out for a mob. It is said they sought to get a list of the Negroes and sent two white boys to do this. One Negro was shot as a result of this search. The Negroes were dispersed and the mob scattered. This seems most credible, that the firing was a result of the mob. It is not probable that there would be a mob without a precedent. The firing was not so much committed by the white men and boys, with guns and revolvers, as by a mob of white and black men and boys, with a number of special deputies to enforce the riot. There seems to be no other explanation of the firing. It seems most probable that the Negroes were in conspiracy and Stewart, at "The People's Grocery," was a ringleader of the conspiracy.
