

Border County Notes.

SALINE.

Miami township has organized a camp of Confederate veterans with 50 members.

The graduating class of Slater school is to be addressed this year by John S. Crosby, an able lawyer of Kansas City.

May 27th is the time set for the Democrats of Saline county to meet at Marshall and express their views on the financial question.

The good Baptists of Marshall sent a car load of clothes, provisions and grain to Oklahoma sufferers, supposing the railroad would carry them of charge. The last heard from their donation the articles were being held at their destination for freight charges.

Andrew C., the 5-year-old son of Frank Hubbard, was run over by Mat Bair's ice wagon and killed on Sunday last week in Slater. The little fellow climbed on the step of the wagon without the knowledge of the driver and when the wagon started the child fell off and was killed as stated.

The constable of Slater went up to Kansas City one day last week to get a boy that had been arrested there on suspicion of being one of the thieves that broke into Naulerth & Quisenberry's store and took away a lot of knives, razors, etc. The boy said he was from Cincinnati, that another boy stole the goods and that he got half of them. He was sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

MACON.

The town of Lingo in Macon county has many "sons," such as Johnson, Tykeson, Stephenson, Stevenson, Anderson, McPherson and Peterson.

While out riding last Sunday week two young ladies, Misses Mattie Menifee and Mabel Jordan, had the misfortune to fall backward off their horse, and were both severely injured.

Frank Hester, a colored man of Macon, was shot through the knee and severely wounded by Watchman Peak last Saturday morning. Last fall a warrant was sworn out against Hester for carrying concealed weapons. He had evaded arrest. Putting in an appearance again he was arrested and attempted to escape, with the result named above.

Recorder Hamel of Macon came near losing his breath one day last week when a couple entered his office that were anxious to become man and wife. A marriage license was wanted, but the man first wanted a divorce from a former wife, which the recorder could not issue, at which fact it took considerable time to satisfy the applicant. Much disappointed they went away, not having a high appreciation of the law.

A novel and very important case tried in the Macon county circuit court during last session was a 70-cent damage suit. A young man broke down a shell used to hold the water bucket in a rural school-house and the school board assessed seventy cents damages against him. He refused to pay it and the case was tried in a justice court which resulted in a hung jury. The case was taken to the circuit court and the costs are already over $200.

On Monday night of last week a guest at the Palace hotel in Macon on retiring to a room, lighted with an incandescent electric light, instead of turning off the current wrapped a towel around the globe and went to bed and to sleep. Shortly afterward the towel caught fire and falling on the carpet the whole building was soon in danger of a destructive conflagration, but being discovered in time, the flames were extinguished before a great amount of damage was done.

Grandma Tuttle and Grandma Blankenship of Chariton township, each in the 84th year of her age, were visiting friends in Macon last week, and met at the home of Ed

Blankenship. Both these old ladies are active intellectually and physically, with excellent memories of past events. They had not met for 18 years and their meeting was a very happy one. A very remarkable occurrence in the history of Mrs Tuttle is related by her and other people of her acquaintance, and, it is said, can be verified by a hundred reliable witnesses in Macon county. She had never learned to read and up to her 69th year had never read a syllable. During a very severe spell of sickness she took down a Bible and commenced to read and has since read the New Testament through more than 100 times. The gift or ability to read, she says, came to her in direct answer to her prayers. -Macon Democrat.

At the late meeting of the board of directors of the Woman's Relief Corps Soldiers' Home association, La Plata secured the location of the Soldiers' home, having donated therefor a good farm consisting of 100 acres of land with valuable improvements.

CARROLL.

Carrollton high school is to have 10 graduates this year.

A larger acreage of corn has been planted in Carroll county this year than was planted last year.

Rev. C. T. Phelps of Carroll county sold his Hambletonian colt to Ed Rea of Ray county for $500.

The best rains in Carroll county were in the northern and southern portions. Carroll did not have as heavy a down pour as was desirable.

On April 28th the 10-year-old son of Chas. Pollock, living near the river, died from injuries received 10 days previous, from being burned. His whole right side was burned to a crisp.

The "fanny fellows" of Carrollton are reported to hold meetings every day at noon in front of the Democrat office. Capt. Eads is chairman, and Wm. Standley and Thos. Holway are vice-presidents.

Carroll papers are making a vigorous kick against the state board of equalization for raising the assessment in that county, the raise on personal property being $58,229.20 and on real estate $515,844.80.

A dog belonging to Bedford Hudson of Carrollton bit Edgar Fleming, a small boy, and fears were entertained that the dog was mad, but as yet there have been no developments in the case to prove it.

Isaac McCombs, a notary public, of Carrollton is in trouble with the government. He has been found guilty of irregularities in taking acknowledgments to pension papers. It is not thought he did so intentionally.

Carrollton came near having a serious conflagration last week when fire broke out in the rear of Heins Brothers' shop. The flames soon reached Ballew's lumber yard sheds, but were extinguished by the prompt work of the fire company before much damage was done.

While J. A. Scovern of Carrollton was trimming the fetlocks of his buggy horse last Sunday week, the horse raised up and fell backward striking his head heavily on the ground. He never recovered consciousness and the owner killed him Monday morning. MORAL:—Don't trim fetlocks on Sunday morning.

On Tuesday of last week a stranger called at the livery barn of Colbert & Scott at Carrollton and hired a team to drive 10 miles north. He left town at 1 o'clock, and said he would be back about 9 o'clock, which he failed to do. Several days afterward a card was received notifying the liverymen that the team was at Lexington Junction, but the man who hired it failed to make known his whereabouts.

Carroll county has three citizens in the toils of "Uncle Sam's" court at Kansas City under a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government by securing a pension for Mrs. Eliza, both Jacobs. The gentlemen in trouble are R. H. Carpenter, E. A. McCombe and Thos. J. Wallace, being respectively pension attorney, notary public and real-estate agent. They have all been tried and found guilty, but sentences has not been passed upon them. McCombs, as a notary, certified that some of the witnesses were personally known by him, that were not, an error thoughtlessly committed by many notary publics.

LIVINGSTON.

The war over an organ in the Christian church at Ludlow has broken out afresh, to the great delight of his satanic majesty no doubt.

J. T. Kennedy of Winnegan, charged with selling liquor without license, was tried in the U. S. court at Kansas City last week and cleared.

The Chillicothe Constitution speaks of a heavy wind and dust storm, followed by a good rain, in that city. The largest waterfall occurred south of Chillicothe.

The editor of the Chillicothe Tribune has turned into a spring poet, and the editor of the Mail and Star is criticizing his productions. Perhaps it's a case of sour grapes.

The Livingston county board of equalization raised the assessed valuation of property as follows: On land 20 per cent. on town lots 15 per cent. and on personal property 15 per cent.

The clearings of the Chillicothe banks for the month of April amount to $115,222.20, which is certainly a good showing and indicates a satisfactory revival of trade in the capital of Livingston.

The 7-year-old daughter of Charles Lipke of Jackson township was drowned in a well, in attempting to get some water from the well, she let her bucket fall and in trying to recover the bucket fell in and was drowned.

The Chillicothe papers are "dead set" against donating a large amount of space to advertise entertainments for a few complimentary tickets, while the cheap John upstairs, job-printing establishments print the tickets. The papers are right.

P. H. Minor, one of the Short-Horn cattle breeders of Livingston county, sold 37 yearling Short-Horn bulls, nearly all of his own breeding, to the "J. A." ranch in Armstrong, in the Pan Handle of Texas, for between $1,800 and $2,000, or at an average of something like $50 a head.

D. T. Peters of Chillicothe, a carpenter by trade, ran a rusty nail through his foot, having jumped on to a pile of boards, not seeing the nail. After the nail was drawn out the wound did not bleed, and the foot swelled rapidly. Fears of lock-jaw were entertained, but at last accounts the sufferer was doing well.

At a recent session of the county court of Livingston county a grand jury was selected for the May term of the circuit court. Judge Broadus says the grand jury thus chosen will not be called upon to serve. The county court is given authority to select grand jurors only for the September and January terms of the circuit court. The judge on the circuit court bench may use his own discretion as to whether or not a grand jury for the May term is needed.

Frank Logsdon is wanted in Howard county to answer the charge of burning a corn pen belonging to G. C. Hocker of near Franklin, containing about 40 barrels of corn. Logsdon has fled the county, but there is a state warrant out for him and it is thought he will be captured.

J. C. Drake took 150 head of cattle to a point above Glasgow last week with the view of making them swim across the river to the Saline county side. He and his force could not make the cattle take to the water and took them back to Glasgow to be ferried over. Twenty of them were taken over at a time, the first load, however, after being landed, took to the water and swam back to Glasgow. After that the cattle were driven away from the river as soon as they were landed on the other side.

On the early morning of April 28th A. F. Davis of Fayette found a burglar in his house. Mr. Davis fired one shot with his revolver, and his son fired twice with his shot-gun, which aroused the neighbors and they went to the assistance of the Davis family, but the burglar got away. There was nothing missing from the house.

Judge Rucker and ex-Sheriff O. B. Anderson of Keytesville were in the city a short while last Saturday on business. Judge Rucker is circuit judge of our neighboring judicial district and attained an enviable notoriety by the able manner in which he conducted the celebrated Taylor murder case, at Carrollton recently. -Missourian.

The marriage of Mr. C. C. Parks and Miss Zettie K. Benn, both of Keytesville, took place at the Methodist church in Keytesville, Tuesday, April 30th. The bride-elect is well-known to our young society people, having been a frequent visitor to Glasgow. The groom is the manager of one of the largest mercantile houses in Keytesville. -Missourian.

The Democrat-Banner thinks it strange that Hon. Stonewall Pritchett should have made the statement at the Democratic caucus in Jefferson City, that "Howard is one of the few Democratic counties of the state opposed to free coinage of silver 16 to 1. There is strong talk of calling a mass-meeting of Howard county Democrats to show their representative that he does not understand the sentiment of his constituents in this regard.

A Little Tartar

On the teeth destroys the enamel and ruins the teeth. Serravallo will remove this very annoying growth and leave the teeth white and pearly. H. L. Sneed, the popular druggist, keeps it.

RANDOLPH.

A small dog thought to be mad was killed in Moberly by Assistant Marshal Keynolds.

Don Merry of Moberly was considerably bruised up one day last week by having his buggy turned over on him while watering his horse at the public well.

The Wabash Railroad company will have a well at their shops to get much needed water to carry on their works. The well will be eight inches in diameter with a six inch casing.

Moberly is undoubtedly infested with fire-bugs. The shed in the rear of Pokeberry college on Williams street was set on fire on Friday of last week. The wood-work and trash in the shed had been liberally saturated with coal oil. The timely discovery of the fire prevented a disastrous conflagration.

Burglaries have been so frequent in Moberly of late that some of the business men have taken steps to prevent their occurrence. Messrs. Burton & Suttler fixed a gun that commanded the entrance to their back door, but on Thursday night of last week the burglars were on hand, forced the door about an inch, cut the string that was intended to fire the gun, then went in and helped themselves to about $30 worth of jewelry.

LADIES—Dr. Sawyer's Pastilles are effectual for female weakness, pain on top of the head and lower part of the back. It strengthens and cures. For sale by Sneed, the druggist.

Brookfield voted last week to bond the city for an additional $10,000 to apply on water-works.

A game of base ball between the Marcelline and Brookfield clubs came off at Brookfield last Saturday with a score of 32 to 15 in favor of Brookfield.

The Linneus Bulletin thinks the docket for the June term of the Linn county circuit court will be the largest court ever held in the county. There will be over 150 cases docketed.

Some young "hoboes" in Linneus recently made a rade on the public school building and smashed many window panes with stones and clubs. Three of them were seen and will be prosecuted for their vandalism.

B. F. Saumons, who lives near Laclede, holds patents on four inventions. In the face of philosophers he has invented a machine that is a puzzle to machinists. The inventor claims it will generate its own motion, and on testing it not long since it ran with increasing speed for five hours, when it had to be stopped to keep it from tearing itself to pieces. Who knows but Mr. Saumons has really found a solution to the question of perpetual motion.

A Great Load Lifted.

From the Aalanta Constitution.

"Now, look here," said the Old Moonshiner to the Suspicious Character, "you've been loafin' round here for six days, an' I want to know yer business."

"Well," said the Suspicious Character, "I love your daughter, and I—I believe she loves me, and I—I would marry her."

"The geewhilkens! Is that all?"

"All!"

"An' you've got a license?"

"Yes, in my pocket!"

"Walk right in an' take her. It's a great load off my mind. Ranged if I didn't think you wuz one o'them revenue detectives!"

C. T. STIGLEMAN, Missouri Farmer—His Thrilling Experience while in Kansas City.

Having suffered for five years with a peculiar growth on my under lip I visited a Kansas City medical college for an examination. After a careful examination the professors pronounced it a malignant cancer involving the entire upper lip and advised an early surgical operation as the only hope of a cure. Dreading the knife I sought others' opinions. Hearing that Mrs. Phillip Land (whose husband is president of the Sweet Springs Milling Co., Mo.) had been cured by the Balm of Gilead, I purchased a bottle and used it. I was cured. I will gladly answer any and all sufferers who write me regarding these wonderful remedies if they will enclose a stamp for reply. Yours Respectfully, C. T. STIGLEMAN, Grand Pass, Saline County, Mo.

UNITED STATES SENATOR BLACKBURN of Kentucky in an interview April 20, says: "In 1792 this country, with only 4,000,000 of people, was bold enough to prove itself able to discard the momentary system of Great Britain and establish one of its own, which for nearly 100 years met every demand and stood every strain that the growth and development of the country put into it. I believe that the destruction (entailed upon us by this demonetization policy) of one-half of our redemption money has contributed more than any cause to the shrinkage of all values, the depreciation of all property, the stagnation of trade, the paralysis of industry—the financial troubles in which we now find ourselves."

JUST LIKE OLD JO.

A few days since a maiden lady of uncertain years and far from prepossessing appearance visited Dr. Krazz's office to have some molars removed and being of a timid nature chose to the gas process. As the anesthetic was about to be applied she looked in the doctor's handsome face and said: "Now, doctor, I want you to promise that you won't kiss me while I am unconscious." Doe promptly replied: "I'll promise nothing of the kind." Whereupon with an air of joyful resignation she exclaimed, "Turn on the gas." -Polo Post.
