

SPEAKER CHAS. J. NOYES

Massachusetts' Great Statesman Cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura.

He Says: "Nothing else could have so invigorated and recreated my over-taxed nerves and debilitated vitality as Dr. Greene's Nervura."

HON. EX-SPEAKER CHARLES J. NOYES.

Hon. Ex-Speaker Charles J. Noyes, one of Massachusetts' greatest and foremost statesmen, a born leader of men, Senator, Representative, Judge, Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives for five years, and candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of the State, gives a glowing tribute and testimonial to Dr. Greene's Nervura for the wonderful cure it effected in his case and recommends it cordially to the people as the surest remedy to cure and the best medicine in the world.

Hon. Ex-Speaker Noyes tells you what this wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, has done for him, and advises you to take it, and get well if you are sick, weak, nervous, sleepless, debilitated, or run down in health. He assures you that it cured him and he is positive that it will cure you.

Here is what the great statesman, who has been nine times elected to the Legislature, says: "Nothing could have contributed so much to invigorate and recreate my severely taxed nerves and debilitated vitality as did this excellent medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. To all needing an invigorating and permanent restorative to nerve and body, this is the very best medicine within my knowledge or observation." If there is anything about your case you do not understand, write to Dr. Greene, 101 Fifth Avenue, New York City. His advice is free.

SPRING MILLINERY MAKES ITS DEBUT DESPITE THE WEATHER.

Flowers, Ribbons, Velvets and Airy Straw Hats Are in Sharp Contrast to the Ice and Snow—Fine Straws Will Be Extremely Fashionable—Point d'Esprit and Linen Lace Favorite Trimmings.

The first glimpse at spring and summer millinery is like looking into a conservatory from a snow-covered lawn. To begin with the art of exhibiting attractive fashions has reached a science that in millinery is especially noticeable, and the brilliantly lighted show cases and the brightly lighted shop windows are filled with hats intended for warm weather are simply fascinating.

Flowers, feathers, ribbons, velvet, satin and silk, and big streaming veils, the lightest of colors and the most airy light weaves of straw are in sharp contrast to zero weather and snow and ice, but none the less is there already a demand for these summer styles, both by women who always think it well to be ready in time and who also claim that by buying so far in advance of the season they are enabled to secure original models.

It is that as it may, of course there is another side to that question; the hair now exhibited are certainly alluringly attractive. Fine straws will, so it now seems, be extremely fashionable in white, black and all the lightest of colors. The shapes are many and various. Quite flat, with crown larger than the brim and trimmed with a small bunch or two bunches of roses, is the palest of pink straws, but draped over the crown, and in soft folds, with just enough falling over the face to grace it, is a veil is the most fascinating of white veils.

Almost without exception the new hats are trimmed with veils of lace of the finest mesh. Point d'esprit and linen lace veils are also fashionable and charming, in both real and imitation, is greatly in demand.

The fashion is a most becoming one, but the danger is, will be so copied that the may become too popular before the summer is over. There is nothing so becoming as a gracefully arranged lace veil, but it is not so easy as might be thought to arrange it, and consequently the original design is apt to be badly caricatured.

The white chip hats trimmed with garnet, and the black models, made with medium-sized round crown and rather wide brim that is turned up sharply at either side.

Around the crown is a wreath of the flowers, with bunches of them under the brim well toward the back, and yet not massed together at the back, as was the fashion last year.

ANOTHER HITCH PROBABLE IN SHIPYARD AFFAIRS.

Commonwealth Trust Company Has Not Assented to Compromise Plan Just Formulated.

New York, Feb. 5.—Although it was stated last night that the new plan of reorganization for the United States Shipbuilding Company, put out by the Reorganization Committee and received and assented to by Samuel Untermyer, on behalf of the Bondholders' Protective Committee, thus settling the main litigation between those parties, would be agreed to by all the large interests, there was no sign to-day that the Commonwealth Trust Company, successor to the Trust Company of the Republic, will take a position in accord with it.

It was universally stated that the Commonwealth Trust Company, as successor to the company financing the shipbuilding company, might, in assenting to a plan by which the shipbuilding stock is to be wiped out, make itself the butt of attack by stockholders bringing suit for the recovery of money invested in stock unless it should join forces with such litigants and place the responsibility elsewhere.

ROBBERS GAG A FARMER. Steal $1,500 and Leave Him Unconscious in Snow.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 5.—Two masked men bound and gagged Fred Snyder, a farmer residing near Clive, a small town five miles west of here, while he was milking to-day and secured $1,500 proceeds of a live-stock sale.

DAMAGE TO PEACH CROP LARGER THAN SUPPOSED.

Arkansas Yield Will Be Cut Down by the Cold Wave From 25 to 50 Per Cent.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Rogers, Ark., Feb. 5.—Reports from all parts of the Southwest agree that the freeze of January 25 was much more injurious than at first supposed, and that the Elberta peach crop has been seriously affected.

The temperature ranged from zero in Central Arkansas to 8 and 10 below in Southern Missouri and Kansas. It is very unusual that such a temperature at this season of the year will affect the peaches, but the mild weather that prevailed during the greater portion of January brought the buds out in advance of the regular time.

It is very unusual that such a temperature at this season of the year will affect the peaches, but the mild weather that prevailed during the greater portion of January brought the buds out in advance of the regular time. Some of the directors of the Commonwealth Trust Company, successor to the Trust Company of the Republic, will take a position in accord with it.

INDICATIONS POINT TO PAYING OIL FIELD.

Excitement Grows at Muscoke, L. T. and Stock Advances One Hundred Per Cent in a Day. The Elbertas are the earliest peaches of this section, and the most important shipping variety. All other budded peach trees have been killed, and have also sunk a quarter, but the seedlings, however, have no considerable loss.

YOUTH CAPTURES NEGRO BURGLAR AFTER STRUGGLE.

Arthur Leon, 16 Years Old, Finds Men Hauling His Home in St. Louis County. Arthur Leon, 16 years old, son of Mrs. Susan B. Leon, principal of the Welton School, captured a burglar in his mother's home at No. 1282 Delaware avenue, St. Louis County, Thursday evening about 7:30 o'clock.

The burglar, who gave his name as Henry Jackson, is a negro, about 5 feet 7 inches tall, 25 years of age and weighs about 155 pounds. An accomplice, who was assisting him in looting the house, escaped.

Mrs. Leon and her daughter, Maud, had gone to church and left a note on the front door for Arthur, asking him to come after them. They left a lantern burning to attract his attention. When Arthur entered the house he found the note and started to read it, when a man in the rear room called to him, asking, "Is that you, Henry?"

McCARVER CASE OPENS. Selection of the Jury Will Be Taken Up To-Day.
