Forest City is a man--

And he is sound and wise--
Who, when he hath a stock of goods,
Straightway doth advertise.
And when his goods they all are gone,
With all his might and main,
He rushes in another lot
To advertise again.
If in the town you e'er have been,
His name we need not hint on.
For men, like bees, are swarming 'round
The store of Will E. Minton.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a meeting held at the Christian church in this city, September 26th, in memory of our dear President, the following resolutions were adopted: WHEREAS: In the vicinities of human government, death has removed our beloved brother, our countryman and President, the Rev. J. H. McIninch, that we, as members of the Christian church at Oregon, Mo., deem it meet to unite with the citizens, the nation, and the great and good of all civilized people in deep condolences over the untimely death of him who has stood majestically forth as the chief exponent of that which was pure in thought, noble in conception, and grand in execution. Resolved: That in the death of President Garfield, the nation has lost a Christian statesman whose equal in purity of life, ardent devotion to principle, and magnitude of his schemes, will rarely be found in any age or among any people. Resolved: That in the death of President Garfield, he has left to his countrymen a great legacy--greater even than his glory. He has left them the contemplation of his character. Resolved: That we extend our Christian sympathy to the heroic wife and bereaved family of our martyred President, and that the words of cheer and comfort as will enable them to more cheerfully say, as did the Master in the dark garden of Gethsemane, "O, God, thy will be done." Resolved: That we extend our deepest sympathy to the noble and good mother of our illustrious President, and humbly pray that the All-wise Being will sustain and comfort her in this dark hour of her affliction. W. A. GARDNER, } Com. O. C. HILL, } O. C. HILL.
