SOCIAL EVENTS OF PAST WEEK

Last Friday night the Federal Club of Flat River and the Young Men's Club of Farmington gave an enjoyable dance at the Opera House. There were about seventy-five people present.
A very delightful affair was that of given last Saturday evening by Miss Virginia Conway in honor of her brother, Mr. Barret Conway of Chicago. The guests were driven out about five o'clock to Rock Springs and later a delicious supper was served. The Ducky Minstrel afforded much entertainment by their singing. There were about twelve guests on the occasion and all thoroughly enjoyed it.
Monday afternoon Miss Virginia Clardy was hostess at a card party, five hundred being the game played, in honor of Misses Edith and Vivian Dulaney and Lucille Campbell. The time was delightfully spent. Miss Gladys Rozier won the prize.
The faculty of Elmwood Seminary sent out invitations to their friends for a reception Monday evening, and it met with a hearty response from the large number who were present and enjoyed their hospitality. Miss Clark sang several numbers in her usual delightful manner.
Tuesday evening Mrs. J. H. Jones entertained in honor of Miss Davis of St. Louis. Five hundred was played. Mrs. E. A. Rozier and Mr. W. T. Haile were the prize winners.
Wednesday afternoon a large party went from Farmington to a dinner party at DeLodge with Mrs. Firmin Desloge. They were Misses Virginia Clardy, Edith and Vivian Dulaney, Lucille Campbell and Gladys Rozier, and Messrs. Kossuth Weber, Linu Clardy, Will Taylor, Washburn, Bryan Forster and Dr. Weber.

Wednesday morning Mrs. James Morris entertained at cards, Miss Lucille Campbell of St. Louis winning the prize.

Southeast Missouri District Fair.

Col. Norman J. Coleman, the editor and founder of Coleman's Rural World attended the Farmington Cattle Show last week and delivered an admirable address Friday afternoon on stock and farm matters. Col. Coleman thinks that the enterprising farmers, stock breeders and business men of this section ought to organize a Southeast Missouri District Fair Association; that it would be a great thing for the people and assist in attracting the outside world to this section. Col. Coleman's first visit to Farmington was thirty-one years ago, when he was the Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor; and he helped to organize the old St. Francois County Agriculture and Mechanical Association 35 years ago. Though over eighty years of age, Col. Coleman is still active, hale and hearty, and doesn't look to be more than 60 or 65 years old. His fountain of perpetual youth doubtless has its source in his universally genial disposition, contentment and faith in the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

The Carnival Parade.

The carnival parade Friday morning was an interesting and amusing feature of the show and was entered into with spirit by those participating. Following are the characters represented and the names of those assuming the characters:

THE CONTEMPT CASE OF SUPT. HARRISON.

He Appears Before Federal Court to Answer for Refusal to Give Up Capt Tygard, Inmate of No. 4.

Dr. J. F. Harrison, Superintendent of State Hospital No. 4, went to St. Louis Monday to appear before Judge Dyer of the Federal Court, citation having been issued against him charging contempt, for refusing to give up Capt. Flavius J. Tygard, an inmate of No. 4, to the United States Marshal. Capt. Tygard was president of the wrecked Bates County National Bank, and indictments were found against him in connection with the bank's failure after he had been adjudged insane and committed to the hospital. Dr. Harrison declined to surrender him to the Federal authorities without an order from the State courts committing him. For this he was cited for contempt.

At the close of the hearing Dr. Harrison informed the court through his attorneys that if Judge Dyer decided that he was in contempt he would surrender Tygard without further question. He was acting without prejudice in the matter, believing that he had authority to surrender an inmate committed to the hospital for insanity, except by an order of the State courts committing him. Therefore, if his action was held to be in contempt of the Federal court he would give up Capt. Tygard to the Federal authorities.

Judge Dyer on Wednesday decided that the Federal and not the Missouri State courts retained jurisdiction over Flavius J. Tygard, former president of the Bates County National Bank, although he has been committed to an insane asylum by the St. Francois County Probate Court. Prior to his commitment to the insane asylum at Farmington eleven indictments had been returned against Tygard for his alleged complicity in the transactions that wrecked the bank.

The United States officials charge that Tygard is sane and has had himself committed to the asylum in order to escape trial upon the Federal indictments. He will be taken to St. Louis in a few days and later to Kansas City, where he will stand trial. If found guilty on all counts he will receive a 220-year sentence. Tygard is already 71 years old.

In delivering his decision Judge Dyer said: "When a State court and a court of the United States may each take jurisdiction of a matter, the tribunal whose jurisdiction first attaches may hold it to the exclusion of the other until the duty is fully performed and the jurisdiction involved is exhausted, and this rule applies alike in both civil and criminal cases."

Judge Dyer said he believed Dr. Harrison acted in good faith and dismissed the proceedings of contempt against him.

"Felix," in his Libertyville correspondence, suggests that before Farmington has another stock show we prepare better accommodations for the people. And that reminds us that the Y. W. C. A. has a rest room on the second floor of the Farmers' Bank building which was not used by any of the women visitors during the stock show, perhaps because they did not know of it, and there was no one to direct them to it. Felix says he stood around on the dusty street until he was too tired to rest. Oh, well, he is a man and ought to be able to stand that sort of thing once a year, and then it would be pretty hard to furnish all the thousands of visitors to the stock show with comfortable seats; but seriously, better arrangements in the way of ample rest rooms ought to be provided for the women, and especially for those with babies and small children.

Expression of Thanks.

The following resolutions of thanks were adopted by the Southeast Missouri Short-horn Breeders' Association.

Resolved, That we publicly express to the citizens of Farmington our appreciation of their courtesy and hospitality and the many favors that we received at their hands during our few days sojourn among them.

Resolved, That while we thank Judge Swink for the free use of his splendid barn, we realize that this does not express our appreciation of the undeserved favor, and we highly commend the public spirit that prompted him.

By order of the Southeast Missouri Short-horn Breeders' Association.
WILLIS KNOX, Sec'y.

J. M. KARSCH SHOE COMPANY

HIGH GRADE FOOTWEAR FARMINGTON, MO.

Last week H. A. Moore moved his household goods, horse and cow to Farmington, Mo., where he and his family will make their home in the future. A good family that Malden regrets to lose, and one that can be heartily recommended as good and useful citizens for Farmington. Mr. Moore is connected with the Mutual Protective League Insurance Co., and will devote his time to the interest of his company at Farmington and the adjoining counties. Friends here are confident of Harry's success in any business he cares to take charge of.—Malden Merit.

Committed to Fulton Asylum.

Last Thursday evening Tot Robinson, an epileptic negro boy, slashed Harry Retornaz across the face with a large pocket knife, inflicting an ugly wound. He was arrested and placed in jail, and on Saturday before the County Court he was adjudged insane and committed to State Hospital No. 1 at Fulton. Tot has been afflicted with epilepsy since he was a child, and at times he was "luggy" and was growing worse. The same day Nicholas O. Moore was adjudged insane and committed to State Hospital No. 4.

You will always find a full line of the best makes of shoes at Herzog's.
