

NEWS OF THE WEEK

HAPPENINGS OF THE PAST SEVEN DAYS ARE BRIEFLY PRESENTED.

ALL AROUND THE PLANET

Dispatches From Our Own and Foreign Countries Are Here Given in Short Meter for Busy Readers.

The house passed the cotton tariff revision bill as amended and passed by the senate. The bill will fail to become a law for the same reasons that its two predecessors, the wool and free list bills, failed.

The campaign publicity bill was signed by President Taft. Its provisions affect all candidates for congressional seats, both in the house and senate, and require publicity of all campaign funds before election.

The petitions for the recall of Congressman Max Wardell, E. L. Blaine and J. Y. C. Keeling, of Seattle, Wash., have been declared void. The preliminary count by the city comptroller shows that they lacked 25 per cent of the vote cast at the caucus election last spring.

Heavy rains had the effect of raising the inundation of a week which killed three negroes and burned numerous buildings at Jukes, a small town near Donaldsonville, Ga., as a result of the killing at Mervyn Newberry by a negro.

The war department is adopting precautionary measures to see that the obsolete arms, dismantled by the military service, do not fall into the hands of South or Central American filibusters, or other unauthorized agencies.

Two thousand five hundred employees of the Chicago Pacific road were laid off at Omaha. The reduction in force applied to all departments. The employees were not discharged, but were laid off with no time set for their return.

Privates Levi Anderson and John R. Lyons of the tenth cavalry, a negro regiment, were awarded certificates of merit for risking their lives in rescuing a comrade from drowning July 6 in Malletts bay, near Fort Edinboro, Vermont. The man had sunk in 15 feet of water.

Letting friends believe he had been killed by a brother minister and lying in seclusion while his supposed slayer was sentenced to 18 years, in the crime of which Rev. George Smith of Suffolk, Va., is accused, Rev. Ernest Lyon, who is serving his unjust term, will be set free.

The leaders of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, at London, Eng., declare that 220,000 men, or nearly half the total employees of the railways of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, have answered their call to stop work. Managers of the rail ways, however, say these figures are greatly exaggerated.

The house of representatives twice declined to override the veto of President Taft. Attempts to pass the wool revision bill and the farmers free list measure over the president's veto failed.

Seventy-five armed negroes, bent on wreaking vengeance upon citizens of Durant and Gaido, Okla., seized a Missouri, Kansas & Texas freight train and announced their intention of "cleaning out" the two towns.

Lincoln Beachey, in a Curtiss biplane at Chicago, rose to an altitude of 11,578 feet, or 3,529 meters. Those figures will be subject to a slight addition, as a result of the vapor pressure, which will be ascertained by the weather bureau. This is positively a world's record.

Mrs. Alice M. Billings, of Chicago, 89 years old, mother of C. K. G. Billings, the multimillionaire head of the Peoples' Gas Light company, trapped a negro blackmailer in the drawing room of her home at 1224 West Lake street. Four detectives aided her.

Gossip, ever active and sometimes reliable, says Col. John Jacob Astor, at New York, has settled $2,000,000 on his bride-elect, Miss Madeline Force. It is said this was done at a conference between Justice Glideraleve, for Miss Force, and Lewis Cass Ledyard, representing Col. Astor.

After more than a decade of what he terms "persecution and imprisonment on perjured evidence," former Captain Oberlin M. Carter appeared before the house committee on expenditures in the department of justice to explain his part in the Savannah harbor improvement scandal.

Angry words, denunciations and brandishing fists marked the close of the session of the Socialist conference at Blahan hall, Milwaukee, when Senator Gaylord of Milwaukee and G. W. Boswell, a Socialist alderman of Maplewood, Mo., met in the corridors.

The streets of Liverpool, England, were the scene of the wildest disorder this week, and the troops were compelled to fire on the mobs. The first of the serious troubles occurred in Vaushall road, when five prison vans on their way to Walton jail were attacked.

In a special message to congress, President Taft announced his veto of the wool revision bill. The president gave as his reason the fact that there is not now any available information showing how the rates of the wool schedule should be reduced or any data which would accomplish a proper reduction.

A policeman on the regular force of Coatesville, Pa., was the chief leader of the mob that burned Zachariah Walker, the negro slayer of policeman Rice, according to private evidence District Attorney Gawthrop declares he has in his possession.

Representatives of the four organizations comprising the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, have issued a strike order at London, Eng., calling out the 10,000 members of their allied unions. The men were asked to strike "immediately."

Her head torn from her body and one arm severed, Mrs. Calvin Lovett was killed at Kalamazoo, Mich., in a mysterious explosion which wrecked her house and jarred the entire section of the city in which she lived. Tuffs of lumber and pieces of iron were widely scattered.

Dispatches from Paris and Berlin say that an almost hopeless deadlock has developed in the negotiations over Morocco, owing to the exigencies of the demands Germany is making on France as the price of her withdrawal from Agadir.

That Secretary Wilson had approved every detail of the employment of Dr. H. H. Rusby which caused the present controversy in the department of agriculture, was the testimony of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley when he continued his story before the house committee investigating the department.

Arthur A. Delandby, at Chicago, soared higher from the ground than an airplane has ever been before, and set a new world's record at 11,729 feet. Philip G. Parmelee followed him in the air, passing the former American record, and reached 10,811 feet before he was forced to descend.

Twelve persons were seriously injured, two of them fatally, in a trolley accident in the northern section of Philadelphia. The brakes of the car refused to work as it was about down a steep hill. When the momentum reversed him controller the trolley blew out and a few seconds later the car jumped the track and crashed into a house.

Andre Jager Smith, a French journalist, who is making a flying trip around the world in the interest of a Paris daily, reached New York from Montreal via the New York central two hours too late to catch the French liner La Lorraine.

Summing over the southern corner of Lake Michigan and then over the main hills of northern Indiana, Harry N. Atwood of Josten in his airplane flew the 101 miles from Chicago to Elkhart, Ind., in two hours and sixteen minutes without stop, thus completing 877 miles of his trans-continental flight from St. Louis to New York and Boston.

In one of the bitterest fights that has ever marked a Kentucky Democratic convention, a minority report introduced by Henry Watterson, opposing the county unit bill, was defeated by a vote of 687 to 514.

George W. Perkins, former business associate of J. P. Morgan, issued a statement saying he would soon disassociate himself with many of his business connections to give his time to the development of a certain cooperative association to solve problems of investors, wage earners and consumers.

President Taft has refused to grant further executive clemency to Raymond P. May, former business manager of a Kansas City newspaper, who was convicted of using the mails to defraud in the sale of mining stocks.

Two aviators, William R. Badger of Pittsburg and St. Croix Johnson of Chicago, both young men, lost their lives at the international aviation meet in Chicago.

Breaking into the office of A. W. McDavid, a dentist at San Bernardino, Cal., Chief of Police Messer found huddled in a corner, a baby at her breast, Miss Jessie McDonald, a high school girl, missing from her home 18 months. The girl declared she had been held in subjection in a home adjoining the dentist's office.

Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., was indicted at Chesterfield Courthouse, Va., on the charge that he killed his beautiful young wife. The indictment came a few minutes after a grand jury convened. Ten farmers composed the grand jury that returned the indictment.

Mrs. Jessie Weeks, postmistress at Middleburg, Fla., was killed, her 18-year-old son Harris, was probably fatally injured and W. F. Williams, an escaped convict, was shot to death at Middleburg over an ordinary clothes line quarrel.

A resolution for a special investigation of the International Harvester company along the lines of inquiry into the United States Steel corporation was introduced by Representative Foster (D.), of Illinois.

Five additional arrests were made in connection with the burning of the negro Walker at Coatesville, Pa. They are held as material witnesses. District Attorney Gawthrop declares that a more serious charge may be lodged against some of them.

Following the arrest of E. L. Hendry, president of the All Night and Day bank of Memphis, on a warrant from Oklahoma City charging that Hendry had violated the state banking laws of Oklahoma, a receiver has been appointed for the Memphis institution.

RAGE OF FRIENDS TO FOIL LYNCHERS

MISSISSIPPIAN HUSTLED OUT OF JAIL IN TIME TO STAY RIOTOUS MOB.

WAS ACCUSED OF PEONAGE

Armed Band Ride Into Town, Overpower Officer and Escape Into Swamps—Townpeople Demand Accused Be Deported.

Piney, Miss.—Two mobs, each with a different mission, in a race to wrest a wealthy white man from behind the bars, turned little Piney into a riotous town.

Edward Moore, a carpenter and actor, escaped the noose by a few minutes. The clatter of the half armored horses of his protectors had suddenly died out when a hundred possemen surged through the parish jail to head his cell empty.

Just out of town his friends were leading their horses to desperate flight. Reports of couriers say Moore is hidden in the swamps, guarded by his armed rescuers.

It was a race of friends to prevent a lynching and only by flight from Piney, they early decided, could they save his life. Anger of the infuriated mob hunters bordered on the riotous when it was discovered Moore had fled.

Accused of Slavery.

Moore and S. A. Venters, also a carpenter operator, were arrested in connection with alleged slavery cases in the oil country of southern Mississippi. Both were required to the local jail.

Following their detention they were removed to the city hall in custody of the city marshal. There, two thousand men were gathered in mass meetings.

Resolutions were adopted demanding they be set free and leave the country. The meeting virtually took them from the officials. The city marshal regretted Moore and Venters when they left the hall and escorted them to the parish jail. Venters gave bond soon after and was released, he immediately took a train for New Orleans.

Rescued by Friends.

Later a delegation again met to consider Moore's fate. But one man stood guard over him in the jail. While the discussion was in progress a crowd of Moore's friends rode to his cell, overpowered the jailer and released him. He was put on a horse and hurried from town.

News of his escape reached the city hall, and there was a rush, with cries of "lynch him."

Venters denied the charges against himself and Moore, and declared they resulted from a quarrel between one of his foremen and a negro woman. He claimed to have five witnesses who would testify there is no peonage in their camp.

Aeronaut Killed at Wife's Feet.

Merion, Ind.—Frank D. Crawford of Anderson, Ind., was killed in attempting a double parachute leap. The sudden opening while falling so rapidly caused the aeronaut to lose his grip, and he was dashed to the earth almost at the feet of his wife.

Bodies Taken From Mine.

Hibbing, Minn.—Three bodies were recovered from the debris and stones which swept down the side of the open pit of the Susquehanna and Buffalo mine, burying the steam shovel and some of the 10 men at work in the path of the slide.

Fire Near Yellowstone Park.

Livestock, Mont.—A large forest fire has broken out on Pole creek, near Jardine, on the edge of Yellowstone park. The fire is spreading rapidly and has already done a large amount of damage.

A DIFFERENCE. Mrs. Jinks—My husband is making a collection of stela. Mrs. Hooze A. Lott—My husband is making a collection of the contents of stela. Character of the Eye. Beware of the man who does not look you clearly in the eye. He has possibilities of evil in his nature. There are eyes which are luminous, others which seem to be veiled behind a curtain. Men and women of the world are accustomed to judge human nature by the expression of the eye. Many people read character by the eyes, and can thus distinguish the false from the loyal, the frank from the deceitful, the hard from the tender, the energetic from the indolent, the sympathetic from the indifferent. Little Pitcher. Lady Visitor—I am coming to your mamma's company tomorrow, Tommy. Tommy—Well, you won't get a good supper. Tommy's Papa—Tommy, what do you mean, talking like that? Tommy—Well, you know pa, you told ma you'd have to get some chicken feed for her old hen party tomorrow. No Wonder. "What's your husband so angry about?" "He's been out of work six weeks." "I should think that would suit him first-rate." "That's it! He's just got a job."

GET POWER. The Supply Comes From Food. If we get power from food why not strive to get all the power we can. That is only possible by use of actively selected food that exactly fits the requirements of the body. Poor fuel makes a poor fire and a poor fire is not a good steam producer. "From not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs, I suffered grievously for a long time from stomach troubles," writes a lady from a little town in Missouri. "It seemed as if I would never be able to find out the sort of food that was best for me hardly anything that I could eat would stay on my stomach. Every attempt gave me heartburn and filled my stomach with gas. I got thinner and thinner until I literally became a living skeleton, and in time was compelled to keep to my bed. A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food, and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I have kept up its use ever since. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I needed. "All my unpleasant symptoms, the heartburn, the inflated feeling which gave me so much pain disappeared. My weight gradually increased from 98 to 116 pounds, my figure rounded out, my strength came back, and I am now able to do my housework and enjoy it. Grape-Nuts food did it." Name given by Postum Co., Battie Creek, Mich. A ten days' trial will show anyone some facts about food. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Cement Talk No. 2 Portland Cement does not come from Portland, Maine, or Portland, Oregon, and it was not first made at either of these places. It is called Portland because it was given this name by the Englishman who first made it. He called it Portland because he thought it resembled certain natural deposits on the Isle of Portland in England. Portland Cement is the fine powder produced by pulverizing the clinker resulting from the burning together of various materials of proper chemical composition. In the case of Universal Portland Cement, these raw materials are blast furnace slag and pure limestone. There are many brands of Portland Cement on the market, produced by different manufacturers. Universal is one of the best known and highest grade Portland Cements. You can always tell it by the name Universal and the blue trade mark printed on each sack. Forty million sacks of Universal are made and used yearly in this country. If you have any concrete work to do, you will make no mistake by using Universal Portland Cement. Universal is for sale by representative dealers everywhere. UNIVERSAL PORTLAND CEMENT CO. 72 W. ADAMS STREET, CHICAGO ANNUAL OUTPUT 10,000,000 BARRELS SAVE YOUR MONEY.
