

FLORENCE

OIL COOK STOVES

No watchful waiting in the kitchen that's equipped with a Florence Oil Cook Stove. No fretting and worrying about slow fires and poor draughts. The Florence Oil Cook Stove is ready for use day or night. Burns kerosene, a cheap and easily obtainable fuel. No wicks to trim or dampers to adjust. Simple to operate and easy to keep clean. All you have to do is to touch a lighted match to the asbestos kindler and quickly you have an intense heat directed by powerful burners close up under the cooking. The Florence Oil Cook Stove will cook, bake, boil and broil to the Queen's taste and do it with less care than any other stove. The heat can be regulated to quick, medium, or gentle.

The Florence Oil Cook Stove is very responsive. It gives an even, steady and concentrated heat. Temperature can be regulated to a nicety. That's why it bakes the most delicious pies and tempting cakes; that's why bread comes from the Florence Portable Oven crispy crusted and why steaks, roasts, and broils are done to a turn.

Workmen's Bill in a Muddle.

Jefferson City, April 14.—The situation over workmen's compensation legislation is becoming a deeper puzzle to officials here every day. The workmen's compensation act, put through the legislature largely by the organization of the legislative committee of the state federation of labor, was submitted to a vote of the people under referendum petitions. The validity of these petitions is now a matter of court inquiry.

Meantime, the labor organizations, not being satisfied with the state federation of labor bill, prepared a measure of their own and have submitted it to a vote of the people under the initiative. This is only one feature of the puzzle, although it appears hard enough to cause much future trouble.

It has been charged that the workmen's compensation bill approved by Governor Hyde is not the measure passed by the legislature, and that an error was made in enrolling the bill and features of other bills and amendments not adopted by the legislature were included. If this is a fact, the measure itself is worthless, and the courts would hold it void, even if the people should adopt it.

RAINDROPS

When you are inside, looking out, Watching raindrops dance about; Wishing they would clear away So you could scamper out to play— Think how the little green things dance.

In shower bath, they laugh and prance.

They shake their leaves, sway to and fro,

And sad they are when the raindrops go.

THE DUTCH TWINS.

Was McAdoo the Cause?

Washington, April 15.—Ex-President Wilson's letter repudiating the message given to the New York Democratic dinner by Joseph P. Tumulty and the consequent break between Mr. Wilson and his long-time devoted secretary, is regarded here by some Democratic leaders as certain indications that William G. McAdoo is planning to become a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1924.

Mr. Wilson's repudiation of the message to the Jefferson day banquet was actuated, in the opinion of leading Democrats, not because of the wording of the message delivered by Mr. Tumulty, as coming from Wilson, but because of the impression created that it was an indorsement for the re-nomination of James M. Cox.

Mr. Wilson, his friends say, is not for Cox for another nomination and does lean favorably toward the nomination of his son-in-law and former secretary of the treasury, who was runner-up to Cox at San Francisco in 1920. Party leaders insist McAdoo is maneuvering quietly for the nomination and this was one of the reasons for the recent removal of his residence from New York to California.

Hon. Thos. J. Smith returned this week from Hot Springs much improved in health.

Stewart Atchison and brother, of Deepwater, were in the city Saturday and favored us with a call.

Dr. J. W. Lowrey is now located in the offices formerly occupied by Dr. Walls, over the Boston Store.

W. H. Jupp has moved his paint shop to the rear of the Gordiner barber shop, where he can be found at all times.

Rice & Harper are having the Reynolds building overhauled and as soon as completed will move their drug store there.

Ned Forrest closed the revival meetings at the Ohio street M. E. church Wednesday night. There were 70 conversions during the meeting.

G. W. Hale, who has been in poor health for some time left last week for Leavenworth to enter the soldiers' home. He was accompanied by A. L. McBride.

Mrs. J. L. Ludwick took her departure one day last week for Dayton, Wash., where she will join her husband and make that place their future home.

In our announcement column will be found the name of the sterling Democrat, L. S. Paddock, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff.

T. L. Harper, of this county, is a candidate for railroad commissioner, and papers throughout this part of the country are promising him their earnest support.

It will be quite a surprise to Dr. Walls' friends in this city to learn that he has bought a drug store at Pendleton, Ore., and that he will remove to that city in the near future.

Pleasant Gap Musing: The Pleasant Gap school close last Tuesday. Miss Mellor, the teacher, was from Montrose and this was her second year at Pleasant Gap. Miss May Burrows is teaching the Orchard Grove school this spring.

Loyal Sons.

The Loyal Sons Bible Class had by far the best meeting of the year at the Easter services Sunday morning held at the Circuit Court room. Fifty-six members were present, being a material increase over last Sunday's attendance.

The teacher, H. O. Maxey, delivered a splendid address on the resurrection and was highly appreciated by the entire audience. The orchestra rendered several appropriate pieces and Herbert WeMott favored the class with an excellent solo.

A musical committee has been appointed and it is the object of the class to have a good musical program every Sunday. The class contest for membership is progressing fine and several new members are added to the list each Sunday.

A good program has been arranged for next Sunday and a full attendance is desired. May 14th the class will observe Mothers Day and no one should miss this service.

Everybody is invited to these services.
