Resolutions of Respect of Monroe City Lodge No. 64 A. F. & A. M.

WHEREAS, it has pleased the Great Architect of the universe to remove from our midst, our late and well beloved brother, Dr. J. J. Norton, and

WHEREAS, it is our sincere desire that a fitting recognition of his many virtues should be had; therefore be it resolved by Monroe Lodge No. 64, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother, who has been taken from us.

Resolved, that in the death of Dr. J. J. Norton, our lodge laments the loss of a brother, who was ever ready to proffer the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the fraternity; an earnest, active member of this society, whose utmost endeavors were exerted for its welfare and prosperity; a friend and a companion who was very near and dear to us all; a citizen whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to his fellows.

Resolved, that the heartfelt sympathy of all the members of this lodge be extended to his relatives in their affliction and bereavement.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the record of the lodge and a copy be transmitted to the relatives of our deceased brother and to each of the newspapers of our city.

Madden-Thiehoff.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was that of yesterday uniting two fond hearts and two deservedly popular young people.

Daniel B. Madden, member of a Philadelphia publishing house, was raised near this city and though Miss Agnes Blanch Thiehoff lives in Hannawell, she is almost as well known here as at home and is as popular here as there.

The nuptials took place at St. Johns Church, high mass and were performed by Rev. Fr. D. F. Sullivan.

The attendants were P. Y. Thiehoff, brother of the bride and Miss Mayme Losson the intimate friend of both the contracting parties.

Mrs. H. R. Hardy played the mass and Miss Gussie Thiehoff, sister of the bride played the wedding march.

The blushing bride was gowned in a pretty blue cloth traveling suit and the attendants in brown.

After the ceremony came the wedding dinner at the home of the bride and then the long trip east to their future home.

May the pleasures and gifts of the Gods follow them.

Bring in six ears of big corn and get a premium.

James G. Blaine, when talking of reciprocity was "casting an anchor to the windward." Theodore Roosevelt is guilty of the same burlesque for he only speaks of the small Latin countries. Why not be brave, why not be honest and come out flat footed for a tariff for revenue only, instead of sticking to the Dingley-McKinley robber tariff that gives to the few and takes from the many.

Miss Mary Carson, one of the popular young ladies of this city is spending the week with relatives in the city of flowers.

Angels Without Wings.
There is another well-driller in town. He is making his home at J. O. Gilson's and Oscar is correspondingly happy.

Thomas Treaster has added one more to his interesting family. It is a boy.

For the first time the Stork has found his way to the home of Z. C. Proctor. It is a pretty little girl.

Good Time.
About ten couple of the young people residing near Bethlehem church met at Kimes near there last Friday evening and enjoyed themselves playing various games.

Bees Make Money.
God made bees and bees make honey, but the J. A. Betha bees also made money. Last spring he had four stands of bees, this fall from them he has eight stands of bees and $46 to show for their seasons work.

What Theodore Roosevelt Says.

An article on "The Presidency," by Theodore Roosevelt, to be published in the November 6th issue of the Youth's Companion, will be of great public interest. When the article was written Mr. Roosevelt had not even been nominated for the Vice-Presidency.

Nothing was then further from his thought than that he would so soon exercise the great powers which are entrusted to the President of the United States.

In view of the circumstances the article possesses an importance more than ordinary, and it will be eagerly looked for. The number of The Youth's Companion containing it, and all the subsequent issues of 1902, will be sent free to new subscribers from the time their subscription of $1.75 is received for the 1903 volume. The new subscriber will also receive The Companion Calendar for 1903, lithographed in twelve colors and gold. Full illustrated Announcement of the new volume and sample copies of The Companion will be sent to any address free.
