Tax Pamphlet Is the Issue

Dr. Louis Levine, Professor of Economics of the State University of Montana, and well known in this city, has been suspended from the Faculty of the Montana University on a charge of insubordination, his friends here learned yesterday. His suspension came on the day upon which he published a report of an investigation he made into the taxation of mines in Montana, in which he arrayed facts intending to prove that the mining interests of that State are not bearing their share of the burden of taxation and especially the Anaconda Copper Mining Company, which pays about 6 per cent of the taxes collected in the State and is a power politically.

Professor Levine went to Montana from this city in 1916. He had been the economic expert for the New York State Department of Labor and a lecturer at Columbia University. He has already been selected to lecture at the University's summer school this season. He is an authority on taxation and on labor and the author of "The Labor Movement in France" and other works. The news of his suspension came as a surprise to some of his friends here and one of them in speaking on the subject yesterday viewed his suspension as "the most recent instance of interference with academic freedom."

Early in last year the University of Montana assigned to Professor Levine the task of making a study of the taxation of property in Montana. The tax system of the State has been for years the subject of criticism. He completed his report and the following is the version of subsequent events given by friends here:

Montana University intended to publish Professor Levine's report and with this object in view late in last year he submitted to Chancellor Elliott his manuscript. The latter told him that he would have typewritten copies made and submit them to the members of the Montana State Board of Education. Later the Chancellor wrote that he thought it unwise to submit it and upon learning this the Professor wrote that he was willing to publish the essay himself.

He had a conference with the Chancellor at which it is alleged the latter told him that the University wished to bring the pamphlet out. It was the suggestion of the Chancellor that the work could go into type and be held until the Governor of the State as the head of the State Board of Education should say whether it should be printed or not.

Following the conference Professor Levine went to Washington at the request of the Department of Labor. On his return, it is said, he was told "that if he published the report his usefulness to the University would be at an end. He published it and on Feb. 7, the very day it appeared, Chancellor Elliott announced that "under the rules of the State Board of Education, I have suspended Professor Levine from further duty for insubordination and unprofessional conduct."

In his report, "The Taxation of Mines in Montana," Dr. Levine declared there has been too much politics in handling the tax situation in that State. He devoted a whole chapter to the Anaconda Copper Mining Company, and this sums up that chapter:

"During the five years, 1913-17, the average assessment of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company was 6.6 per cent of the total assessment of the State, and the company paid 6.7 per cent of all taxes collected in the State. The company was assessed at about 25 per cent of its true value of all its properties in Montana, while agricultural land is reported to have been assessed at 35 per cent, live stock at 45 bank stock at 60 per cent. During the same period the Anaconda Copper Mining Company paid about the same number of mills on its assessment as all other property in the State; but the Anaconda Copper Mining Company paid only about 8 mills on the estimated true value of this Montana property, while all other property paid on an average of 12 to 14 mills. And finally, the Anaconda Copper Mining Company paid in taxes to the State about 6 per cent of its income derived from operations in Montana while other property, especially farming property, paid an average of 10 to 12 per cent. This, then, is the comparative tax burden in Montana in so far as it can be measured on the basis of available data."

The case of Professor Levine was to have been taken up by the University authorities on Monday. What action they took is not known here.

SO QUICK

A lady who had just received an interesting bit of news said to her little daughter: "Marjorie, dear, auntie has a new baby, and now mamma is the baby's aunt, papa is the baby's uncle, and you are the baby's cousin." "Well, said Marjorie wondering, "wasn't that arranged quick!"

LEGISLATIVE NEWS

(By RAY MEANS)

Jefferson City, Mo., March 3.—Despite the fact that the House of Representatives controlled by the Republicans has twenty-eight assistants and one doorkeeper much difficulty was found in getting persons on each of the six doors when an executive session was held to hear Dr. G. H. Robinson of the Sanitary Corps of the U. S. Army.

When the executive session was ordered Speaker O'Fallon asked that all doors be guarded and the lobbies and galleries be cleared. When this was done the speaker suggested that some of the "numerous" clerks might perform the duty and after considerable delay the entrances were properly guarded.

It is on the doorkeeper's force that a large number of the negroes employed by the house are taken care of at $3.50 per day, in addition to those in the bill room.

A bill providing for compiling and publishing records of Missourians who served during the war with Germany, together with a history of the engagements in which they fought, has been engrossed.

A measure providing for the state board of health to regulate and control venereal diseases and provide public clinics for their treatment has been engrossed. The federal government is back of the bill and offers to provide $47,000 to enforce it. The government's interest in the matter is occasioned by the large numbers of men who were unfit for military service because of such ailments.

Indications are that the Children's Code bills by Senators Kinney and Buford will be favorably acted upon. The senate and house committees have reported favorably on the following:

- Relating to the abandonment of children.
- Raising the age of consent.
- Prohibiting the employment of women three weeks before and three weeks after childbirth.
- Raising the age of majority for girls.
- Prohibiting the marriage of feeble-minded, epileptic and insane persons.
- Abolishing common-law marriages.
- Establishing the age of marriage for girls at 15.
- Requiring the consent of parents for issuance of marriage license to minors.
- Providing institutional care for colored children.
- Relating to commitments to industrial homes for girls.
- Relating to commitments to industrial homes for negro girls.
- Treatment of incorrigible minors under the juvenile court age.
- State supervision of maternity hospitals.
- Establishing a state home for dependent children.
- Empowering the courts to commit dependent feeble-minded persons to the state institutions.
- Providing increased facilities for the care of the feeble-minded.
- Relating to the commitment of deaf children to the state institutions.
- Establishment of special classes in the public schools for defective children.
- Age at which children may work, hours of work for children.
- Issuance of employment certificates.
- State superintendent of schools shall supervise work of instruction in certain state institutions.

H. R. Walmesley, a candidate for the legislature from Jackson county, is here as a Republican clerk lobbying for the passage of alleged pure election laws applying to Kansas City alone. If Walmesley were permitted to have his way judges of election could serve in any precinct of the city regardless of where they reside. The purpose of the proposed legislation is to try and leave the impression with the independent voters of the state that Republicans are defeated by fraud in Jackson county. The arguments used by him and his co-workers could be easily transferred to a criticism of the judges of election in Howard, Callaway, Boone, Randolph, Chariton or any of the larger Democratic counties as the Democratic plurality in each is greater in proportion to the vote cast than in Jackson county. Some people move in "mysterious ways, their wonders to perform." Those who know realize that an effort is being made to create a Republican organization in Jackson county by legislative enactment.

A bounty on chicken hawks and owls of 50 cents each, to be paid by the county, is proposed. To collect the bounty the head must be taken to the county court.

A bill to compel all school districts of the state to vote a levy of 65 cents before state aid is available has been introduced by Representatives Maxey and Ely. The measure provides a scale for teachers' wages as follows: Teachers holding first grade certificates, $75; second grade, 65; third grade, $50. All schools are required to properly heat buildings, provide sanitary toilets, pure drinking water, and ample and sanitary grounds.

Missourians should be more than proud of these words from General Pershing: "Without disparagement of any other division, I consider the Missouri and Kansas troops the best looking men I have got in France." These words were brought to this country by Major General Peter E. Traub, who commanded them. "And I found them so," General Traub said.

All road men are agreed on the McCullough-Morgan road bill which was mentioned in this letter recently and it is almost certain that the measures will be enacted into laws. They provide for approximately $60,000 for the purpose of improving 50 miles of road in every county. A conference called by Governor Gardner resulted in this agreement.

The rate on county patients to state hospitals will be increased from $13 to $18 per month if a bill by Senator Livonay is successful. Private patients now pay $20.

Senator Buford proposes that instead of having a constitutional convention for a new constitution that persons interested in this matter present to the legislature such amendments as they desire and have them submitted to the people of the state. This, he says, has been done with success in other states.

Republicans here seem very much peeved because all the state indebtedness has been paid in the promised two years, regardless of Auditor Hackmann's efforts to thwart its payment.
