All Pin Balls Called Illegal

Times Staff Correspondent
LANSING, Dec. 1—Free play pin ball machines were held gambling devices today in a 5 to 3 state supreme court decision upholding Port Huron authorities in their tilt with the owner of 60 machines.

Asserting that "the skill of the player is a slight factor," Justice Neil E. Reid declared that the "free play machine is the type generally used and well recognized as a gambling device."

Justice Emerson R. Boyles, who wrote the minority opinion, stated there was no proof that the machines were used for gambling but, rather, were operated "solely for amusement of players."

"The mere fact an implement, object or device can be used for gambling does not make it a gambling device," he said.

"Were this not true, it would follow that ordinary playing cards, tables, coins, golf clubs, matches or almost any inanimate object would be a gambling device and subject to confiscation as such."

COP-PROOF RADIO

Detective Richard McCarthy of the holdup squad securing the squad's radio with a chain and padlock to make sure it stays where it belongs. The only radio on the floor, it developed a habit of "wandering" to other squads at headquarters.

USS MISSOURI GOING AWAY

THE DETROIT TIMES C-27

Dec. 1, 1944

U. S. Navy Photo, Distributed by International News Service Photos
The USS Missouri, one of the world's toughest battleships, showing her stern (a view the Nip navy never will see) as she prowls the Pacific with her terrific armament ready to talk turkey. A ship with no "blind spots," the Missouri looks squat and dumpy from here, but she actually has trim, racy lines when seen from the side.
