Impaired Digestion

May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected.

The uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, sourness of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad now, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

Dyspepsia is such a miserable disease that the tendency to it should be given early attention. This is completely overcome by which strengthens the whole digestive system

The display of Summer Goods at Barr's cannot fail to meet the fancy of the critical and economical buyer. The fabrics this season are delightful in design, and nowhere are they offered in such assortment as at Missouri's Greatest Store.

GIFT FOR EMPLOYES OF CONTINENTAL BANK

Receive Month's Salary in Acknowledgement of Efficient Services.

The employes of the Continental Bank, which was recently absorbed by the National Bank of Commerce, were given a full month's salary yesterday as an acknowledgment of the efficient services they have performed in assisting to conduct the business of the institution. The gift, which was made at the suggestion of the officers of the Bank of Commerce, amounted to several thousands of dollars.

When the men went to draw their pay for the month of May 1, they were surprised at being handed a sum just double what was due. Inquiry developed the fact that the additional amount was a gift from the management. It was explained that the individual existence of the bank was at an end, and that the directors were anxious to show their appreciation for efficient work done, and took this way of doing so.

Many of the employes of the Continental Bank had been in the service for many years. The outlook for will be taken care of when the actual merger takes place. Though the business of the Continental is now under the direction of the Bank of Commerce, both banking houses will be operated until the new quarters on the southeast corner of Broadway and Olive street are ready for occupation.

The Missouri Trust Company will open for business in its new banking rooms at Seventh and Olive streets to-morrow morning. The work of moving from the old stand at Seventh and Locust streets was completed Saturday night. For two weeks past a force of laborers was at work getting the new quarters in shape for occupation. The banking room were formerly occupied by the Union Trust Company.

KING QUARRELS WITH PREMIER SALISBURY.

Edward Wants Sir Ernest Cassell Raised to a Peerage, but Meets Firm Refusal.

DUCHESS OFFENDS MONARCH.

Flatly Declines to Invite a Woman Favorite of Edward VII to Dine at Her House and His Majesty Has to Submit.

London, May 31.—Those in touch with royal circles are busy gossiping about the reported tiff between Lord Salisbury and King Edward, which is said to have arisen on account of the King's demand that the Premier recommend Sir Ernest Cassell for a peerage.

Last year the same request met with a refusal. This year it was again urged by the King on the ground of Sir Ernest's munificent gift of £300,000 toward the cure of consumption.

The Premier absolutely refused to countenance the suggestion, and at the end of a stormy interview, which occurred the day the State dinner was held at Buckingham Palace, Lord Salisbury remarked:

"Well, sir, I suppose I had better leave my place at to-night's banquet vacant?" to which the King is said to have replied: "Yes, I think you had," and stalked out of the room.

Since then, according to court gossip, King Edward and his aged Prime Minister have scarcely been on speaking terms.

King's Friend Is Excluded.

Another incident which is causing considerable commotion in royal circles is the disagreement between King Edward and the Duchess of Buccleuch, a member of the old style, exclusive aristocracy, who has not countenanced the so-called "smart set."

The King was to dine with the Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch and intimated his desire that a lady of his surrounding be invited. This is usually tantamount to a command, but the Duchess of Buccleuch, nothing daunted, refused point blank to ask the King's friend to make one of the dinner party.

His Majesty was furious and threatened to cancel his promise to dine with the Buccleuchs, whereat the Duchess of Buccleuch retorted that she was quite willing to send her resignation, as mistress of the robes to Queen Alexandra.

Later in the day the King thought better of it, and informed the Buccleuchs that he accepted the exclusion of his favorite and forbade the Duchess to resign.

Many members of the nobility, especially old country families, make no secret of their disapproval of various events in the King's social life.

As above we will sell at auction without reserve, 50 Casks of Imported Rhine and Mosel Wines for account of Importers, on account of overimportation, having large Importation on the way and wanting to remodel their wine cellars. These wines are in original casks, about 40 gallons to the cask. Have been cleared, are bottle ripe and guaranteed pure. Goods will be sold on U. S. Gauger certificate, strictly fine goods and sold under the Importer's guarantee; it will pay you to attend this sale.
