was the rest. For this small sum, "The Journal" will make it possible for you to see and learn all about this country of interesting things—this land of natural beauties and wonders.

Mr. John L. Stoddard, the famous lecturer and traveler, will himself tell you about it. He, the poetic nature lover, will strike responsive chords in the breast of you who love nature—as true lover of his kind, he will interest you who love mankind.

The habits of one of the quaintest people in Europe will be wittily and daintily described, from the sympathetic standpoint of a believer in brotherly love, and not from that of the captious and carping caviar.

He will do this for you if you will accept the offer of "The Journal," for it offers you printed entire from the author's MS, just published under Mr. Stoddard's own supervision.

These lectures of Mr. John L. Stoddards, through which the land of Norway is being actually published under the personal supervision of the author, are a series of four lectures which will entirely satisfy lecturers

Not a cheap book, printed to be sold, but a real triumph of the printer's art, the perfection of all that modern printing can do. Fine enameled paper, wide margins, new type, perfect presswork. One hundred and twenty-eight beautiful reproductions of Mr. Stoddard's famous photographs. An edition de luxe in a small way. Worth getting—worthy of any library.

A library of information in itself. A fund of recreation, a store of facts, a constant pleasure for you and your whole family. Come and get it, or send for it to-day.

You will never regret having taken the time to fulfill these simple conditions after you have got the book and read it.

Send or bring to the office of this paper 25 cents (postage, money order or stamp), with your name and full address legibly written on the blank form here provided. No copies of the lectures will be furnished except to those who apply on the prescribed way.

Free delivery will be made December 1st, delivered, f.o.r. charge, to any part of the United States on receipt of 25 cents. Money orders can be sent at our office.

The Lecture on Norway will be followed by that of ATHERTON and VENDOME. Complete in each part, containing 101 illustrations, and will be delivered at same price as the Lecture on Norway.
