ENTHUSIASTIC FOURTH OF JULY MEETING LAST NIGHT

Committees are Appointed to Make Arrangements and Officers of Day Named

ANOTHER MEETING NEXT WEEK

Last night's Fourth of July meeting was a well attended and most enthusiastic gathering, and a considerable business connected with the day's celebration was transacted. Committees and officers of the day were named. Another meeting of the several committees has been set for Tuesday evening of next week when reports will be made.

A committee, consisting of John Dunn and Mose Bandettini, appointed for the purpose of circulating a petition among the business men and others who donated last year towards the convention and Fourth of July fund, asking that the $459 remaining in that fund be turned into this year's Fourth of July fund, will report at the next meeting.

Some of the soliciting committees reported last evening, showing that about $500 has already been subscribed, while other committees will report at the next meeting. It is hoped to raise at least $1,000 through subscriptions.

The Calumet Engineers, members of the G. A. R., and the Spanish-American War vets will be invited to take part in the parade as will the Red Jacket, Laurium, C. & H. and Tamarack fire departments.

It was decided last evening to hold a hammer and drill contest and prizes of a substantial nature are to be offered.

The executive committee decided to invite the following to act as officers of the day:

President—James MacNaughton.
Speaker—Attorney E. A. MacNally.
Reader—James L. Nankervis.
Chaplain—Rev. F. Herculano.
Grand marshal—Dr. P. D. MacNaughton.

The executive committee was increased from 6 to 36 members, and is made up as follows: John Dunn, John Miller, Mose Bandettini, Paul Tommel, John Nelson, James Ormsby, John D. Cuddihy, Dr. M. A. Thometz, J. G. Ervanti, Charles Schenk, Bert Forster, J. J. Ellis, Jr., Charles Lieblein, Joe Schroeder, W. Jaeka, C. W. Hungerford, John Hoffman, Ed. P. Cuddihy, P. Barsotti, W. B. Altken, Otto Beehler, and Martin G. Messner.

Sub-committees were named as follows:

Hammer and drill contest—Capt. James Chynoweth, Dr. John Miller, Silas C. Chynoweth, Frank H. Schumaker, Dr. M. A. Thometz, N. P. Kaiser, John D. Cuddihy, and F. W. Hessemueller.

Automobiles—Dr. M. A. Thometz, James MacClure, S. C. Chynoweth, Harry Goldsmith and Gene Bandettini.
Flourishes—Charles Lieblein.
Fireworks—J. J. Ellis, Joe Schroeder and Bert Forster.

Parade—O. Beehler, Dr. Miller, Dr. P. D. MacNaughton, M. A. Thometz, J. D. Cuddihy and Charles G. Lieblein.
Decorations—John Dunn, John Nelson, John Vogel, Mose Bandettini and Charles Lieblein.

Music—S. C. Chynoweth, F. W. Hessemueller, John F. Schroeder, John Shea, John Hoffman.

Printing—C. J. Pridoux, Harry Scott, W. M. Lyon, W. M. Lyon, Marcus Sterk, S. C. Chynoweth, J. G. Ervanti, Charles Schenk, Bert Forster, J. J. Ellis, Jr., Charles Lieblein, Joe Schroeder, W. Jaeka, C. W. Hungerford, John Hoffman, Ed. P. Cuddihy, P. Barsotti, W. B. Altken, Otto Beehler, and Martin G. Messner.

SPLENDID PROGRAM RENDERED AT THE CLASS DAY EXERCISES

Graduates Who Participate Make Big Hit With Their Respective Renditions

CLASS PROPHECY IS NOVEL

The class day exercises of the graduating class of the Calumet high school, held last evening in the assembly room of the school, were much enjoyed by those fortunate enough to secure tickets of admission. The rostrum was prettily decorated in the class colors, white and lavender.

After selections by the orchestra, 24 junior girls appeared in the doorway, each carrying a spear covered with ribbons of lavender and white and topped with streamers and lilacs. They marched up the aisle in double file, crossed their spears, and stopped to allow the graduates to the number of 55 to pass beneath, marching to the tune of the high school song played by the orchestra.

A cheery welcome was given by the salutatorian, Irene McCormick, who also introduced those to take part in the program; giving among other things, their prominent characteristics. After a song by the mixed chorus, Minerva Waldorff in the class history, recounted incidents of love, sorrow, and humor that had come to the members of the class during their four years of high school life. George Chatel, the class poet, told in verse of the troubles and the final triumph of the students. His poem showed much thought and preparation and was admirably given.

"Then the boys' chorus sang, the 'Song of the Armourers,' a fit introduction to the oration that followed, it being a masterly appreciation of the famous Confederate general, Robert E. Lee, by Leslie Donald. Lee was compared with other great generals of the world, and his honor and ability lost nothing by the comparison.

Robert Gilmour, the class president, gave a serious address on the lost and the coming opportunities of every member of the class, and advised the undergraduates to profit by their experience. After an appreciation of the efforts of the teaching corps he addressed his fellow graduates, speaking of the true meaning and purpose of graduating.

One of the best features of the evening was the prophecy by Ben Blinstrub. Cartoons of the class drawn by himself, were projected on a screen by a projection lantern. Mr. Blinstrub showed himself an artist of no mean ability, the cartoons being decidedly realistic. His remarks kept the audience in a round of merriment.

Bertha Hermann, salutatorian, compared the past, present, and future, and gave the parting words of the class of 1910.

The last number was the class song, words by Elsie Harper, and sung to the tune of a popular song. The words of the song are:

The Jolly Student.
Oh, C. H. S. we come tonight
To bid farewell to thee.
We're loath to leave these scenes so bright,
For those we cannot see;
But tho' of thee will linger long
Within each mem'ry dear,
And as we leave, we'll raise a song
Of happy days spent here.

Chorus:
For we are jolly seniors of old C. H. S.

There will be a regular meeting of Calumet Lodge No. 271, F. & A. M. Thursday evening, June 16th at 7:30 o'clock.
