

PRESIDENT LOUBET TALKS OF PEACE

Hopes for Pacification of the Political Warfare Which is Agitating French Republic.

PLANS FOR REORGANIZATION.

Waldeck-Rousseau Cabinet Will Resign Next Week—M. Bourgeois Probably Will Be Elected President of the Chamber.

BY J. CONNELLY. SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. Paris, May 31.—(Copyright, 1902.)—M. Loubet has returned to Paris after an absolutely triumphant visit to Russia, where he appears to have scored a great personal success. During his absence, the cabinet had declared its formal intention to tender its collective resignation to him before the opening of Parliament, and not to bring about a political debate, which could serve to no good purpose, as on the one hand, the ministerial record had been frequently approved by the odious chamber, and on the other hand, the cabinet did not desire to enter into any compact for the future with the new chamber.

Out of deference to the President, and in obedience to his request, the resignation of the cabinet will not be announced officially till during the course of next week, and the chamber, which meets on Sunday, will have ample time to select its officers and make preparations for the session.

There is no indication as yet as to the name of the politician upon whom M. Loubet will call after his brief trip on Sunday and Monday to Montclair, but there is every reason to believe that, by its selection of a new President, the majority of the new chamber will not be announced officially till during the course of next week, and the chamber, which meets on Sunday, will have ample time to select its officers and make preparations for the session.

Paris May Be Ignored. When Paris was ignored, the radicals used to say that no government that went against the Parisians was possible. Now that Paris has been ignored, the radicals use the same phrase. Now that Paris has been ignored, the radicals use the same phrase. Now that Paris has been ignored, the radicals use the same phrase.

For the Reactionaries, pacification would mean the abandonment of the associations and the retirement of General Andre. Thereupon the Republicans would rise as one man. For the latter, pacification would mean the retention of General Andre in power and the enforcement of the associations law. Paris has been ignored, the radicals use the same phrase.

On his return from Russia, when he landed at Dunkirk, M. Loubet laid stress on the necessity of pacification. True, it is a fine word and a very noble idea, but pacification is not deemed like an amnesty, and, however desirable, it is scarcely realizable, with two parties, whose only mission and sole dream have been to mistreat and destroy each other.

For the Reactionaries, pacification would mean the abandonment of the associations and the retirement of General Andre. Thereupon the Republicans would rise as one man. For the latter, pacification would mean the retention of General Andre in power and the enforcement of the associations law.

Therefore, despite the advice of M. Loubet it is to be feared that political peace will not be made in the quarters of each of these camps.

The socialists are not agreed among themselves, as the Republicans are on better terms. As for the Nationalists, they are torn by the divisions of the League de la Patrie Francaise, the newly elected members of the League think M. Frenet's copy of the constitution is a compromise, and M. Coppes has had to go. He has been followed by Lestour, Colonel Montell and a large number of more obscure leaguers.

The spite of this incident is that the League worked the elections with money furnished in the main by the Clericals, with whom it wants nothing more to do. It is really a pity that the League did not adopt the motto of some of our big stores, "Money returned when the article does not suit."

ANOTHER RIBBON FOR HOUSE OF CHURCHILL.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. London, May 31.—(Copyright, 1902.)—A most remarkable thing about the Duke of Devonshire's visit to the States is that he is not a member of the royal family. Despite their great name, the Churchills have not had a large share of honors. Though they are styled as Dukes, there have been only seven Dukes before him, for the second Duke, to use a Irishman, was the Duchess Henrietta. Including the new knight, five only have been Knights of the Garter.

Every one of the eight Dukes of Devonshire and six out of seven Dukes of Rutland have been of the order. At the other end of the scale come the Dukes of Leeds, of whom there have been ten, with only four Knights of the Garter. Even of the four Dukes of Bedford, with all their enormous political interest, the past, only six gained the coveted ribbon.

INSIGHT INTO LIFE OF FRENCH CAPITAL

MONUMENT TO DAUDET UNVEILED in the Champs Elysees—Danger of Experimenting in Aerostatics. KISSING OF LADIES' HANDS. League Has Been Formed to Revive Pretty Custom of Time of Marie Antoinette—Rumor That Mlle. Humbert is a Man.

AMERICAN GIRL SHOCKED. A fashionable 3 o'clock rendezvous in the Hotel de Ville was rudely disturbed by the Comte de Talleyrand-Perigord flapping the fair daughter of Thyrene on the cheek with his glove. A general scrimmage ensued. A French girl, on her first visit to Paris, was heard to remark: "I was sure some trouble would occur." She had been horror-struck to see her fair damsel, who was the cause of the scandal, calmly smoking a cigarette.

ARTISTS' HEIRS TO PROFIT. A letter to the Figaro makes a proposal that one per cent be paid to an artist or his heirs on all public sales of his works. Carot, Jonkind, Millet and a hundred other geniuses whose works sell for hundreds of thousands of francs, barely earned a pitance, so it is only just that their heirs should benefit by present prices of their works.

REMARKABLY BRILLIANT LONDON OPERA SEASON. SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. London, May 31.—(Copyright, 1902.)—Socialists are supporting the opera joyfully. Never before has the audience been so consistently representative and brilliant as the present season. The chief reason for the present success seems to be that Mlle. Humbert is a man of unusual height and has a deep bass voice.

MONUMENT TO DAUDET. The inauguration of the monument of Alphonse Daudet took place in the Champs Elysees this week in the presence of members of the family of the illustrious author and representatives of the Minister of Public Instruction. The monument occupies a poetic site in one of the little wooded parks of the foot of the avenue. It is by M. Saint Marcou.

LESSON OF SEVERO ACCIDENT. The death of Severo Severo has directed attention to the danger of experiments with aerostatics. Inquiry showed that a descent of a passenger from a tram car at the moment the Severo balloon exploded alone prevented the crushing of the other passengers. The Scientific Committee of the Aero Club is putting pressure on the authorities to absolutely prohibit such experiments within reach of towns.

MR. SPRAGUE SAYS. Seedless Cherry Pie now on sale at the Delicatessen Lunch Rooms. "Don't say, I ain't done Cassidy. 'Phy not?" Cassidy: "Because that's not good English." and an entertainment by the lady minstrel, St. Hathaway's "Dixie Boys" will appear every evening. There will be dancing for the young folks. Monday evening is to be reserved exclusively for children.

TO REVIVE HAND-KISSING. There are many legends in Paris. The "Lagu de Bais-Main" has just been instituted to bring back the graceful custom of kissing lady's hands. Of late years, Anglomaniacs introduced the English handshake of the hand. Aristocratic society found this too "vulgar" and now desire to return to the customs which prevailed in the time of Marie Antoinette. It remains to be seen if the "Lagu de Bais-Main" will prove victorious over the prevailing Anglomaniacs.

AUSTRALIAN SWINDLERS ARE THRIVING IN LONDON. SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. London, May 31.—(Copyright, 1902.)—Australian swindlers are thriving in London. So are Australian swindlers. A Melbourne correspondent writes: "I have just received a letter from a friend in London, who tells me that a large number of Australian swindlers have recently arrived in London, and are thriving there. They are engaged in various schemes of fraud, and are doing well. I am sure you will be interested to hear of this. I will try to get some more news for you."

COURSE OF TRAVEL FOR OUR YOUNG MEN

American Lawyer Suggests a Wise Way for Our Millionaire Philanthropists to Spend Money. Bainbridge Colby Says That Such Education for Young Men Would Help Them More Than Scholarships or Libraries.

ADVANTAGES OF HIS PLAN. SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. London, May 31.—(Copyright, 1902.)—If some philanthropic American would devote a few millions to the education of young Americans by a course of travel it would do more good than any number of libraries or scholarships. This, at least, is the opinion of the New York lawyer firm of Alexander & Colby, expressed to me in the course of a chat at the Charlton yesterday. Mr. Colby has spent much time on this side of the water, having business relations here. He is convinced that what young Americans need more than anything else to make them more useful in such knowledge of other countries and peoples as can be got by travel.
