LOTS in this valuable town are now ready for sale, at prices which cannot fail to be profitable, either for investment or permanent location.

The proprietors of the above have expended both time and money in exploring the whole of the country in the immediate line of the St. Paul and Lake Superior Road, and for beauty of location, pure water, and rich soil, are well satisfied it cannot be surpassed by any other portion of the Territory. It is in the heart of a country well watered, and abounds with innumerable groves of heavy timber, principally of the hard-wood kind. Evidence now exists of several large sugar camps, which have until very recently been worked; natural grasses abound in every direction, and Tanarac sufficient for farming purposes, that will supply the demand for years to come. In addition to the above natural advantages for agricultural purposes, it must be admitted that a town about that distance (16 miles) from St. Paul, must inevitably spring up as a necessary adjunct to the proposed Railroad; and here is the spod, necessary and capable of supplying the wants of all that may be required, either in a commercial or agricultural point of view. Wood and water, a most necessary concomittant to a locomotive engine, are there in abundance, and being only a few miles distant from Stillwater, the great lumber mart, contributes greatly to facilitate the operation of building, which the advantages of this location is evidently bound to call for. The proprietors wish not to be mislead by such significant phrases "that they are not induced by mercenary motives in locating this town," it is to make moope that they have embarked in this enterprise, but this they do say, they will sell on such repsonable terms as will make it a matter of interest and profit to those who may wish to join in the laudable object of chiping to build up this promising town. The original proprietors have already sold one-half their interest, and are now prepared to sell the balance; and
