

Korrek Shape

IS ALL THAT THE NAME IMPLIES

Made on nature's...
...fit. Style
...considered and
...
...up to
the minute.

The price is right too. Made from selected material, by skilled workmen.

All Burrojaps patent leathers are guaranteed.

Do You Realize What That Means?

LOOK OVER OUR STYLES
NO TROUBLE TO SHOW THEM

BURT & PACKARD CO.
MAKERS
BROCKTON, MASSACHUSETTS

SOLD BY

BOULWARE'S SHOE STORE

Qt. watermelon sweet pickles, Mrs. J. H. McClintic, Monroe City.

Oven Products.
Loaf yeast-bread, Mrs. W. H. Hibbert, Monroe City.
Loaf Boston brown bread, Manona Shearman, Monroe City.
Angel food cake, Manona Shearman, Monroe City.
Mahogany cake, Mrs. Roy Buell, Monroe City.
Plate cookies, Mrs. Jno. White, Monroe City.
Plate doughnuts, Mrs. John Umstatted, Monroe City.
Best corn on stalk, Mr. McKoone, Monroe City.

Francis Longmire is home from Columbia for a few days visiting relatives. He has a good position in the Trenton schools for the next school year. He will teach agriculture and Grundy county is making arrangements to employ him as general farm expert for the county. He will make good.

Misses Cora Ruth Hawkins of Kansas City, and Edna Maude Gentry of Shelbyville, were with friends here part of the week.

Walter Moss is delivering milk to patrons at 25 cents per gallon.

Chautauqua Season Tickets
Those who have pledged for season tickets for the Chautauqua will please call at the Monroe City Bank and secure their tickets

The Chautauqua will begin on Sunday afternoon, August 25, but it will be an accommodation to the management if you will call at the bank and redeem your pledge at once.

What will you have for Sunday desert? (Answer) Phone Carpenter for a quart of ice cream.

George Vaughn, of Ballinger, Texas has been visiting his brother Ad Vaughn.

R. H. Kelley, of Fairmount, W. Va., spent part of the week here with his friend F. D. Brownell.

Take Notice.
Those having cases or bottles belonging to the Crystal Bottling Works will please notify Works and they will call for same.

John McGlasson and wife, of Louisiana, have been visiting their Monroe friends.

The Monroe City Chautauqua

The Biggest and Best Ever

Begins August 25 With the Fifth Infantry Band of Illinois

A Great Forty Piece Band.

Continues For Eight Days

8 BIG DAYS 8

August 25. September 1.

Have you seen the new low down John Deere Manure Spreader at A. Jaeger, Jr.'s Hardware? If not it will pay you to investigate.

For Sale.
Two seated trap and harness, both in good condition.
Mrs. L.L. Lane.

Joseph Lewis of Vandalia, spent part of the week with his nephew, R. H. Henniger.

Have you seen the New John Deere Manure Spreader at A. Jaeger, Jr.'s Hardware?

A cup and saucer free with every purchase of 98 cents or more at Miss Sallie Rouse's next Saturday.

Ask to see the McSherry Grain Drill with the foot board, at A. Jaeger, Jr.'s Hardware.

Sister Pancratius departed yesterday for her home at Prescott, Ariz., after a pleasant visit with relatives here.

For Sale—Some of those Honey Sweet grapes on Schott Vineyard 3 1-2 miles Northeast of Monroe.

Mesdames J. H. McClintic and A. Jaeger were Quincy visitors yesterday.

W. A. Patterson, of Hannibal spent part of the week with friends here.

Mrs. W. B. A. McNutt and daughter, Miss Ethel, returned Monday from an extended visit in Kentucky.

Mrs. A. J. Shepard and daughter Mrs. Edw. Reiter of Chicago are at Mudlavia, Ind.

Carpenter's Bread and Cakes are in such demand that the daily output had to be increased.

Miss Leona Settle departed Tuesday for New York where she will be in a wholesale millinery house for several days and will then go to Bessemer, Ala., where she has a good position in a large millinery establishment.

What will you have for Sunday desert? (Answer) Phone Carpenter for a quart of ice cream.

S. T. Hawkins, of Anakarko, Okla., was with relatives here part of the week.

Miss Stella Lawson went to Quincy Tuesday for a visit.

JOHN A. DIX, GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK.
"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is marked with broad vision and clear thought, expressed in language every American can understand. As a business man and manufacturer, I am especially pleased with his positive and statesmanlike position on the paramount issue of tariff reform, and his demand for an immediate downward revision. In sincerity, precise statement and comprehensive grasp of great principles and their application of the fundamental needs of the country, the speech is Jeffersonian to the core. It contains no appeal to passion and excites no prejudices. Governor Wilson has presented to his party and to the nation, clear conception of the truth that the real struggle in the pending campaign is between the concentrated powers of privilege and the aspiration of the American people to realize, in their government, and their economic, industrial and social relations, the full measures of the principles of freedom, justice and progress upon which the republic was founded. To all the issues and every national need, Governor Wilson applies the 'Rule of right and common advantage.' The reforms he advocates are far reaching, but they are necessary, sound and practical. The speech will awaken and stir the national conscience and lead to a triumph that will restore to the people the control of their government and inaugurate a new and happier epoch in the land and development of the republic."

Largest Stone Statue.
Japan has the largest stone statue in the world, a figure forty-four feet high.

Out on Grandpa's Farm.
O, you don't know the fun on grandpa's farm!
For grandpa says, "Let 'em, it ain't no harm."
An' Cousin Bob leads us, an' cries, "Here goes!"
An' mama—she only just says, "Such clothes!"

We've a Crusoe Island, an' Robber's Cave,
An' Tower of London, an'—don't you know.
When one of us lets on he wants to be brave,
He crawls under the saw-mill, scared an' slow.

O, you don't know half the fun out there!
For grandpa he never tells us, "Take care!"
An' Cousin Bob laughs, an' says to "carouse,"
An' mama, you know, is off in the house.

We fish in the brooks, an' play in the sands,
An' try to catch tadpoles out of the springs;
We hide in the bushes like Injun bands,
An' fight with the hornets an' get their stings.

O, there's plenty of fun on grandpa's place,
For grandpa, he says, "Now scoot on a race!"
An' Cousin Bob grins, an' says, "There she blows!"
An' mama—she only just says, "Such clothes!"
—F. H. Sweet.

American Field Fence at A. Jaeger, Jr.'s Hardware.

A certain preacher in Mexico was called one day last week to conduct the funeral of a twelve-year-old child which had died. He went to the home and waited for the neighbors and guests to gather, but they did not gather, only three adult persons coming in. Finally the preacher stepped into the room where the dead lay and there at the head of the coffin sat the bereaved mother and near her sat six children of the home. The minister went through with the service as best he could. As he finished and stepped outside the door one of the neighbors followed him and said: "I suppose you do not understand matters here. The husband of this bereaved mother, and father of these much-to-be-pitied little ones is now in the back yard drunk." Now what do you think of that? Should the churches have deserted that family? This is called a Christian community, but it does appear that many of us are not working at it very hard.—Mexico Message.

Hoosier and McSherry Grain drills at A. Jaeger, Jr.'s Hardware.

Estel Jackson and wife, of LaGrange spent part of the week with his father, John Jackson.

Gave An Important Order.
A rural postmaster tells this story of one of the patrons of his office, a boy of thrifty, not to say penurious stock. When the lad comes into the postoffice he will thrust his wizened face up close to the window and, in his slow, Yankee drawl, inquire most earnestly: "Hev ye got any postal cards?" "Yes," the postmaster replies.

Don't you wish you had a photograph of your great, great grandfather? Of course you can't have because there wasn't any photography in those days. But your great, great grandchildren can have photographs of you. And you owe something to posterity.

Miss Belle Johnson.

"How much be they t'day?"
"A cent a picee."
Then the boy, screwing up his eyes in the intensity of his thought over the question he has to decide always stops for a while to weigh the consequences. Finally, he will reply solemnly:
"Wal, I'll take one"—Youth's Companion.

Eastman Kodak and Supplies at A. Jaeger, Jr.'s Hardware

Raising a Chicken.
All things considered, from beginning to ending,
Hatching and catching, and feeding and tending,
Chasing and killing, and scalding, and picking,
There's a great deal of work about raising a chicken.
Watching the hen, while she's doing the hatching,
Watching her, too, while she's eating and scratching,
Guarding 'gainst hawks and pole-cats and rats,
Driving off crows and strange dogs and cats,
Always ready to give something a licking,
There's a great deal of care about raising a chicken. —Ex.

John Deere and Sattley Gang Plows at A. Jaeger, Jr.'s Hardware.

A writer in the Youth's Companion tells of an Ohio man's practical use of an abandoned farm. This man owns a 60-acre tract on which he no longer lives, and has planted the entire tract with trees. First he set out 35,000 Norway spruces, over an area of 11 acres. From that part of the farm he expects to reap a profitable crop of trees for holiday selling. In the place of the spruces, when removed, he expects to plant chestnut seedlings. By the time all the spruces are gone, the chestnut will come into bearing. In other parts of the tract he has planted catalpa, black locust, box elder and sycamore. Within five years the whole 60-acres will be in forest. Thousands of farmers in this country could profit by this sort of planting. On many farms there are rocky uplands that would bear valuable forests. Farmers who wish to take advantage of the high price of lumber, cannot do better than to plant in the unused parts of their farms such timber as is best adapted to them.—Coleman's Rural World.

Blue Bell Cream Separators at A. Jaeger, Jr.'s Hardware.

Good Things to Know.
When frying meats, fish, etc., and the stove becomes greasy sprinkle salt on the spots as soon as the frying is done and rub. The stove will be clean from grease.
When sweeping matting, to avoid tearing the fabric slip a covering of flannel over the broom. The flannel will take up the dust easily and will save the matting much wear.
Here is a way to paid the ironing board. First tack an old soft blanket about the board. Next put a layer of cotton batting and over this sew tightly unbleached muslin. Lastly put on the cover and the work is done.
The water in which onions have been boiled is excellent for cleaning gilt pictures frames. It not only removes specks and dirt, but brightens up the frames in a wonderful way. But it should not be used until quite cold.—Ex.

Henry Knapheide Farm wagons at A. Jaeger, Jr.'s Hardware.

Notice.
The report that I am only in the ice business while my present supply lasts is not correct. I am in the business as long as the season lasts. Do not be afraid to give me your orders. F. & M. phone 144. Bell phone 128. H. B. MUDD.