Our Sunday school opened last Sunday at 10 a. m. The review lesson was very interesting. Geo. Morlio, our worthy superintendent, copied the entire lesson on the blackboard, making it easy to recite. The temperance lesson was given especial attention showing the amount of money spent for foreign missions, Christian work, public schools, liquor, tobacco and chewing gum in the United States for one year. The money spent for the first three mentioned is but 2 1/2 per cent of the last three. Just think of it, you who are tempted to tarrying at the wine cup, that where $7.50 are expended for religious and school work $92.50 are spent for liquor, tobacco and gum in one year in the United States. Now will some one please answer this question: Why is it that a number of young men who have been heard remark that "they would go to church more if they would not pass around the hat so much" would rather lose their lives and $92.50 away than come to church and give $7.50 to the work of Christianity.

Flare About the Wedding.

A friend has sent in the following details of the Quillen-Nett wedding which occurred on the 25th:

While the wedding march was being played by Miss Julia Bird, the bride and groom advanced to the altar, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Guy Moore of the M. E. Church, Nashville, Mo. Sincere congratulations were offered after which a beautiful supper was served.

The bride was beautifully dressed in white India linen and the groom in the conventional black.

Both are popular young folks living near Diamond where they have many friends who wish them a long and happy wedded life.

The presents were both useful and pretty and the following is a list of the same:

Mr. McLaughlin, jolly dish; Mrs. McLaughlin, fruit dish; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Chapman, silver gravy spoon; Stella and Will Nett, set of pie plates; Emma Nett, cake stand; Charley Nett, table set; Roy Creamer, water set; Mr. and Mrs. James Bradford, fruit dish; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Casement, table set; Mr. Albert Nett, 45 gold piece; Mrs. Keran, set of sauce dishes; Hattie Chapman, silver berry spoon; M. A. Quillen, set silver knives and forks; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. SUNDAY SCHOOLS GATHER.

answers were: For the teacher always to be present if possible. Be on time or better still be a little ahead of time. Greet each member of the class with a smile and a kind word. Have the lesson well prepared, especially the part adapted to the little minds. Come from the closet of secret prayer with the heart just babbling over with love for Christ and His cause. Visit the children in their homes. Let them know you are interested in them. Take them daily to a throne of prayer. If they have joy rejoice with them, if sorrow, weep with them.

Rev. Smith related an incident along his line which I think worth repeating. His daughter (a young lady) had the infant class. One morning while seated at the breakfast table a small girl came in weeping like her little heart would break. She said "Oh, Miss Lois, my little baby brother is dead. Mamma sent me to tell the pastor and I came to tell you too, I knew you would be so sorry too and would help me cry." She folded the little one in her arms and they mingled their tears together. After a little while the little one looked up through her tears and said "Oh, I feel so much better now, I just couldn't cry all by myself." May we all have more sympathy for the little ones and by our daily walk try to lead them unto Him who said "Suffer the little ones to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the kingdom of God."

The next was concerning the Sunday school superintendent. Some of the questions asked were: Is it essential he be a converted man. Should he teach a class. Should he review the lesson or if some visiting pastor or superintendent should they be asked to review the lesson.

An address was given by Rev. A. P. George, of St. Louis, State organizer. His theme was The Greater Organization. He said if all laborers in the Master's vineyard would organize their forces, have system about doing the work of the Master as about the work of the world in everyday life it would not be long until the entire world would be won for Christ. He related this circumstance to show the power of organization. Some year ago a small child was lost in one of the great wheat fields of Dakota. The father was away from home. The mother and other children of the family searched all day but in vain. At night the father came home and advised the neighbors to help him for the lost child. One man said "Let us organize and let us do it systematically." But other said no time to be lost so they scattered out, each going his own way, searched all night but in vain. In the morning the one man still continued for organization. They all joined hands making a solid band and started in the field again and had gone but a short distance when their eyes upon the dead body of the little one.

Then how quickly they could see the need of organized work. And no place do we need more system and oneness of work than in the work of the Master.

One of the ablest speakers was Rev. Law, of Toledo, Ohio. One thing he said was the difference between the church and S. S: "Was the S. S. to try to keep the boys and girls from being lost, or the church to rescue the lost?" He said how much better it would be for us to put more time on the "banks of the river" watching to keep them from falling in than to have to plunge in after them perhaps 100000 just as they were sinking for the last time or after still see them just as they were going over the rapids to be lost through an endless eternity.

Rev. Smith delivered two very fine addresses, one on child culture and the other on That Awful Boy. He said usually the fault is in the teacher not studying his character and understanding him so to be better able to reach him. The normal work is becoming a very interesting department of S. S. work. There were six state certificates awarded at this convention. Last year there was something over $1000 raised for state work. This year they wanted to raise $6000. St. Louis said they would give $1 for each $1 the state raised. It would average not quite $22 to the county. Jasper county alone has between 130 and 140 S. S. Just think of it and the state of Missouri has 483,000 boys and girls out of S. S. It is time we were waking up to our duty of saving the lost boys and girls.

The first premium banner was awarded Jasper county for the second time last year. Mr. Smith, our noble county president, carried that banner over 1400 miles attending two conventions. This year for most complete organization, 2nd year for best S. S. work reported. Our county pledged $100 for state work, more than any other county. To tax each pupil 5 cents, it would amount to several $100. What S. S. pupil during the year could give more than that amount? We had an increase of 4.81 S. S. scholars. Last year we gave $53.25 for state work and one of the richest counties in the state. This year let us come boldly to the front, both in finance and labor and God will certainly bless us in this grand work.

At S. S. workers of Jasper county we schools of our county. I talked with several of the state workers while attending the convention and they all had words of praise for the Sunday school president of Jasper county.

One thing that impressed me very much was our visit to the state industrial home for girls. At that time there were 106 girls in the home. The State of Missouri is comprised of 114 counties so you see they do not quite average one girl to the county. But am sorry to be able to say Jasper county is represented by twenty-eight girls; more than one-fourth the number there. I, like many others knew of the home but scarcely gave it a thought only as I would see by our county paper now and then when the court had sent some poor, unfortunate girl to the industrial home. The greater part of these girls have mothers (in name only.) I wish every mother in Jasper county could visit that home and especially those who could but do not attend S. S. They would not say to their children on Sunday morning, you go to Sunday school, but would go with them. Oh, that more mothers could realize how much they are needed in the S. S. work. I feel the need of greater work in Jasper county to try to save the boys and girls and know of no better place to reach them than in the S. S.

But very few of these girls had ever attended Sunday school before entering the industrial home but I am glad to say they have an ideal one in the home. Every Thursday night they have teachers meeting. On Saturday night each teacher takes her class to a room and they study their lesson together. Sunday morning both teacher and pupil go to the Sunday school room with the lesson well prepared.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN

Conducted by the W. C. T. U.

"The Saloon is the Temple of Anarchy."

"Just so, the murderer of President McKinley was a regular product of the license saloon. According to the newspaper reports, his father kept a saloon at Cleveland, Ohio. Young Leo Cholgoz got his education in the saloon. The local anarchists used to have their meetings in the rear of the Cholgoza saloon. Whoever heard of an anarchist meeting anywhere save in the rear of a saloon or a place across with a dumb waiter connection?"—The Voice.

The Danksards at their conference at Winona, September 21, said: "We demand the abolition of the drink traffic everywhere, especially in our Old Soldier's Home, and in the army. We will uplift our people, especially our ministers to be constant in speaking about the line of these resolutions and to vote as they pray."

We know our Danksards are all right. The Quakers are all right too. Resolutions adopted by them at Plainville, Ind., Sept. 19. "No membership should be given to any individual who places himself in open opposition to legalizing this (the saloon) or any other recognized evil."

Three hundred thousand white ribbons say so too, and when we get a chance to vote will vote as we pray and we all pray. There is not a white ribboner who is not a Christian. Its a Christian Temperance Union.

Monday afternoon at the M. E. Church in Carthage the county delegates met and elected Mrs. Broome of Joplin, county president; Mrs. Stemmmons, of Carthage, secretary; Mrs. Martin, of Joplin, treasurer. "Swing."

We, the jury find that the deceased came to his death from heart failure, caused by not taking Rocky Mountain Tea made by the Malheur Co. Co. Ask your druggist.
