TOWN TALK.

Two weeks from to-day will be Christmas. The Innis street armory is being repaired and cleaned.

Socials, hops and balls seem to be numerous during the next two weeks.

Rememberer Twain and Cable's readings at Powers's Opera House Saturday evening.

The clothes line of C. B. Quigley, at 243 Front street, was robbed Tuesday evening.

A social will be held in the Second Congregational Church on Plainfield street to-night.

Frank W. Hine has been selected Register of Probate Court by Judge elect L. D. Follett.

The courts are about the only establishments that appear to be doing a lively trade these days.

The case against McGarry for keeping a saloon without a license was nolle prosequit yesterday morning.

The Star clothing house windows are handsomely decorated, all suggestive of the approach of Christmas.

The G. R. & I. and C. & W. M. Railroad tower gates at the West Bridge street crossing are completed and in use.

The social given by the ladies of the chapel of the "Good Shepherd" realized $69.50. Nearly 200 persons were present.

Persons residing in the Eighth Ward will find the MORTGAGE SALE on sale at the News Depot of Geo. H. Fox, Jr., 189 West Fulton street.

The J. B. Richardson Camp, No. 14, S. of V., nominated officers for the ensuing year Tuesday evening, and will hold their election next Tuesday evening.

Mr. J. H. Palmer, general freight and passenger agent of the C. & W. M., expects that his connection with that road will terminate the first of the year.

The promenade concert, apron sale and concert given by the ladies of the Universalist church at Luce's hall to-night, promises to be one of the most pleasant events of the season.

The report of the Board of Health yesterday was as follows: May Young, No. 150 Fulton street, typhoid fever; Edie, Alice and Edith Hayes, No. 38 Sycamore street and - Flanagan, No. 191 South Division, whooping cough.

The jury in the Carrie Philbrick case, in the United States Court, yesterday, could not agree on the question of damages for a nervous shock that lady sustained two years ago when she fell through a hole in the sidewalk in Niles City.

Richard Tapley, who, on account of the frequency with which he "restless" with John Barleycorn bushes under the sobriquet of "Whisky Dick," landed at headquarters yesterday afternoon in his usual state of limber-leggedness.

In yesterday's TELEGRAM allusion was made to one Charles A. Magoon, as having left the city with an unpaid board bill, etc. Mr. Magoon is a respectable attorney of Muskegon, with a good name and reputation. The intention was to write Mattoon not Magoon.

The "Old Third" Regiment Michigan Infantry will hold their twelfth reunion at Lansing on the 12th inst. All members and friends of the "Old Third" who intend to be present are requested to call upon Capt. S. E. Pierce, at the "Great Wardrobe," and get their certificate for reduced fare.

Mr. L. S. Hill, of L. S. Hill & Co., explains that the report is untrue that any agent ever seized or took any amount of powder from their magazines under the cover of darkness, or without the firm's willing consent. An operator for the Hercules Powder Company took a small quantity to use, but a larger quantity was stolen.

The driver of a ten-cent delivery wagon yesterday morning whipped up his horse to pass under the guard gate on Louis street, evaded one of the arms with his wagon top and narrowly escaped being butted out of existence by an approaching train. The G. R. & I. R. people want a descriptive list of that smart clock for future reference.

Mr. Pembroke Gardner, a young man from Sparta, who some eighteen months ago had the misfortune to be selected by an erring one, and the Superior Court of this city, as the paternal ancestor of an unwelcome wife, has bridged all difficulties with the Superintendents of the Poor of the county, and the mother, by agreeing to pay to the latter the sum of $50 on Saturday next. The papers are drawn up and Pembroke's escutcheon will soon be without a blemish.

PERSONAL.

Hon. Aaron B. Turner and wife returned from Detroit last evening.

Major F. W. Rawlson, Michigan Division 8, of V., residence at Hillsdale, was in town yesterday.

Mr. A. W. Smith, of Adrian, Secretary of the Republican State Central Committee, is in the city.

Hon. Geo. E. Dowling, of Montague, who has been in the city for several days, returns home this morning.

Mr. L. G. Hangerford, of Hart, an American, a man who considers country first, after this a loyal Democrat, was in the city yesterday.

The Woman's Relief Corps.

A large number of ladies assembled in I. O. O. F. hall to organize a Woman's Relief Corps Auxiliary to Custer Post, G. A. R. Mrs. Miner, of Muskegon assisted by Mrs. Scherzmann, of the same place, acted as organizers, and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. S. L. Ormstead, Senior Vice-president, Mrs. Kate A. L. Bortner; Junior Vice-president, Mrs. Ella Sprague; Secretary, Mrs. Emma Rinnons; Treasurer, Mrs. G. B. Wright; Chaplain, Miss Mamie McKay; Conductor, Mrs. Mary L. Clark; Guard, Miss Adna E. Rinnons. At 2 o'clock this afternoon a public installation of officers will occur, to which all are respectfully invited, especially the ladies interested.

Counterfeiters Captured.

United States Attorney Stone returned from Iowa last evening, after partially investigating the Grand Lodge counterfeiting case. The arrested, McCrum and Wright, two farmers charged with having passed between them six spurious metal dollars, were held for examination before United States Commissioner Williams, of that city, on Dec. 18. They were held under the usual bail, as the testimony warranted suspicion, although they bear fair reputations among their neighbors near Grand Lodge.

A Good Schema.

A petition is being circulated asking the authorities to establish a stone-breaking department at the county jail. It would give the prisoners plenty of good exercise, and in a number of cases their food and lodging, for which the county has to pay.

AMUSEMENTS.

Edwin Thorne in "The Black Flag" at Powers's.

Melodrama again at the theater last evening drew forth a good-sized audience. The play is strong in parts, here and there a catching line, and a strong situation, then pathetic, followed with a bright gust of comedy, in all a drama well calculated to please, with a proportion of good characters—above the average. The "Black Flag" has acquired both success and money in the larger cities. Though it was probably given with better advantage in scenery and accessories than that which characterized its production last night, thereby adding more color and effect to some of the situations, which are strong. Mr. Thorne's Harry Glyndon is noticeable for originality, toned in one key throughout, entirely free from any discord, it is a personation highly creditable for harmony, and smoothness. Next in prominence was the Lasarus of Mr. Willard, who gave a vivid characterization of an English Jew. Mr. Willard was new in the part last night, it being his second appearance in that character, and with a little more experience, keeping his work up to the standard with which he has started it will undoubtedly be the means of giving him prominence and fame. Master Woodruff as Ned, the cabin boy, is entitled to much praise, playing the part with much feeling and pathos. Lack of space prevents any allusion to the remainder of the cast, in a breath, they all acquitted themselves so as to nicely balance and graduate from the leading parts, completing the presentation of a good play by a good company. Mr. Thorne and company will repeat the play to-night.

"Romany Rye Company No. 1" will appear at Powers's next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The favorable impression that the play made last year should insure the engagement being a success.

An exchange says: "The beautiful and thrilling gypsy story, 'The Romany Rye,' was never told with more vividness and force. The magnificent scenes, The Gypsy Encampment, Craigen by Moonlight, Hampton Road Concert, Thames River Embankment, and The Wreck of the Saratoga, never showed to better advantage. The sinking of the steamer amid the mad fury of the storm was a thrilling moment, and the safe arrival of the life-boat at the quay with the rescued passengers was a relief to the audience and a signal for a storm of applause—the whole scene having so good the appearance of reality."

NOT AT ALL FLATTERING.

A Poor Outlook for Many of the Northern Michigan Lumbermen.

A representative of THE TELEGRAM had a short interview with J. R. Case, an extensive lumberman of Chase, Lake county, at the Eagle Hotel yesterday. He thinks the outlook for manufacturers is very poor. Mill men will generally put in small stocks the coming winter. Laborers are working for $1.25 per day, and are taking the same in many cases in "store pay." Men with families and in destitute circumstances are roaming around from place to place in search of work. There is much poverty, suffering and misery in the pine districts, and Mr. Case thinks the present will prove the hardest winter in the woods for twenty years. He would not be surprised if, before spring, the State was called upon to aid many sufferers in the northern counties and keep them from death and starvation.

A GOOSE STORY.

The Moral of Which Is: Don't Steal a Goose.

The People squared accounts yesterday with William McDonald in the Superior Court for having walked off with Arthur J. Watkin's goose one midnight last October. Patrolman Connelley testified that on that occasion, when in the vicinity of A. J. Watkin's meat market, on South Division street, he heard a window glass "smash," and coming upon McDonald close by, with a plucked goose in his hand, arrested him. McDonald, at first said he bought, then acknowledged he stole it. The jury believed his second story to be true, although he plead "not guilty." McDonald's appearance yesterday, was such, after his long incarceration in Sheriff Kinney's castle, where goose is proverbially scarce, that no one would have begrudged him even a square meal of pate de fois gras. He will be sentenced to still further penance in a few days by Judge Parish.

Another Unfortunate.

John Lane, formerly an expert workman in the Oriole Manufacturing Company, and who was treated last summer at a private retreat in Detroit for nervous difficulties which affected his mental balance, applied to Superintendent Perry yesterday and desired him to send him to Kalamazoo that he might recover his health. He said he was afraid of himself and feared he would do himself personal injury. He looked very distressed, hollow-eyed and nervous, and the statement he made, that he had been walking around for two nights and days, could be easily believed. Mr. Perry consigned the unfortunate man to the care of the Sheriff for safe keeping, and notified his friends and Dr. Hake. Lane is supposed by many to have been in a depressed, nervous condition for the past two months, and not to have been thoroughly cured when discharged from the Detroit retreat.

He Was So Hungry!

The hungriest man in town for sweet-meats turned up on Canal street yesterday. He was considerably under size, lean, and with a very hungry look, but in a grocery store he "recovered" in a few minutes the following menu: Twenty oranges, fifteen figs, one-half pound of candy, one doughnut, three quarter sections of pie, and then inquired for a bar where he could get some Tom and Jerry. The two last items he procured in a haub "joint," whose drink list covers nothing stronger than raspberryade.

Custer Post Election.

The election of officers of Custer Post No. 3, G. A. R., last evening, resulted as follows: Commander, Wm. A. Clark; S. V. Commander, G. H. Wright; J. V. Commander, William H. Jones; Chaplain, T. G. Patzner; Quartermaster, F. W. Rinnons; Officer of the Day, D. S. Smith; Officer of the Guard, G. F. DeKruif; Sentinel, W. H. Miller; Detachment to State Encampment, W. B. Frost; J. B. Wright, S. W. Bortner; Alternates, W. F. DeKruif, T. G. Patzner, J. M. High.

MILLARD MURDER CASE.

the chemical laboratory at Ann Arbor; graduated at the University in 1864; am not a practicing physician; received a package containing a portion of a human body on the 25th of August, 1882, from the corner of Ionia county; it was a tea box sealed in such a way that it could not have been opened without breaking the seals; received a letter same day from Coroner Johnson; also same day a letter from Prosecuting Attorney Jones; the letter from the Coroner refers to a letter of description of Dr. Gundrum; the box was sealed with green sealing wax; there was also an express company's stamp on the box; I have with me the corners of the box as they were sealed; they were apparently sealed with red wax before sealing with green wax; the red wax was not stamped with a signet; the cord around the box was tied and the seals were broken; in the larger jar I found a human stomach, with a small quantity of contents inclosed therein. There was a comparatively small quantity of contents. Do not respect the quantity in the stomach. Have testified twice before in reference to the stomach. Subjected the stomach and contents to ocular examination at first, then an examination under the microscope; afterwards to a chemical examination; divided the stomach and its contents into three equal portions; the finely divided material I macerated with hot alcohol; the entire liquid evaporated to dryness; when dried was treated to hot absolute alcohol, and filtered; this treatment with hot alcohol was repeated again; the last residue was heated with ammonia, and reduced to dryness; the solution was evaporated to dryness; found no indication of strychnine being present; I obtained no indication of the presence of vegetable poisons; there was no arsenic in the chemicals that I had used in treating the material; found crystalline forms on the tube, indicating arsenic; the weight of the arsenic represented fifteen, fifteen-one hundred grains; the contents of the other jar were a portion of a liver and a kidney; subjected it to analysis for mineral poisoning; in the analysis of the stomach and rectum I made tests for other poisons; in the analysis of the liver and kidney I did not search for any other but arsenic and mineral poisons; I found arsenic to be present; it was present in the proportion of one and a half of arsenic acid for the whole contents of the small jar; made examination of the lining of the stomach; also examined the contents of the stomach; found no crystalline forms; examined portions of the rectum and found nothing; on the 23d of September I received a portion of a human body from Ionia County, corresponding with a letter received on the same day, from Dr. Gundrum specifying the contents of the box; the box was sealed; found upon opening it two two-quant jars; received them from the express messenger Sept. 23, 1882, and recognized them as corresponding to the letters already received; found one jar to contain a portion of the brain and the other to contain muscular tissue; subjected contents to a chemical examination for arsenic; the result was negative of the presence of arsenic in the brain; subjected the muscular tissue to the same operation and in the result I obtained no arsenic; found no traces of arsenic that I could identify; used about a quarter of the brain in the test.

The court here took a recess until seven o'clock.

Evening Session.

The evening session commenced at 7 o'clock with Professor Prescott in the witness stand. The question as to the amount of arsenic necessary to produce death in an adult, and the acknowledgement by the professor that he had not been a practicing physician for nineteen years, had no effect in the administration of poison, and had obtained his knowledge of the subject by reading, study, conversation, correspondence and hearing testimony in court, responded the question of the admissibility of his evidence as an expert. A discussion by counsel followed. A decision was reserved. The witness then proceeded to reply to questions given testimony as follows: Have had some experience on animals, with poison, so as to cause their death; as physician, had one and a half years' practice in the army, at Louisville and Jeffersonville; have had experience with persons suffering from inhalation of arsenious vapor; effect of arsenical poisoning has been the study of my life; teach toxicology in the University; have been teaching that subject for three years, and had experience before that.

Cross-examined.—Made no memoranda of size or weight of organs sent; I think on former trial memoranda based upon supposed size of liver; my answers were based I think on supposing the part of liver examined to be a fourth or a third. Witness was informed he had stated, "that the portion of liver weighed from six to eight ounces;" don't remember to have said such a thing; answer; my estimate I think was one-quarter or one-third of a human liver; don't know that I fixed it at nine to 15 grains. Question—In either chronic or acute poisoning, would you expect as much as found in this case? From pieces made a general estimate, and a portion of a grain could get at least one sixteenth; a trace is not weighable; the least weighable quantity is 1.000 of a grain, but it is not palpable, but can be predicated and can be detected by the mirror in the tube, and will have oxidized crystals under the microscope; if no mirror appears, we go no further; saw no mirror in brain test; can't remember amount of arsenic in legs; found no strychnine in body; it might be found six or eight months after death, though there is no certainty after one hundred and fifty days; made microscopic examination of lining of stomach, and rectum for arsenical crystals; stomach was pinked with decomposition, but was not decomposed; from memoranda think the analysis was Sept. 19, 1882, did not examine coating of stomach with microscope to find crystals; it was too decomposed; met Dr. Gundrum to-day in hotel, etc., etc.

Following is the witness' own evidence direct, and by re-cross-examination, when the court adjourned until 9 this morning.
