

WHAT you lose thru baking failure must be added to baking costs—it has to be paid for.

Calumet Baking Powder will save you all of that. Because when you use it—there are no failures—no losses. Every baking is sweet and palatable—and stays moist, tender and delicious to the last tasty bite.

That's a big saving—but that isn't all. You save when you buy Calumet and you save when you use it.

Pure in the can—Pure in the baking

It is reasonable in cost and possesses more than the ordinary leavening strength. You pay less and use less. You get the most in purity, dependability and wholesomeness.

In every way—it is the best way to keep down baking costs. That's what has made it the world's biggest selling baking powder—has kept it the favorite of millions of housewives for more than thirty years.

Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

THE MODEL GUEST

"MY COUSIN James is coming to spend a week," announced the landlady, "and I can't say I'm overjoyed. He's the most unsatisfactory visitor I ever saw. You can hardly get a word out of him. He isn't a bit like his brother Jeremiah, who is full of fun, and the best company imaginable."

"Your remarks show how little true greatness is appreciated in a moral family boarding house, where the damages are collected in advance," observed the star boarder. "In my opinion, James is the model visitor. If I had my own household, with a charming bride to pour the imitation coffee, and a vine and figtree in a jardiniere, I'd send a special delivery letter to James, asking him to come and stay for ten years or more."

"There's something restful and soothing about that gifted man. He never bothers anybody. No one has to waste precious moments entertaining him. It isn't necessary to discuss the weather predictions, or dig up a lot of statistics about the crops, in order to make James have a good time. You don't have to show him the old plush photograph album, and describe the ancestry of the melancholy effigies whose pictures appear therein. Nearly all visitors are bores, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, because they have to be entertained. Somebody has to sit up with them and thrash out last year's gossip. They have no initiative or referendum. They have no resources of their own. In order to have a pleasant visit, they need help."

"Your cousin James is a man after my own heart. I remember his last visit quite well. He came in the evening, and after supper he took a chair on the porch. Knowing he was a guest, I felt it my duty to entertain him in the conventional way. I dragged my chair close up to his and remarked that it was a pleasant evening, but the presence of a cloud bank in the northwest almost convinced me that there would be rain within twelve hours. In which case, I proceeded, there would be much jubilation among the honest old farmers, whose crops were suffering for moisture."

"James listened to my remarks and then looked at me, in a sad, reproachful way, as though he thought it a shameful thing that imbeciles should be at large, and then he took his chair to the opposite end of the porch without having said a word. I must confess that I felt like a counterfeited koppek for a few minutes, but the more I considered the matter, the more I admired and respected that remarkable man."

"He used to go downtown every morning and buy a paper backed novel, or a fiction magazine, and then he'd read it all day, and when he was done with his literature he left it where the boarders could get it. I didn't hear him say ten words during his visit, yet you say, Mrs. Jiggers, that he is an unsatisfactory guest. Elderly landladies, whose intellects have been warped by long years of parsimony, are hard to please."

"Jeremiah, whom you describe as jolly and agreeable, should be suppressed. He has collected all the old cheesy stories ever manufactured, and insists upon telling them. He has a horrible habit of making puns, and considers himself a humorist, because of it. You couldn't bribe him to sit down with a book or magazine and behave himself. He has to be entertained every minute of his time, and the only way you can entertain him is by letting him do the entertaining. "He is a genial old freak who thinks he is a privileged character, and everybody's pet. The last time he was here he went into my sumptuous apartment and used my razor to shave the southeast quarter section of his countenance. His whiskers are full of barbed wire, and the razor was ruined. When I spoke to him about it he thought it funny. Yet you refer to such a man as an agreeable visitor. I blush for you, Mrs. Jiggers."

In Moderation.

"Would you advise a candidate to stay on his front porch?"
 "Yes," answered Senator Sorghum; "but only part of the time; just long enough to take care of his voice and get together a good bunch of speeches for delivery on tour."

Just It.

"I thought you said you had a fine ending to your automobile trip."
 "I had." "Your chauffeur told me you were arrested for speeding."
 "Well, wouldn't you call a windup in the police court a fine ending?"

Contented

Wouldn't make much of a rich man, I guess. Couldn't be happy in up-to-date dress; Too fond of shirt sleeves an' slippert at night, An' the old pipe to smoke, an' the flickerin' light Of a grate fire I've started-myself, an' the ease Of doin' exactly the way that I please, Like puttin' my feet on the rungs of a chair An' droppin' asleep, if I want to, right there; Too fond o' havin' folks rap at my door An' know they are welcome to come long before I've answered the knock, which they never would do If somehow I'd gathered a million or two.

Riches are fine to possess, but I vow I'm sort o' contented with life as it's now; The home's not a palace, but somehow I find It's fashioned to suit just my style of a mind; The mother an' I can sit here by the fire An' know we've got all that our hearts can desire; The children around us, their friends droppin' in To bank the piano and kick up a din, An' fun goin' on an' the room's just ablaze With gladness an' mirth in the old-fashioned ways— An' this couldn't happen, I'm tellin' to you, If somehow I'd gather a million or two.

Folks are scared to be friendly with rich men and great, They never come neighborin' up to the gate Of a feller that wallows in silver an' gold, An' even the fire that sits by seems cold; Wealth has too much convention an' fashion an' sham, An' I guess I am happier just as I am; I need all my neighbors to drop in an' call Without bein' invited, an' better than all, I need all the children contented at home, Jus' glad to be here an' not wantin' to roam. So I fill up my pipe an' rejoice through an' through That I'm not alone with a million or two.

A NEW FIELD FOR TEACHERS

The best paid high school teachers in Missouri outside of the large cities are the teachers of Vocational Agriculture. The salaries of such teachers range from $2000 to $3000 a year. These teachers must have had practical experience on a farm and must have had training in an agricultural institution which gives courses approved by the federal and state authorities.

The Missouri College of Agriculture has, now in attendance, more than 100 young men preparing themselves for teaching Vocational Agriculture in Missouri high schools. There are now 73 such schools in Missouri. This number will be increased as the demand grows. Teachers in-

NOTICE OF PENDING SUIT

State of Missouri, County of St. Francois, ss.

In the Circuit Court of the County of St. Francois, Missouri, in vacation. To the February Term, 1921.

IN THE MATTER OF THE DOE RUN LEAD COMPANY.

Robert Holmes, Plaintiff, vs.

The Doe Run Lead Company, St. Joseph Lead Company, Charles J. Adams, Leonidas H. Besson, Hugh N. Camp, Jr., Hendon Chubb, Clinton H. Crane, F. H. Dearing, Polite Elvins, Auguste B. Ewing, Edward B. Pryor, Edward A. Rozier, Robert Sellors and Edwards Whitaker, defendants.

December 27, 1920. Cause No. 5088

It appearing to the Clerk of said Court during the vacation thereof from the petition herein filed and from the affidavit of the plaintiff herein filed that the defendants Hendon Chubb, Leonidas H. Besson, Hugh N. Camp, Jr., and Clinton H. Crane, are non-residents of the State of Missouri, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon them:

Now, therefore, on motion of the plaintiff, it is ordered that said defendants be notified that a civil action has been commenced against them and the other defendants herein by petition, the general object and nature of which is to obtain relief against an election for directors and other proceedings held at an alleged corporate meeting of the stockholders of said The Doe Run Lead Company on the 5th day of November, 1920, and to set aside said election and secure an order by the Court for a new election, and to enjoin the said defendants from acting as directors or in any manner directing or controlling the affairs of said The Doe Run Lead Company, and to enjoin the voting of stock held and owned by the St. Joseph Lead Company, a New York corporation, and to enjoin the defendants from voting the stock standing in their names on the books of said The Doe Run Lead Company, and for such other relief as to the Court may seem proper.

It is further ordered that unless said defendants appear at the term of this Court to be begun and held at the City of Farmington, County of St. Francois, on the second Monday of February next and on or before the third day thereof answer the plaintiff's petition the same will be taken against them as confessed.

It is further ordered that a copy hereof be published according to law in the Farmington Times, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the City of Farmington, County of St. Francois, and State of Missouri.

A true copy from the record.

Witness my hand and the seal of the Circuit Court in the County of St. Francois, Missouri, this 27th day of December, 1920.

(Seal of the Court.)

J. C. HEIFNER, Clerk.

Jan. 7, 14, 21, 28, Feb. 4 and 11.
