SHAPPY JACK" MORRIS AND FRANK CROWLEY RELEASED.

Pull With the County Officials Suc ceeds in the Temporary Libera-Took Human Life.

Two men whose hands were red with human blood walked out of the county jail allow sufficient outdoor exercise:

Two men whose hands were red with human blood walked out of the county jail yesterday and breathed the air of liberty for the first time in months. They were "Happy" Jack Morris and Frank Crowley, and each was released under $5,000 bond to appear for trial September 5.

Morris is a North end bartender. One night last summer he shot to death Reuben Howard, a colored special watchman who was pursuing him while making way with a watermeion from a wagon at the city market. The killing was entirely unfrovoked and cold-blooded. Howard was engaged in the performance of his duty as a watchman, and, while he was not a special officer, he had the right of any citizen to apprehend a thief. He gave up his life in the performance of the duty for which he was paid, and was shot down while seeking to protect the property of the hucksters at the city market.

Morris was indicted for murder in the first degree, and, while the evidence would probably not show sufficient deliberation to sustain the charge of first degree murder, no such evidence has ever been presented to the court. Prosecutor Lowe consented to Morris' release on bond, as the murder of a colored man is not much of an offense in the eyes of the county gang. Morris' bond was furnished by J. C. Cruikshank.

Frank Crowley and a party of friends got into trouble with John W. Dunlap near the corner of Eighth and Delaware streets one night last winter. Dunlap got the best of the crowd at the first encounter, but another meeting took place and Dunlap was stabbed to death. Crowley was arrested and held for murder in the second degree. He was released on that charge and immediately rearrested on a charge of murder in the first degree. Judge Wofford relented, and, with the consent of the prosecutor, which was easily procured, Crowley was released on $5,000 bond furnished by Pat Moore and Mrs. Maria Crowley. He comes of a good family, which has had a great deal of trouble over the reckless conduct of the Crowley brothers. James Crowley, a brother of Frank, shot and almost fatally wounded ex-Officer Jack Harrington, but nothing was ever done with him. The murder of Dunlap was a revengeful and inexcusable crime. ment.

More Cash for Jury Wheel Gang.

The release of murderers from jail by the county fiscals is timely. They are needed in the work of electing the ante-June gang ticket to be used in serpetuating itself at the Jury wheel. The jury wheel must be kept in running order. It must be used primarily by those who have business in the ourt. Then it is turned over to the gang of political hieves who manipulate for personal gain. WHAT IS YOUR TRADE?

Each Trade or Occupation Has Its Special Disease.

It is well known among medical men that certain diseases are more readily developed in certain occupations than in others. That each occupation has it attendant physical weakness. Engineers, railroad men imilar occupations suffer mostly from kidney troubles, and men who are often ex-posed to the weather suffer from rheumatism, while clerks and professional men, in fact the army of people whose business keeps them indoors, are oftentimes great sufferers from piles and constipation. In this connection the following letter is of in terest to people whose occupation will not

A CHAIN OF CIRCUMSTANCES. Being the Story of a Missourian's Experience in the City of Wichita, Kas. A little incident, which shows how easily a chain of circumstantial evidence may be woven, was related the other day by nent physician of this cty.

"I was down at Wichita, Kas., on a little business," said he, "and was standing on the corner of Main street and Douglas avenue waiting for a car-the cars there rur a half hour apart-when I noticed a lady nue waiting for a car—the cars there run a half hour apart—when I noticed a lady come out of the Boston store, wearing a long, bright ribbon on her hat. The brilliancy of the ribbon combined with the fact that streamers are not usually worn a yard long nowudays, attracted my attention, but it diun't occur to me, not knowing just what to expect of Kansas fashions, that the ribbon might not be a part of the lady's attire. Consequently when I saw one end of the ribbon blow against a carriage wheel and hang there I stepped up and, taking off my hat, handed it back to the woman.

"She gave me a peculiar Kansas blizzard of a glance and, dropping the piece of millinery on the sidewalk, turned on her heel and marched off. I was too badly frozen to give myself any explanation of the presence of the ribbon, which I absentmindedly picked up and partially stuck in my pocket, but while I was still standing there a clerk came out from the same store where the lady had been and, seeing the end of the ribbon hanging from my coat, pulled it out and looked at it, and then asked me how it came in my possession. He didn't have me arrested, but If my car had come just then and I had jumped upon it he probably would have. The ribbon had been hanging with others on a rod over the counter and had caught on the lady's hat as she left the store."

ENGLISH MASSES FAVOR SPAIN They Have Not Forgotten the Firm Stand Taken by America in the Venezuela Controversy.

The press dispatches from London have failed to give a comprehensive idea of the real state of English feeling toward Americans. The dispatches showed that the tone icans. The dispatches showed that the tone of the press, in a majority of cases, favored America in its imbroglio with Spain, but the feeling of the masses has been touched upon but lightly. The following letter, received in Kansas City vesterday from the confidential London representative of a local institution, probably gives the best idea of the real attitude of the English masses and the reason for their antipathy to Americans in the war with Spain:

The war is exciting great interest here, and its progress will be closely watched. The war is exciting great interest here, and its progress will be closely watched. The sympathies of the government and more enlightened people are strongly with the United States, but the attitude of the government, press and populace of the United States during the Venezuela controversy was so unfriendly, in fact so insulting towards England that the masses were greatly incensed and have not yet forgotten it, and are now taking their revenge by unfriendly criticisms of the United States and this I fear will taint the press which so far has leaned strongly towards America. This feeling is simply one of resentment of what the people regard as America's insolence to those who were really friends, and does not amount to real animosity, and in case of either defeat or success they will forget past affronts and rally around their American cousins.

Professor J. M. Munyon, president of Munyon's Homeopathic Home Remedy Company, who is now in London on a business trip, has cabled President McKinley as follows:

"William McKinley, President, Washington, D. C.—You may draw on my Philadelphia house for $500,000 worth of medicine as my contribution to the army and navy, England is with us.

COWS MUST BE KEPT IN.

great many persons living in the outlying wards do not realize that they are rside the city limits now and that cows must be kept from running at large, just must be kept from running at large, just as if they were inside the old city limits. These suburban citizens have been accustomed to letting their stock run at large and they have been indignant when their cows have been taken up by the public impounder. This little transaction results in an outlay of $2 on the part of the owner and he naturally gets mad at the restrictions placed upon the personal liberty of his cow.

The mayor has been overrun lately with protesting citizens whose cows have been taken up. The only thing to be done is to remind the irate citizen that the law applies to all parts of the city alike and that Sheffield and Centropolis are just as much Kansas City as Main street.

MANY WANT PATCHES.

Applications for Land Are Coming In to the Agricultural Commission. The agricultural commission has available about thirty acres of vacant land which will be tilled by the deserving poor of the city. Yesterday was the first meetof the city. Testerday was the first meeting at which applications were received and fifteen persons have already applied for allotments. As the size of the tract assigned to each person will be about one-third of an acre and one-fourth of an acre in only a few cases, the land already as-

GARBAGE REMOVAL BY BIDS. City Will Not Do the Work This Year -Lump Sums for Each District

Cleaning. The manner of collecting garbage will be changed this year and instead of the city hiring teams and men to collect it, the city hiring teams and men to collect it, the city will be divided into districts and the collection in each district will be done by contract let to the lowest bidder. The board of health has prepared an ordinance which will embody this change and which will be sumbitted to the council at its meeting to-morrow night. It has been found that the collection of garbage under such a system can be done more cheaply and satisfactorily than under the old system of having the work done by the city. Instead of having the bids based on a certain price per load, a lump sum will be bid for the removal of the garbage from each district.

NO RESPECTER OF DOGS. License Must Be Paid on All Canines,

No Matter What Their Age

May Be. A great many people think a dog has to be 6 months old before taxes have to be paid on the animal. The fact is that age has nothing to do with the matter and has nothing to do with the matter and that a dog 6 weeks old may be taken up if caught running at large.

All licenses expire June 1 and dogs may be taken up at any time after that date if unlicensed. The tax is $1.25 for males and $2.25 for females, including the cost of the license tag in both cases. Licenses are payable at the office of the city treasurer.

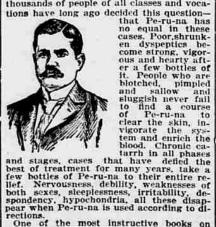

Bank Bids Too Low.

The city treasurer has readvertised for new hids for handling of the city's funds. Five banks submitted bids but they were considered too low. The average rate of interest now received by the city is 3.81 per cent on daily balances. While it was hardly thought that as high a rate would be received this year, the bids received were too far below this figure to be satisfactory.
