

PICKLED RED CABBAGE.—Slice the cabbage, cover it with salt and let it stand two days. Then drain and put in a pan; cover with vinegar and spices to suit your taste. Give it a scald and when cold put in jars and tie up close.

FRIED CUCUMBERS.—After peeling, cut them in rather thick slices, sprinkle with flour, and fry them. Season with salt and pepper after they are cooked. The fat should be very hot, so as to fry them quickly, or they will go to pieces.

CIDER JELLY.—One box gelatine dissolved in one pint cold water. In twenty minutes add one pint boiling water; then one quart cider and one pint sugar (granulated), and the grated rind and juice of lemons. Let it stand on the stove until hot, but not boil. Then strain into molds.

APPLE JAM.—Ten pounds of cooking apples, pare and slice; seven pounds loaf sugar, the juice of three lemons, rind of one lemon, boil all together slowly, stir and mash well; when they become clear put into molds. The apples should be put in water to preserve their colors.

FLOATING ISLAND.—One quart of milk; five eggs, whites and yolks beaten separately; four tablespoonfuls (heaping) white sugar; two teaspoonfuls extract bitter almond or vanilla; half-cup currant jelly; beat the yolks well, stir in the sugar, and add the hot boiling milk, a little at a time; boil until it begins to thicken; when cool, flavor and put into a glass dish, first stirring it up well; heap upon it a meringue of the whites, into which you have beaten half a cup of currant, cranberry, or other bright tart jelly; dot with bits of jelly cut into rings or stars or straight slips laid on in a pattern.

WIT AND HUMOR.
An eastern paper is responsible for the startling avowal that a Cincinnati belle, in reply to the question whether there was much cultivated and refined society in her native city, replied: "You jst bet your boots that we're a cultured crowd."

A paper announced the illness of its editor, piously adding, "All good paying subscribers are requested to make mention of him in their prayers; the other class need not, as 'the prayers of the wicked avail nothing, according to good authority.'"

This is a woman. She is coming out of a dry goods store. See how happy the woman looks. She has just bought a remnant. Did she get the remnant cheap? She says she got the remnant cheap. Would you like to have a dry goods store and sell remnants?

"Mother," asked Mary Jane at the breakfast table, Monday morning, "don't you think gray hair is awfully becoming?" Mary Jane, who looks remarked, has a beau whose locks are silvery. "Yes, I do," remarked her mother, grabbing at something on Mary Jane's shoulder; "yes, think it is becoming to common. That makes the tenth on this morning," holding it up between her thumb and finger.

A big, fat colored woman went to the Galveston Chief of Police and told him that her stepson had run away, and she wanted to know where he was. "It boddens me to know why he left. He had everything he needed to make him comfortable. I done all I could for him," she observed. "Has he any marks by which he may be recognized?" "Well, I don't reckon all the marks I made on him with a bed-slat, while do old man was holdin' him has faded out yet."

They were bidding each other good-night, the rich man's daughter and the poor man's son, when she took occasion to remark, "You say you have no expectations from your father?" "No," he answered frankly. "And all your relatives are dead?" "All dead, darling; but don't feel gloomy on my account; I'll come around to-morrow evening and all will be bright and cheerful." "Perhaps you hadn't better come," she replied gravely, closing the door on him. "I feel as if I had a sick headache coming on, and it will be pretty bad by to-morrow night." And the next evening she engaged herself to the son of a Niagara hackman.

Why are You Billionaire?
Because you have allowed your bowels to become constipated, and liver torpid. Use Kidney-Wort to produce a free state of the bowels, and it will stimulate the liver to proper action, and cause new life in the blood.—Hawking.

COLD TONGUE ON TOAST.—Take cold smoky tongue or ham, mince or grate fine, mix it with the beaten yolks of egg and cream or milk, with a dash of cayenne pepper; prepare thin, small, square pieces of hot bread toast; place on a heated platter, putting spoonful of the meat on each piece; cover with a dish cover, and send to table hot. For breakfast or lunch.

Bogus Certificates.
It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, herbs, and put up by long bogus certificates of pretended marvellous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known reliable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cure. We refer to Kidney-Wort, the purest and best of all medicines. See another column.—Hawking.

RICK CHICKEN PIE.—Cover the bottom of a pudding dish with slices of broiled ham; cut up a broiled chicken and nearly fill the dish; pour in gravy or melted butter to fill the dish; add chopped onions if you like, or a little curry-powder, which is better; then add boiled rice to fill all interstices and to cover the top thick. Bake it for one-half or three-quarters of an hour.

The Catholic College of St. Therese, at Providence, 25 miles from Montreal, was burned Oct. 5th. Loss, $350,000.

A religious mania has become epidemic in Nicaragua. The victims believe that the Almighty communicates His will to them personally.

The Mutual Union Telegraph Company is about to lay its wires underground within the limits of Chicago, and expects to open its office in that city about Oct. 15th.

It is believed that the American wheat crop for 1881 will aggregate 410,000,000 bushels, or one-eighth less than last year. The estimate is based on the reports of the Agricultural Bureau.

It is reported that the winter wheat in Northern Indiana is looking magnificently. Some of it is already so high that live-stock have been turned in to eat it down.

The National Temperance Society's Board of Managers have appealed to President Arthur to use his influence to discourage the national drinking customs, and to lessen the great and threatening evil of intemperance.

The Farmers' Alliance of England have drafted a land bill, which will give to the farmer tenants of England the same rights on tenancy and farm improvements which have been given to the Irish. It will be presented to Parliament shortly.

A small child, while standing near a molasses evaporator near Dandridge, Tenn., a few days ago, witnessing the evaporation with great glee, lost its foothold and fell into the seething mass and was dead before its horrified relatives could rescue it.

The government has fixed no valuation on mutilated silver coin other than the market value of the silver they contain. They are purchased at the mint by weight as bullion, and their value depends upon the price of the day the coin is received at the mint.

A dispatch from Tucson, Oct. 4th, says: Advice received here show that a fight between Fort Grant and Thomas lasted four days. The Indians were driven from their position among the rocks and retreated. One sergeant was killed and four men wounded. The Indian loss is unknown.

James A. Lewis, better known as Arizona Bill, an old government scout, was killed in a quarrel at Crested Butte, Sept. 30th. Russell and Mehan, Indian couriers, arrived at Deadwood, and report that the White River Utes as well as some of the Uncompahgre have been paid and are now roaming over the old reservation splendidly armed and anxious to fight. After the Indians are all paid the reservation will be declared open for settlement.

The authorities in New Jersey have deferred action for the present. Justice Scudder, of the Supreme Court, in addressing the grand jury, made the following remarks in reference to Guitau: "It will not be advisable or necessary for you to take any action in the matter at present, unless we shall be notified of the prosecution and indictment of the offense in this county, we are required to prevent the failure of justice, which does not now appear to be probable, according to the statement given to legal authority at Washington."

The ex-Confederates at their reunion at Moberly, Mo., Sept. 28th, adopted resolutions expressing themselves in full sympathy with the Nation's grief for the untimely death of President Garfield, offering heartfelt condolence and prayers for the stricken family, deprecating the growth of seeds of assassination in the land, denying that any ex-Confederate Soldier desires a pension from the Federal Government or any State, reaffirming the respectability of the issue of the late war, denouncing the traitors who were calling for the extermination of that class of criminals.

It is stated that the Grand Trunk lines have made a proposition to the other Eastern railroad companies to force higher rates of freight. The matter has been under consideration, and the Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago and the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis roads express their willingness and will consider favorably such an arrangement, but the Vanderbilt lines are not yet prepared to enter into an arrangement of that character, and consequently the war is likely to continue.

A dispatch says: Mrs. Garfield will probably spend her summers at Mentor, in the old home, and in the winter time with her relatives in Cleveland, where she will be near her husband's remains, and part of the time at Williamstown, Mass., where she will be near her eldest boys, Harry and James, while they are attending Williams College. Grandma Garfield in future will make her home with Mrs. Garfield. Whether the bereaved wife goes, the sorrowing mother will go. The aged grandmother is a very frail, and will spend her last days with the family of her dead son.

A special from Union City, Tenn., says: Squirrels are crossing the Mississippi river miles south of Hickman in fabulous numbers. They are caught by the dozens by men in snares. They enter and pass through corn fields, destroying as they go. They are bearing up the country and hundreds are seen crossing east over the Tennessee river, below Point Mason. They are from the interior of Arkansas. During the past few days the woods in the vicinity of Bedford, Ind., have literally swarmed with squirrels, where one month ago one could scarcely be found. They are migrating, coming from the southwest and going in a northerly direction.

At 11 o'clock A. M., Oct. 4th, the grand jury voted unanimously, found a true bill, but did not report it at an open court. At 1 o'clock Foreman Churchman placed in the hands of District Attorney Corbitt, a presentment against Guitau for the murder of James A. Garfield by wounding with a bullet fired from a pistol in the hands of Charles J. Guitau at the B. & O. depot, on or about July 2, 1881. Dr. Lamb, who performed the autopsy upon the late President, explained to the grand jury, with the aid of a diagram, the track of the wound in the President's body. Edward Duffin, a new witness who was present at the depot and witnessed the shooting, also testified. With this witness the grand jury concluded the investigation. George Scoville, of Chicago Guitau's brother-in-law and counsel, arrived Oct. 4th, and visited the prisoner.

G. W. Scoville visited Guitau Oct. 5th and remained two hours. He found his client more nervous in regard to the result of the trial than day before, and in a more humble mood. He wanted to map out a plan of defense, and was full of suggestions. He was quite ready to submit. He has furnished Scoville with a minute list of places at which witnesses may be sought for as to his acts and his mental condition during the last ten years, and a special jury during the last three years. Guitau was at first averse to the plea of insanity, saying it would prove a weak one in his case. He was willing to allow his brother-in-law to decide this point, and promised to obey implicitly his directions. Mr. Scoville relies much upon testimony to be obtained in the District. There are many who came in contact with the assassin at hotels and the boarding-houses, in
