart of it."

MEALS FOR THE DAY.

COMBINATIONS are not always good in leftovers, unless great care is used in blending them. The following, though unusual, proved very good. A cupful or two of veal broth with noodles was the basis of this dish. A baking dish was well greased with the fat from a piece of steak, also a small bit of cold steak was minced and put into the dish, with some of the cooked veal, also minced, then the noodles and the jellied soup, a dish of creamed onions (which were also leftovers) were chopped and added, and the whole covered with leftover mashed potato, moistened with milk. Bake until the potato is slightly brown and serve from the dish. Add such seasonings as are needed when arranging the food in the pan.

Liver With Onion Sauce.

Parboiled sliced calf's liver until well heated, turning in the boiling water; drain and dip in flour well seasoned, and fry in hot bacon fat until well cooked. Fry a cupful of chopped onions in the remaining fat, until a slight brown; add a tablespoonful of vinegar and pour over the liver.

Potato Spring Salad.

Cook the potatoes with their skins on; cool and peel, then cut in dice; add a handful of minced chives or a finely minced onion. Now add finely minced, tender uncooked dandelion greens. Mix all together and pour over hot bacon fat with the bacon minced in it; stir and mix well, then add a little boiling hot vinegar, salt and pepper and serve hot.

Wilted Cucumbers With Sour Cream.

Slice the cucumbers after peeling them and let them stand in salted water until wilted. Rinse in fresh water, ice cold, and dry on a cloth. Season with salt and pepper and serve with thick sour cream. There are many people who consider cucumbers unwholesome if not soaked in salt water until all the crispness is removed. Cucumbers are indigestible for some people just as the lovely strawberry dresses some stomachs, but a fresh, crisp cucumber dressed with a good salad dressing is a most delectable vegetable for the normal appetite.

Peanut Butter Loaf.

Pour three cupfuls of cold water over one-half cupful of rice and stir with a fork until the boiling point is reached; let boil one minute, drain on a sieve, rinsing with cold water; return the rice to the fire with two cupfuls of boiling water and a teaspoonful of salt; cover and cook until the rice is tender. Add a cupful of peanut butter, half a teaspoonful of paprika, an egg beaten light, and one-half cupful of milk. Mix all together well and shape in a mold on a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with half a cupful of cracker crumbs mixed with two tablespoonfuls of fat. Bake one-half hour; serve hot with tomato sauce. One may use a mixture of pecans, walnuts and almonds ground.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"TINKER'S DAM."

RELIVING solely upon the phonetic sound of this expression, it appears to be distinctly profane and a number of writers have fallen into the error of spelling "dam" as if it were the word derived from the same source as "condemn."

To say that a person or a thing is "not worth a tinker's dam" is, however, not related in any manner to profanity, but gets its meaning from the fact that a tinker's dam was a wall of dough or soft clay raised around a spot which a plumber, in repairing, desired to flood with solder. The material of which this dam was made could be used only once and was then thrown away as utterly worthless. Meanwhile, it had served the purpose of stopping or damming up the molten metal. The colloquial simile is, therefore, derived from this short period of usefulness and not from any widespread use of the word "damn" on the part of tinkers or plumbers. (Copyright.)

The Usual Way.

An unreasonable and rather misanthropic acquaintance remarks that he has often heard the proverb, "A friend in need is a friend indeed," but he can't see where the truth comes in. He has a friend in need who is always borrowing money from him.
