SPEECHES AT CORNELL BANQUET AWAKEN SPIRIT OF COLLEGE DAYS

PROFESSOR T. F. CRANE.
Dean of Cornell University, who was the honored guest at the St. Louis Cornell Alumni Association dinner last night at the University Club.

"Cornell, I Yell, Yell, Yell, Cornell."

The University Club was alive with Cornell spirit last night, the occasion being the annual dinner of the Cornell Alumni Association of St. Louis.

According to the annual custom, that of having some representative of the faculty as guest of honor, the dean of Cornell, Professor Thomas F. Crane was last night accorded the honor.

Professor Crane's address was looked forward to with a great deal of expectancy by the alumnists, all of whom had primed themselves for a good old-fashioned college-day after-dinner talk.

The Professor's remarks fulfilled expectations, and during his discourse carried his hearers back to scenes, which he encounters day by day, but which they had long since consigned to memories of youth. The result was spontaneous bursts of song and yells, which thrilled the hearts of the banqueters.

He reviewed the conquests of the Cornell crews, which have crowned the university with glory for the last quarter of a century and gave reasons for the supremacy of Cornell in the intercollegiate regattas.

He gave a most favorable account of the present condition of the university, both as to finance, equipment and attendance, stating that despite the calamity of the epidemic of typhoid fever of last year, there appeared on the roster of the university on October 10, 2,613 names, and on the same date of this year, 2,655, a gain of forty-three—this, under the circumstances, being a very marked advancement.

FACTOR IN SPORTS.

He said that Cornell would soon be more of a factor in general college sport, as the faculty had secured a fifty-three-acre plot of ground near the university, which would soon be in condition for athletic purposes.

Professor Crane is a native of New York. He was born in the metropolis in 1844, and was prepared for college at Ithaca, where his family has resided for many years; he graduated at Princeton in 1864 and studied law at the Columbia Law School, and then entered the law office of Boardman & Finch in Ithaca.

When the Cornell University opened, in 1868, he received a temporary appointment and then spent two years abroad, fitting himself for a professorship of Spanish and French. He has been, successively, assistant professor of French, professor of Spanish and Italian, and head of the department of Romance languages. Professor Crane was elected dean of the university in 1902. While President Schurman was absent in the Philippines he acted as president of the university.

Judge Franklin Ferriss, the oldest Cornell alumnus in St. Louis, and who was recently appointed general counsel of the World's Fair, acted as toastmaster. Judge Ferriss called upon each member for a few words, and many responded with humorous stories about other members. Telling tales out of school was the order of the evening.

Those present were: President William Trelease, Judge Franklin Ferriss, T. F. Crane, Charles H. Anderson, George J. Tansey, P. A. Wilson, Edmund F. Brown, H. C. Irish, Willis Brown, William B. Ittner, Cecil D. Gregg, R. J. Terry, P. P. Taylor, H. H. Humphrey, George P. Knox, A. B. Grover, W. B Holman, E. A. Drey, J. W. Taylor, E. B. Bentley, H. D. Ferriss, M. B. Colnon, Kelton E. White, Alden H. Little, Martin A. Seward, W. R. Bright, F. W. Meysenburg, E. C. Zeller and F. E. Sansch.

'CHANGE MEMBERS CONDUCT "BARE" RAID ON HARRY GAYS'S MUSTACHE.

Harry K. Gays, local representative of the Weare Commission Company, got something for nothing at the Merchants' Exchange yesterday. The apparent advantage gained by this unusual feat was offset by the fact that he did not want what he got and lost what he wanted.

Gag rule was applied; also lather, and Mr. Gays was not permitted to rise to a question of personal privilege. He was a big bull when it started and a little bare when it was all off.

That which Mr. Gays got was handed to him in installments by a committee of seven, aided and abetted by a barber. While many members of the Exchange watched with silent admiration the efforts of Mr. Gays's blonde mustache in its heroic struggle for existence, there were revolutionary spirits who saw in it a menace to the peace and dignity of the pit.

Leaders of the revolutionists were Phil Petri, Joe Lamy, Eugene Case, Rey Carter, Billy Noland, Chris Martin and Adolph Pasquier.

At a signal the committee rushed upon their victim, lifted him to their shoulders and ran down three flights of stairs to the basement. Into the barber shop they carried him, placed him in a chair, held him down and told the razor man to do his worst.

When the west half of his mustache had been removed the funmakers caught up their victim and carried him upstairs to show their fellow-conspirators how the job looked as far as it had got.

As one-half of his face was covered with a rich lather his appearance on the floor attracted members from all parts of the hall. After he had been exhibited the committee solemnly carried him back to the barber shop where the remainder of his mustache was removed.

Then his feelings were soothed in a manner well known to grain brokers and the committee resolved itself into an escort of honor to lead him back to the Exchange floor. Mr. Gay took it all good-naturedly, but he threatens to raise another mustache, be the consequences what they may.

GIRL CONFESSES TO STEALING $1,000 WORTH OF JEWELRY.

Servant at Clayton Is Identified by Five Victims, and Admits That She Robbed Three Other Women—Claims She Took Diamonds to Relieve the Poverty of Her Mother—Known to Victims by Several Aliases—Now Serving Out a Fine for Stealing Opera Glasses—Right Name Said to Be Mamie McLaughlin.

The servant girl who was arrested in Clayton Thursday afternoon after a chase by Mrs. T. H. Rogers was identified yesterday by five women who were her victims.

She has confessed to three other thefts committed in fashionable Cabanne residences. Most of the victims lost diamonds and other jewelry, the aggregate value of which totals more than $1,000.

When arrested the girl gave her name as Jennie Foster, and said she lived at No. 2819 Shenandoah avenue. Yesterday her mother called at Clayton jail and gave her name as Mamie McLaughlin and address No. 2513 Benton street.

Her victims, who called to see her during the day, knew her by other aliases. To one she was Florence Smith, to another Genevieve Hall, to another Florence Murray.

Those who identified Mamie were Mrs. A. L. Revely of Kirkwood, Mrs. J. C. Estes of No. 2834 Accomac street, and Mrs. G. T. Wade of Greenwood. Thursday she was identified by Mrs. W. G. Hutchins of Tuxedo.

Mrs. Harry Simonds of No. 5340 Ridge avenue is another one of her victims. Mrs. F. Hilliard of No. 5828 Etzel avenue also suffered by her peculations. The girl confessed to another robbery in the Cabbanne district yesterday, but forgot her victim's name and it is said that no police report has been made of it.

DEFENSE IS POVERTY.

Mrs. Revely was the first caller. She said the girl was known to her as Genevieve Hall and that she stole a gold watch and diamond ring from her in September. The jewelry was valued at $150.

Shortly after Mrs. Revely departed Mrs. Estes called. She lost a pearl sunburst and a gold ring, valued at $50. At the time she was living at No. 1725 Longfellow boulevard, next door to Police Captain Pickel, for whom the alleged robber also worked.

Mrs. Wade lost a diamond solitaire ring and a ruby ring, valued at $150. Mrs. Hilliard lost two gold rings, one set with diamonds, the other with an opal. She values them at $175. Mrs. Simonds lost a gold watch and chain valued at $30.

Mamie spent most of the day in tears. She begged that her disgrace be kept a secret, saying she had always been a good girl until about three months ago, when the poverty and distress of her mother caused her to resolve to do something to alleviate it, and that all she could think of was to steal.

She said she pawned the jewelry. An attempt will be made by her victims to recover their valuables.

Mamie is 20 years old. A charge of grand larceny has been preferred against her by Mrs. Hutchins, who was robbed of $345 worth of jewelry. A warrant was issued by Justice Campbell.

She pleaded guilty Thursday to the charge of stealing a pair of opera glasses from Mrs. Rogers, and is now serving out a fine of $1 and costs

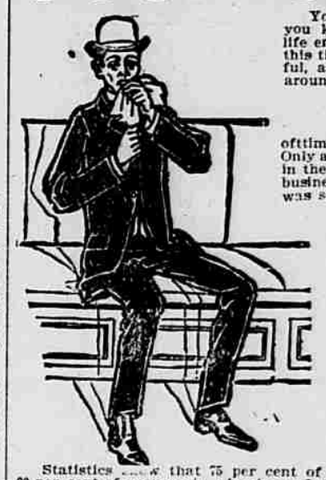
STOP COUGHING



You must stop that coughing at once, or before you know it your lungs will be affected and your life endangered by pneumonia or consumption. At this time of the year you must be particularly careful, as throat and lung troubles are hovering around, and ofttimes nearer than you can possibly imagine. Only a little while ago a strong, robust young man, in the prime of life, who lived at Elizabeth and did business in New York City, had a slight cough. It was so slight that he paid no attention to it and continued his office work. In four days it went to his lungs, and he died from pneumonia within a week. Many such cases are happening every day, and every one of them can be

DEATH IS NEAR

EASILY CURED BY

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY

The dose is a teaspoonful in a half glass of milk or water every two hours until the cough is relieved. It is a SURE CURE. It will cure any cough in twenty-four hours if the patient will use it as directed.

Statistics show that 75 per cent of all deaths are from lung troubles, and that 90 per cent of pneumonia, pleurisy and consumption begin with a slight cough allowed to run on without treatment. Nearly every case could have been quickly cured and prevented by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"Caught Cold; Let It Run; Dying of Consumption; Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey Cured Me."

This, briefly, is the story of a promising young man of Washington, D. C. He says: "I caught cold and let it run on. Thought it would get well, but it kept getting worse. I had bronchitis, with pains in my lungs. Pneumonia set in, and my doctor said nothing would prevent my dying of consumption.

"Fortunately for me, a cousin came to see me when he heard I was dying, and urged me to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Told me it had cured him of a bad case of pneumonia, and that he knew of lots of people it had cured of all kinds of throat, lung and stomach troubles.

"The change came before I had finished half a bottle. I felt stronger and more hopeful. I was so much better at the end of the second bottle that I could go out. Five bottles completely cured me. I have gained thirty pounds, and am to-day a strong, husky man, able to do a hard day's work alongside of any one. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey saved my life, and I recommend it to every one."

R. DORSEY, 1246 Florida Ave., N. W.

This is but one of some 4,000,000 cures made by Duffy's during the past fifty years.

It is so much better than any other medicine or combination of medicines for coughs, colds, catarrh, grip, bronchitis, pneumonia, consumption and all throat and lung troubles that it is prescribed by over 7,000 doctors and used exclusively in more than 2,000 hospitals. It's an absolutely pure, gentle, invigorating tonic and stimulant, which acts directly upon the tissues and quickly kills the disease germs.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey enriches the blood, stimulates the circulation, strengthens the heart and brings into healthy action all the vital forces of body, brain and muscle. It cures dyspepsia, nervousness, malaria, chills and all low fevers. Invaluable for all wasting, diseased conditions from whatever cause. Is a promotor of long life—makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey contains no fusel oil, and is the only whiskey recognized by the Government as a medicine. This is a guarantee.

CAUTION—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Unscrupulous dealers, mindful of the excellence of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations and malt whiskey substitutes, which are put on the market for profit only, and which, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. Demand "Duffy's" and be sure you get it. It is the only absolutely pure Malt Whiskey which contains medicinal, health-giving qualities. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold in sealed bottles only; never in flask or bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and be certain the seal over the cork is unbroken. Beware of refilled bottles.

Sold by all druggists and grocers, or direct, $1.00 a bottle. Medical booklet free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, New York.

CERTIFICATES THE ISSUE.

Judge Adams then took up the case of Venegoni and Cerriati, and said the issue was whether the certificates of naturalization in question were unlawfully made without Venegoni and Cerriati ever applying for them, or appearing before any court. The next step, whether they knew the papers were so unlawfully made, and the next whether they used the certificates to register and vote.

"If you determine all these matters in the affirmative," said Judge Adams, "you will find the defendants guilty as charged.

"If you further find that the defendants aided and abetted these principals in procuring and using false naturalization papers, you will find them guilty," added the Judge.

The fifth count in the indictments was then taken up and the jury was told that if it was believed that the Italians in question indicted under this count knowingly had in their possession false naturalization papers, with intent to use them for the purpose of registration and voting, they should find them guilty. Likewise, if they believed the defendants aided and abetted the Italians in procuring false naturalization certificates, the jury should also find them guilty.

In determining whether the Italians knew the papers were false, Judge Adams instructed the jury to take into consideration not only the evidence, but all the facts and circumstances brought out in the case. He also told the jury that it was necessary to find the principals had such guilty knowledge or it would be impossible to find the defendants guilty of aiding and abetting.

Instruction was then given as to the credibility of witnesses, and the usual rules of evidence as to the interest of the defendants and the necessity of corroborative testimony of facts testified to by any one of the witnesses laboring under turpitude of any kind was impressed upon the jury.

As to the previous good character of the defendants, the jury was instructed that it was to be considered as any other fact, and that in and of itself it constituted no defense, but must be taken with other facts.

The morning session of court was taken up with the arguments of Judge Chester H. Krum for the defense and Colonel D. Pat Dyer for the Government. Judge Krum began his argument Thursday afternoon and concluded it yesterday morning.

COLONEL DYER'S ADDRESS.

Colonel Dyer made the closing argument for the Government. He spoke for three hours and reviewed fully every phase of the case.

"No right-minded official," said Colonel Dyer by way of introduction, "would wish an injustice done any citizen of this Republic. I have no personal interest in this case other than the discharge of my duty, and if I did otherwise than my conscience told me I should do in this case, I should thrust, dishonored, my commission in the face of him who signed it.

"I have no feeling or prejudice in the case at bar. I never knew the defendants Dolan and Barrett before this investigation began. As to the defendant Barrett, I at all times received from him in the court of which he was Marshal nothing but the kindest and most gracious treatment."

Colonel Dyer then spoke of the gravity of the crime with which the defendants were charged, and said the offense was the result of the banding together of a lot of political nondescripts who cared neither for party nor principle, but only for the benefits and emoluments that would accrue from their nefarious practices.

"Conditions," said Colonel Dyer, "had become lamentable, appalling and revolting, a condition that should shock every law-abiding citizen in the community."

The evidence as to Garrett's participation was then reviewed, and Colonel Dyer contended that his connection was proven by the evidence of Barbaglia, Mrs. Barbaglia and Policeman Hefele, as against the evidence of Garrett that he was not there.

Colonel Dyer closed his argument with an expression of the hope that laws would be devised that would prevent the making of the United States the dumping ground of the scum of Europe.
