CARS KILL 10,168 IN YEAR

Report for 1921 Shows California's Death Rate Highest.

Washington, Nov. 2.—There were 10,168 deaths from accidents caused by motor cars and other motor vehicles, excluding motor cycles, in 1921, in the death registration area of the United States, comprising thirty-four states and containing 82 per cent of the country's population, the census bureau announced today. That was an increase of 1,065 over 1920. The death rate per 100,000 population was 11.5 compared with 10.4 in 1920. California led all states in the death rate, while among the cities of 100,000 or more population Los Angeles led.

There was about 28 per cent increase in the motor car death rate from 1917 to 1921, while the actual number of deaths in twenty-seven states for which data is available increased 41.2 per cent. Deaths in the registration area by years were announced as follows: In 1917, 6,724; 1918, 7,525; 1919, 7,968; 1920, 9,103, and 1921, 10,168.

The rate per 100,000 in the cities was 15.8 last year, an increase of 0.8 over 1920. Total deaths in the cities numbered 4,415 last year, an increase of 299 over 1920. By years the deaths in these cities were as follows: In 1917, 3,207; 1918, 3,609; 1919, 3,898; 1920, 4,116, and 1921, 4,415.

Of the thirty-four states in the registration area, California had the highest rate with 24.4 per 100,000; Connecticut was second with 15.5, and New York third with 15.4. Mississippi has the smallest rate, 2.6, while South Carolina and Kentucky both had the next smallest with 4.3.

The largest increase in the rate per 100,000 for the states was in California with 3.3 more than in 1920, while New Hampshire showed the biggest decrease in the rate, it having been 2.8. Twenty-six of the states showed increases, seven decreases and one, Pennsylvania, showed no change in its rate.

New York state registered the largest number of deaths with 1,662, an increase of 222 over 1920, while Delaware had the smallest number with seventeen, a decrease of fifty-two.

Five Die in Oklahoma Storm.

Drumright, Ok., Nov. 4.—Five persons are dead, fifty others, many of whom are expected to die, are injured, 350 oil derricks and riggings are scattered over the countryside for ten miles, while between fifty and seventy houses are a complete ruin following a cyclone which struck the oil district south of here tonight.

The storm caused property damage estimated tonight at more than $3,000,000.

Heaviest losers are the Prairie Oil & Gas Co., the Gypsy Oil company, the Title Oil company, the Fuel Oil company and the Roxana Oil company.

The storm struck Drumright from the south.

Sweeping across the open Oklahoma flatlands the tornado tore into the oil field section, with its skeletons of oil derricks and frame houses, without warning.

Derricks — structures with their engine houses and equipment valued at from $10,000 to $25,000 each—fell like stacks of chips in the wind.

Sweeping northward into the oil settlement, blowing the fragments of the derricks before it, the storm struck the little community known as Oiltown.

Battered by the timber from the derricks houses crumpled and fell.

It was the supper hour. Most of the residents of the little town were in their homes. Houses fell about them a mass of debris.

MISSOURI NOTES

Within a week after receiving unusual honors in his profession, Dr. A. W. McAlester, 81, for many years dean of the school of medicine of the University of Missouri died at his home at Columbia. Death followed a relapse from heart trouble.

The open season for fur bearing animals in Missouri opened Nov. 1. A few days before that time a Johnson county man was arrested by game wardens for having 100 skunks in a pen on his farm in violation of the game laws. The 100 skunks were turned loose by the officers which should be good news to the poultry raisers of that community.

Elmer Dauphine, a police officer of Nevada, Mo., was arraigned Friday before George D. Beardsley, United States commissioner, at Kansas City, on a charge of violating the federal injunction to prevent interference with the operation of the Missouri Pacific shops there. Mrs. Eugene R. Hendrix, wife of Bishop Hendrix, died in their home in Kansas City Thursday night. She had been ill two weeks. Bishop and Mrs. Hendrix on June 20, this year, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. At that celebration all the couple's children, with the exception of one, were present. Mrs. Hendrix was Miss Annie Scarritt, a daughter of the Rev. Nathan Scarritt, pioneer preacher and citizen. She was married in 1872.

Eight illicit hooch-making devices were destroyed at the Pettis county jail Saturday by Sheriff W. H. Fewell and his deputies. The sheriff's forces took them out in front of the jail, where the chopping could be witnessed by passersby. They were the last of 100 similar machines confiscated by Sheriff Fewell all of the others having been destroyed. This number, the sheriff said, was more than the stills confiscated by all the other sheriffs of the state combined.

Reap the Reward of Perfect Health

Kennett, Mo.—"I think Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a blessing to weak women. It did wonders for me when nothing else gave me any relief. I had fainting sickness for about fifteen years and suffered all the pains and aches that women have when the organs are weak. I would have back-aches, pains in my side and bearing pains, and my kidneys became congested and did not function properly. I got so weak and nervous I could not do my work, it just seemed like I would never be well again. I had tried many medicines without results; at last I decided to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and by the time I had taken two bottles I was a well woman, and have kept well and strong since."—Mrs. Anna Jarrett, Box 331.

You'll be on the road to health if you purchase this 'Prescription' of Dr. Pierce's at your nearest drug store, in tablets or liquid.

The Strafford County jail, at Dover, N. J., closed three years for lack of prisoners, reopened Thursday with sixteen inmates. The superintendent said his institution had become necessary once more because of the widespread illicit manufacture and sale of booze.

Ex-Kaiser Weds at Doorn.

Doorn, Holland, Nov. 5.—The former German emperor, once all-highest of the empire, and Princess Hermine of Reuss were married today at the House of Doorn, where Wilhelm abides in exile. This second venture was in strange contrast with that day in 1881 when as crown prince he wedded August Victoria, daughter of Grand Duke Friedrich of Schleswig-Holstein.

Several of the offspring of that first union were present today to set the seal of family approval to the new alliance.

There were two ceremonies, a civil contract drawn up and signed by "Wilhelm II" and "Hermine, Reuss," as they affixed their names; and the second, a religious ceremony, conducted by the former court chaplain, Dr. Vogel, according to the Lutheran rites.

Two men giving the names of Charles Barto and Ben Clark, were arrested early Friday morning at Springfield by deputy United States marshals and are held in connection with the dynamiting of the Frisco railroad tracks near Marshfield. They were arrested by the officers near the scene of the explosion. Another man giving the name of Jack Welch is being held by authorities on suspicion. Welch was arrested near Nichols Junction.

215 Bonus Checks Await Claimants Who Cannot be Located.

Jefferson City, Mo., November 4.—There are in the hands of the Soldier Bonus Commission today 215 letters containing checks for the bonus due that number of former service men, who cannot be located through the addresses they gave in presenting their claims to the commission. These letters have all been returned by the Postal Department each labeled "uncalled for" or "not at address given."

terms of this kind is very small, as a little more than 104,000 checks have been mailed out.

Some time ago there were about 140 such returned letters and publication of the list resulted in a large number of the men who could not be found at the first address given being located and receiving their money.

The funeral of Mrs. Wilhelmina Ahlfield was conducted from the home, west of town Saturday morning at 10:30 by Rev. L. W. Keele.
