TOWN TALK.

Indian summer on the half shell. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cole; a son. Yesterday was a day of prayer with the Y. M. C. A. folks.

The owners of the speedy nags deplore the sudden departure of the snow. M. L. Sweet & Co. are building an addition to their grain elevator at the D. & M. depot.

The prohibition committee meet this afternoon to close up the business of the campaign. The Lotus club gave a very pleasant social in Kingstone's hall on South Division street last evening.

The Unitarians are actively making preparations for a Christmas festival at Powers' Opera House. The funeral of the late Henry Prindle, held yesterday, was largely attended. The city druggists attended in a body.

The High School class devote this afternoon to literary exercises. James Russell Lowell being the subject of study. Sneak thieves are sneaking about the schools. A young man lost an overcoat from the Central building yesterday.

The Wood Quadrille Club will give the first of a series of balls at Metropolitan Hall this evening. Music by Thomas's orchestra. A very pleasant "progressive" euchre party was given Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. Cassius Sweet, on Lafayette street.

At the annual meeting of State horticulturalists yesterday Chas. W. Garfield was elected secretary of the society. S. M. Pearsall was elected treasurer; both of this city.

In selecting your entertainments for the ensuing two weeks do not overlook the "Black Flag." Neither the humorists, Twain and Cable, who will appear at Powers' Dec. 16.

The sale of fancy articles will be held at the Park Congregational Church this evening from 6 to 10 o'clock. An oyster supper and refreshments will be served during the evening.

The entertainment given at the Charles street chapel on Thanksgiving night, will be repeated to-night. The proceeds will be given to the poor under the auspices of the U. B. A. Home.

The County Clerk's office yesterday was busy taking affidavits of the "boys in blue," who are entitled to pensions for wounds and scars received during the almost forgotten unpleasantness.

John Jeffers left this city yesterday to visit his native place in Holland. He sails from New York for Antwerp on a Red Star line steamer. He expects to return to this city in the spring.

County Treasurer Stebbins, although not having as yet completed his report on the liquor taxes paid the past year, says, "the city treasury will be benefited to the extent of about $45,000."

Champlin Post, No. 29, G. A. R., will give their fifth social party of the season at Rose's hall, corner West Bridge and Scribner streets, this evening, for the benefit of the old soldiers in need.

A district messenger boy lost a wig on Monroe street yesterday, which he was carrying to a customer for Mrs. Anna L. Lord. Bald-headed men will please make a note that even wigs may be found on the street.

A lady's reticule containing public library cards bearing the name of Mrs. W. H. Sullivan, a purse with some change, a handkerchief, etc., was found on Division street yesterday and awaits its owner at police headquarters.

The Thalia club will repeat their excellent performance of "The Shakespeare Water-cure" at their theatre, 57 Fountain street, next Saturday evening. Dramatic clubs are a most pleasing diversion, and Grand Rapids should have more than one.

Will Heart, Frank Adams and a dozen more miserable loafers who subsist upon what they can defraud honest people out of, should be ran out of town on general principles. The wilds of "Siberia" or ten years in the Arctic" would be a good place for them.

Abram Kools, a gray-haired Hollander, with the snows of nearly sixty years in his long locks, applied for lodging last night at police headquarters. It was all that Clerk Harley could do to make out of his broken English that the applicant had been in America five years and that four years ago he had labored in this city. He hails last from Fisher's Station.

PERSONAL.

M. F. Dakin, of New York City, is in the city on a business trip. Mr. G. W. Perkins has gone East on a business trip.

Mr. N. C. Johnson, of Sweet's Hotel, returned from Chicago yesterday. Miss Carrie Stone has returned from Big Rapids, where she had been visiting Mrs. George Fairman.

Mr. Atkins Lawrence, the leading man of the "Siberia" company, is the guest of his cousin, Mrs. Henry Grinnell, 143 Fountain street, while in the city. A Farmer's Squabble.

Truman Richards, a farmer of Paris township, overheard his neighbor, John Henneman, in the latter's barnyard, make some remarks he did not like. He then and there collared John and attempted to castigate him, but got so severely "left" that he gave leg bail and swore out a warrant for assault and battery. In a hearing before Justice Browner yesterday Truman learned by a verdict of "no cause of action" that he was in the wrong boat and was the fellow that should have been arrested, since mere words never justify an assault.

The Fortnightly Club, composed of young ladies and gentlemen of the Universalist Church, held their first regular meeting to-night at the residence of Rev. Charles Frazier, 154 South Prospect street. The evening will be spent in a social entertainment of the literary, historical and musical order. Rev. Charles Frazier will deliver a brief address. The membership of the club starts out well and an enjoyable evening is expected.

Smashup at Montith. Yesterday morning a collision took place at Montith on the G. R. & I. road. A freight train in motion passed, and the rear division came in collision with the forward section with such force as to throw the engine from the track. The engine was considerably damaged and the track was torn up for a few rods. No one was injured. The morning passenger train north was detained about three hours by the accident.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Siberia" Repeated at Powers'—Next Week's Attractions.

The repetition of "Siberia" at Powers' last night drew forth a much larger audience than on Wednesday evening. The play moved very smoothly, and the company seemed to infuse more vim in their work. Mr. Lawrence's Nicolli was noticeable for more warmth and feeling. Therefore, the good impression of the night previous was not only strengthened, but it proved the truth of the argument which has been advanced time and again, that an actor must cast aside his individual characteristics and thoughts entirely, and feel every sentiment of the lines he utters. This comment is true in the Nicolli of Mr. Lawrence. The other characters mentioned in yesterday's issue were just as perfect, as they left nothing undone, while the ensemble moved with perfect cadence. No lover of a strong drama with thrilling climaxes, and a stage mounting surpassing anything that has been seen here, should miss seeing "Siberia," which will be repeated to-night and to-morrow night.

The Georgia Wonder will appear at Redmond's next Sunday evening. Her performances have created so much amazement throughout the country, and the scientists have been baffled in their endeavors to explain and cause for her wonderful power. The Toledo Telegram had the following concerning her performance in that city: The Georgia Wonder appeared last evening at Wheeler's to a good house, and gave a wonderful performance. The lady is delicately built and quite handsome. Umbrellas held in the hands of strong men were twisted out of shape by the lady simply touching the ends of her fingers against them. Seven men could not put a chair to the floor, the lady simply placing the palms of her hands against it, and many other marvelous feats. This is food for reflection for the serious, thinking public, and to others a source of intense interest. We can assure the lady a full house whenever she visits Toledo again.

Aimee, the bright, sparkling opera bouffe soubrette, will appear at Redmond's Opera House next Monday and Tuesday evenings in an English comedy entitled "Mam'zelle." Of her appearance in Chicago this week, the Times of that city said: Persons who are familiar with Aimee in French opera were delighted with her sparkling performance in this play. Her English, in the first place, is much better than might have been expected. Every word can be distinctly understood, and the little peculiarities in accent and articulation give it a charming piquancy. She was not less at home the piece, apparently, than she is in "Olivette," "Mme. Angot," or any other of the French opera in which she has been seen for years. There was the same vivacity, effervescent drollery, and originality of expression that have made her opera bouffe performances so charming. The audience was completely captivated.

THE SCHUBERT CLUB.

An Overflowing Hall and an Excellent Entertainment. The Schubert Club has every reason to congratulate itself upon the results of its first public concert, given last night in Armory hall on Ionia street. Fully seven hundred people were present and many turned regretfully away at the door, when they saw standing room at a premium inside. Although organized about a year, it is but recently that articles of association were filed, incorporating it as a musical association. It is to the credit of the club, and a feature that augurs well for continued success, that it did not at once rush into the public's arms, seeking laurels before a proper preparation entitled them to such rewards. The program last night and the manner of its rendition and reception by the audience, proved that the policy the club adopted at its inception is the proper one, and the Schubert can feel assured that among musical clubs it need not fear for a fair share of public favor and true appreciation. The following was the order of exercises at the "musical," with the addition of the name of Mrs. McNeill, as piano accompanist:

- PART FIRST. 1. "The Morning Walk".....H. Easer Schubert Club. 2. Romanza, "Si E' Ver".....Matted Mr. Owen I. Purdie. 3. Martial Hymn.....A. Carlos Gomes Schubert Club. 4. Quartet, "Aveko, my Love".....C. J. A. Robertson, H. A. Stuart, W. H. Loomis, R. J. Kirkland. 5. "Comrades in Arms".....Adolph Adam Schubert Club.

- PART SECOND. 1. "Annie Laurie".....Buck Schubert Club. 2. Violin Solo—Fantaisie Brillante.....De Beriot Mr. F. M. Lawson. 3. Dno. Minuet.....Masini B. Benker, J. A. Morrison. 4. Valse de Fant.....List Mr. C. N. Colwell. 5. a. The Post Horn.....Schubert b. Soldier's Joy.....Neumann Schubert Club.

The Superior Court Calendar. The calendar of the Superior Court for the December term was issued yesterday. Twenty-two criminal cases appear on the list, four of which are city cases. Eight issues of fact will be tried by jury, and two are set down as non-jury cases, while a special jury will try the matter of opening, widening and extending of First street. Three cases come under the title head of "law and imparlance," and seven cases make up the chancery calendar. The following is the list of the jurors struck for the term: David Lankester, Omar H. Provin, Geo. W. Allen, Geo. H. Wilmott, Adelbert B. Brewer, John Lindsey, Orlando E. Pearsall, Thomas J. Lucas, Robert Baker, John Luther, James DeGear, William Kotvis, John W. Phillips, Merriek G. Blood, Albert L. Livingston, Henry Idema, Ezra J. Biglow, William C. Babcock, James Gallup, Geo. Wyncoop, E. J. Herrick, Willis J. Perkins, John Coffee, John B. McDonald.

The G. R. & I. Northern Division O. K. Mr. Metheny, Superintendent of the Northern Division of the G. R. & I., reports as a result of his recent tour of inspection, a very satisfactory condition of his condition in all its branches and details. He made special mention of the private narrow gauge road belonging to the Cummer Lumber Company, which crosses the G. R. & I. track about a mile north of Cadillac. This road he said runs to the pines of that company near Muskrat Lake, about ten miles distant from our track, and has a bed and track upon which thirty miles an hour can be made by their trains. It reflects great credit on the energy and enterprise of the managers of that company.

"A Plan for Charity."

To the Editor of the MORNING TELEGRAM: On reading the article headed as above, an idea suggested itself as easy and practicable. Hundreds of generous hearts would gladly respond if a simple system could be arranged. How would the installment plan work? Let a committee be appointed, each member to solicit a certain number of subscribers, who would pay each month on a certain day whatever sum they desired, the largest amount for the first year, $1.00 per month, so that all might contribute, the collector to turn the money in to the general fund, a receipt being given to each subscriber to the amount of his or her charity. The writer will gladly subscribe to the fund and work to obtain subscribers if the plan meets with approval. X.

WHAT SHALL I BUY?

And Where is the Best Place for Me to Go to Buy It?

The holiday season is again upon us and with it comes the usual perplexity of knowing just what to buy for Christmas remembrances. Looking around yesterday seeking information with the above end in view, we happened in at Winegar's, in the Porter Block, well-known as one of the leading newsdealers of the city, and while there took occasion to look over the preparations he is making for the holiday trade. We have only space to hint at a few of the many nice goods included in his stock. He has a well established reputation for selling goods cheap. The supplies for this season have been purchased direct from the large importers in New York, and he is enabled to make the very lowest prices in all lines. Portfolios, autograph and photographic albums in leather and plush will be found in endless variety. In ornamental glass inkstands, paper-weights, etc., he has some new and very choice designs. The stock of ladies' handbags is very large and has been marked way down. Scrap books were never furnished more beneficially than now. This remark will also apply to Christmas and New Years cards, fine stationery, and boxed papers. Since the photographic art has been so liberally patronized, plush frames will prove an acceptable gift, and also work boxes and writing desks. Some particularly fine styles are shown in these. Bibles and prayer books are overlooked and miscellaneous books are offered at greatly reduced prices. As an illustration we mention the Red-line Gilt-edge Edition of the poets at 75 cents per volume. The young folks are not forgotten and for them Mr. Winegar has provided the largest stock of games, toys, and juvenile books in leather and plush will be found in 1885 has just been received. Our readers should remember that Mr. Winegar receives subscriptions for any of the leading magazines and newspapers at publishers' lowest rates, and they can save themselves a great deal of trouble by leaving their orders with him.

Artificial Light.

In these days of progress there is a demand for better means of illumination than ever before. The dazzling brilliancy of the electric light makes our common kerosene lamps as dim as tallow dips in the comparison. This demand has been fully met by the introduction of the Sun Lamp. They are necessarily made of metal because the draft or chimney extends down through the center of the lamp. The wicks are five inches wide and give a light of forty-five candle power, equal to three gas burners. These lamps were brought out at the close of last season, but the price was so high—$6 each—but few were sold. Owing to the enormous demand which has sprung up, they are now produced at a price within the reach of all, and sold for $3 in brass and $3.50 in nickel, complete with ten-inch porcelain shade. To persons troubled with weak eyes or those who desire to preserve their eyesight by means of a good light, the Sun Lamp will prove a blessing.

The New Styles of Hanging Lamps are made of a gold color solid bronze metal, and trimmed with cut glass prisms and decorated shades. The dome-shaped shades look the best, but we imagine the angle of reflection from the cone shape is best for throwing light down. These lamps are also much cheaper than last year. They are now sold at from $5 to $7 each. Fine table lamps are furnished with duplex or two-wick burners, giving double the light of the single wick burners. There are many styles of these lamps on exhibition, including solid bronze and the popular hammered brass. For information received thanks are due Messrs. H. Leonard & Sons, importers, 16 Monroe street.
