Don't forget the Saline County Fair August 12th to 16th inclusive.

Get ready for the Marshall Chautauqua, beginning August 26th and continuing a week.

Mexico is having so much trouble as ever and the question is being seriously asked whether Uncle Sam should take a hand.

The markets have become steadier the past several days leading many to believe that word has come out from Washington that congress would manage to sidestep the tariff issue.

The Democratic congress is now in the same dilemma the farmer was in who had hitched himself up with a young steer. When he ran away and they were tearing away down the street he yelled, "Somebody head us off, darn our fool souls." So the senators and congressmen are anxiously hoping for someone or some thing to turn up that will head them off before they commit political suicide.

A great deal of discussion has been caused by the statement of Wm. J. Bryan that his salary of $12,000 a secretary of state was insufficient and that therefore he would go on the Chautauqua platform while on leave of absence. In our opinion Mr. Bryan has not only belittled his high office, but also set a bad example. Any man on a regular salary is bound to give his best service and if given a vacation this should be taken in the manner intended. Too many congressmen and public men are growing careless in this regard.

Much interest is being manifested by the farmers and general public in the demonstration farms being installed at the suggestion of President H. F. Bush, over the lines of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain to aid the farmers in getting the best possible results from the land. The demonstration farm at Conway, Ark. which was in very poor condition which was in very poor condition the railroad took it in charge, is making a most impressive showing. Spring oats grown there have been

Money to Loan.

I have money to loan at five and one-half per cent annual interest, with the privilege of the borrower of paying any part of principal at any time, and rebate the interest from date of payment.

These are liberal terms and if you want money, now is a good time to get it.

I furnish abstracts and perfect titles to all lands and town lots in Saline county. I have buyers for Saline county farms. If you have one for sale let me know about it.

From Our Exchanges

Leater Dickson, who is employed with the railroad at Slater met with an accident last week and got his ankle badly scalded by steam, and while taking a lay off is down visiting with his mother and father.—Arrow Rock Statesman.

Harry Thomas has started up a little wild animal farm or menagerie and is raising all kinds of animals for the market and for fur. He shipped out a bunch of live foxes last week.—Arrow Rock Statesman.

John Karrick and wife, Willie and Charley Nixon and wives and Mr. and Mrs. Ragadale all of Slater, spent Sunday at the home of J. W. Nixon. Mrs. Karrick remained for a few days visit with the home people.—Arrow Rock Statesman.

The long controversy between the City of Slater and P. E. Skinner for an outlet for the sewerage of Slater was finally settled last Friday by the payment of $1,750 assessed against the property owners of the several sewer districts in the city.—Slater Rustler.

A HOUSE BLOWN DOWN

The wind did considerable damage last Friday in Slater, breaking the limbs from many shade trees and shattering windows, but the heaviest loss was sustained by Pete Lawson, whose four room house in course of construction in Grandview addition, was blown down. It had just been boxed and roofed and with the windows and doors open was in a condition to catch the full force of the storm. Unfortunately for him he failed to have any insurance.—Slater Rustler.

Fern, the fourteen-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Alexander, died last Tuesday at St. Luke's hospital in Kansas City of heart trouble, where it was taken that morning by its parents to undergo an examination by a specialist. She had been in ill health for several months.—Slater Rustler.

AVERAGING 22 BUSHELS

From the best information we can get from our mills and those who have been threshing, the wheat in this locality is averaging about 22 bushels per acre. This is just about the yield anticipated. The quality is fine and our buyers do not stop to test the grade. The price being paid is 75 cents per bushel.—Slater Rustler.

WEST IN AUTO

C. H. Tacker and family expect to leave Saturday for an overland trip to Colorado. They will stop over at La Junta, Denver, Colorado Springs and other points and probably be away from Missouri until about September.—Slater News.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Last Tuesday Walter Townsend of Arrow Rock was driving R. S. McMahon and John Cully to Koping and Marshall in his automobile, when they were going down the hill near the Napton bridge the break on his machine broke whereby he lost control. They went at a two-forty rate until they reached the foot of the hill when the came in contact with the bridge throwing them all out cutting R. S. McMahon on the hip and about the head, Mr. Cully got his right wrist sprained and Walter was scared out of ten years growth. Will Jackson brought them in in a wagon that afternoon. It was a narrow escape for them all and they had better be thankful they came out as well as they did.—Blackwater News.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Koenig who have been running the City Hotel for some time past moved to their farm near here Saturday. The hotel property is vacant at present and Mrs. Wade Higginbottom is running the only hotel in town at present. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Koenig regret to lose them from town.—Nelson Record.

The many friends of Charley Harvey of near here will be very sorry to learn that he had the misfortune to break his leg again one day last week. He was feeding and a box ran against him, breaking his leg about six inches higher than it was broken last fall by a run away team.—Nelson Record.

Jas. Taylor of route 3 was accidentally shot last Friday while shooting at a rabbit with an old fashioned gun, the breech pan of which blew out striking him in the eye and face inflicting several bad powder wounds. He is reported to be rapidly recovering from his unfortunate accident.—Nelson Record.

HALE-LUSE

Mr. Oscar L. Hale of near Jefferson City and Miss Buelah Luse of near here were married at the home of the bride's father, Chas. Luse of near here Wednesday morning, July 24 at 8 o'clock, Rev. B. F. Reed officiating. They left here the same day for the groom's farm near Jefferson City, where they will reside. Congratulations and best wishes are extended to the newly weds.—Nelson Record.

Sheriff Price arrested Jerry Allen, a colored citizen of the community south of town, and took him to Marshall Monday morning on information charging him with assault with intent to kill. The information was filed by Doc Nichols and is the result of a tantom Jerry got into Sunday following his attendance at a celebration at Cow Creek the day before. Jerry is out on bond waiting a hearing.—Miami News.

Information from Oklahoma is to the effect that Peter Casebolt will marry a lady of that state early next month. No more surprising story could have come to the friends of Mr. Casebolt in this community but everyone of them is ready to congratulate Peter on his wise decision and to congratulate the bride to be on the good fortune that has enabled her to win so substantial a man for a husband.—Miami News.

The Garden of Gethsemane

One of the most interesting spots in the environs of Jerusalem is the Garden of Gethsemane, on the southern slopes of the Mount of Olives. It is an enclosed space of about one-third or an acre, surrounded by a hill wall, and belongs to the Franciscan monks. One cannot say with the exact precision demanded by the scientific explorer whether our Lord was betrayed but at all events it is hal lowed with a continuous tradition of some sixteen centuries. As you enter you pass the traditional spot of the betrayal and the place where the disciples slept while Christ was at prayer. There are well arranged flower beds and around the inside of the walls are representations done in relief in colors of the fourteen stations of the cross. An object of interest in the garden is an olive tree. This, with some other trees, is said to date from the time of Christ, and is known for historical records to be of great age—at least nine hundred years. Rosaries are made from the olive stones, and the oil yielded by the berries is considered sacred and is sold at high prices.—From the Wide World Magazine.

What's in a Name?

Shakespeare wrote: "The choicest treasure moral times afford is spotless reputation."

Whether we are in business or in a profession, whether we are large or small, if our success depend upon our dealings with the public, a fair and honest reputation is indeed a choice treasure.

To have no reputation is almost as undesirable as to have a bad one.

Sometimes an enterprising manufacturer arranges to distribute his product through an equally enterprising retailer. In this way two substantial reputations unite in a common cause. Each strengthens and fortifies the other.

The retailer who has not yet enjoyed the benefits of selling a nationally known article and of being helped by the manufacturer's "spot-less reputation" tacked into his own is overlooking one of the finer points in latter day merchandising.

If you are interested in local advertising for national products write to the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.

Pills for Pessimists

To the calamity howlers—of whom there are always a few sending up moans out of the bushes—we commend these recent remarks from James J. Hill, the prominent railroad man:

"That half the people in Wall street do not know what they are as blue as indigo about.

"That the man who is selling 'short,' which means that he thinks things are going to smash, is going to suffer for it like the mischief.

"That such complications as we have had are troublesome, but foolish to think about, in view of the fact that we shall get ten billions of new wealth out of the ground this year.

"That is nonsense to suppose the government is bent on upsetting things, and

"That this is the time to keep a clear head, and not get rattled."

Cheer up, everybody. This is too great a country to be scared by a few changes in the tariff, a receivership or two or even the machinations of the money devil. As long as the farmers do not go on strike or a cataclysm of nature does not occur there is absolutely nothing to halt the nation's upward and forward march.—Nashville Tennessean.

Refuses to Follow Orders.

The following is taken from the current issue of Farm and Fireside:

"Men who won't take and obey orders are not in demand.

"Everywhere, city and country, wherever men are hired, you will find the same trouble, men refusing to follow out orders, and always getting into trouble as a result. I know a man living in town who hires men to run his farms in the country. On one ranch he has a married man, past middle age, with a large family. The owner declares that it is next to impossible to get this man to carry out an order to the letter.

"And why," says the owner "should he presume to do things his way? Here he is past middle age, with nothing to show for his life. He has no property. This in itself tends to show that his judgment is faulty. Then why should he continually persist in doing things his way, when his life shows his way has always been the unsuccessful way?"

"When men who have accomplished things know what they want done and how they want it done and are willing to pay for it, why should some failure persist doing things his way, while paid to perform them as they should be done?"

EVERYBODY SURPRISED AT THE Wonderful Values Offered at The Leyhe-Downing Clothing Company's Big July Sale!

Ederheimer-Stein Young Men's Clothes

Not a person disappointed; not a sale made but what has made another friend and booster for this store.

We are doing a wonderful business because we are giving wonderful values, and because the public know they can depend on this store when they have a sale.

Everyone is so agreeably surprised at the remarkable values that they buy liberally and they go home and tell their friends and neighbors of their great bargains, and so the good news has spread.

The unequalled values, backed by the LEYHE-DOWNING CO.'S GUARANTEE has made this sale the most successful sale ever held in this section.

There is only one more week for you to buy your clothing, hats and shoes at these sale prices. We will refund your money for any purchase not perfectly satisfactory; we want you satisfied.

REMEMBER THE PLACE! It's the sale of all sales to buy your men's and boys' clothing.
