SADIE ROBINSON.
Pretty Girl Suffered From Nervousness and Pelvic Catarrh—Found Quick Relief in a Few Days.

NERVOUSNESS AND WEAKNESS CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

Miss Sadie Robinson, 4 Rand street, Malden, Mass., writes:

"Peruna was recommended to me about a year ago as an excellent remedy for the troubles peculiar to our sex, and as I found that all that was said of this medicine was true, I am pleased to endorse it.

"I began to use it about seven months ago for weakness and nervousness, caused from overwork and sleeplessness, and found that in a few days I began to grow strong, my appetite increased and I began to sleep better, consequently my nervousness passed away and the weakness in the pelvic organs soon disappeared and I have been well and strong ever since."

Address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O., for free medical advice. All correspondence strictly confidential.

The prosecuting attorney of Butler county has taken issue with Game Warden Rodes on his construction of the section of the game law which requires the taking out of license.
The prosecuting attorney, Mr. Davison, construes the law to mean that a man is not required to take out a license to hunt in his own county and says he will refuse to prosecute any hunter arrested on that charge, until after the courts have passed upon that point. Hon. D. W. Hill, speaker of the last house, which passed this law, offers to defend anyone free of charge, arrested under Rodes' construction of that section. The county clerk of that county have advised all applicants that owing to the different constructions placed upon the law, a license is unnecessary at present.
Attorney-General Hadley says that while the game warden construction until the courts have passed upon that section.

Put Bridal Couple in Cage.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 8.—Following the marriage Thursday night of Miss Louise Timmis and F. C. Zimmerman, at the residence in Wood street of the Rev. Mr. Anny, pastor of the the Rowan Avenue Christian church, the couple were kidnapped as they were leaving the house. A cage similar to those used in a menagerie was secured and chairs were placed inside. Although the couple fought in the grasp of their friends they were forced inside the vehicle and soon made the best of it. Guards of honor burned red fire and threw rice through the bars at the imprisoned couple all the way to the railroad station.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs.
John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did.
She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by Frank T. Clay, druggist, at 50c a bottle.

ROCKEFELLER IN FEAR INCREASES HIS BODYGUARD.

Exhortations to Renewed Vigilance Said to Have Been Given Retainers About Forest Hill,
His Cleveland Home.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 18.—John D.
Rockefeller's fears for his personal safety have again become paramount. The bodyguard at Forest Hill has been increased and it is said to have received renewed exhortation to vigilance. Predictions are added that Rockefeller will forego his frequent appearances in public until the agitation shall have died away. It is confidently pointed out that he is much more sensitive to appearance than is commonly supposed, and so, even if unafraid for his life, he would hesitate before appearing at his church or elsewhere while the revived scandal is a present sensation.

The present controversy with Ida Tarbell, during which that woman's magazine article has gained broad circulation, has made the oil king nervous and it is said that he fears that some crank who might have become convinced of the veracity of the printed statements made may attempt his life.

Rockefeller has always lived more or less in seclusion while in Cleveland but has never failed to attend Sunday school regularly. Now his residence on Forest Hill is well nigh unapproachable. His private secretary cannot even be seen. The utmost vigilance is being maintained by the attendants at the Forest Hill residence and every intruder, no matter what might be his errand, is closely questioned and practically ordered off the premises after a brief hearing.
Never before was such vigilance the rule.

A great sensation has been caused in Cleveland by John D. Rockefeller's action in breaking the silence of years in order to reply in print to the statements of Miss Ida Tarbell.

But Miss Tarbell is right back at him today, saying: "I see nothing in the statement to make me revise what I have written in the case of Corrigan vs. Rockefeller.

Greatly in Demand.

Nothing is more in demand than a medicine which meets modern requirements for blood and system cleanser, such as Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are just what you need to cure stomach and liver troubles. Try them. At Frank T.
Clay's drug store, 25c., guaranteed.

Judge Scott's Body Moved.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 15.—The body of the late Judge William Scott of the Missouri State Supreme Court is being removed from the grave in which it was laid at Scott's Station, eight miles west of Jefferson City, 40 years ago, and will be buried in the State Cemetery in this city.

This is in pursuance of an act of the last General Assembly, which provided for the removal and appropriated $700 for erecting a monument in the cemetery here.

Levi L. Scott, a well-known attorney of Nevada, Mo., and a son of Judge Scott, is here superintending the removal.

Judge Scott was one of the most able lawyers that ever sat on the Missouri Supreme bench. Decisions by him are still standard.

To Invite Togo to New York.

New York, July 18.—The committee named by Mayor McClellan to consider plans for submission to the next mayor for the centenary celebration in 1907 of the first use of steam in water navigation, has decided to send an invitation to Vice Admiral Togo of the Japanese navy to attend on his flagship.

CHRISTIAN CONFERENCE AND CHAUTAUQUA.

El Dorado Springs July 26th To August 6th, 1905.

The morning and afternoon sessions of each day will be in the nature of a bible conference, while the evening will be devoted to lectures and musical entertainment. Among those who will make addresses during the Chautauqua are President Lowell McAfee, of Park College; Rev.
Dr. Kerr, president of Westminster College; Rev. G. P. Bradt, of Wichita, Kansas; Rev. Henry Little of Springfield, Mo.; Rev. G. P. Batty, of Kansas City.

The evening entertainments will include lectures by Rev. Samuel Garvin, Frederick Stanley, D. D., Hon Walter Williams, Rev. Matt S.
Hughes, D. D., Rev. Wm. Carter, Ph.
D., and Wm. H. Walla e

The Kansas City Quartette will give a musical number on Monday evening, August 3. There will be a variety of other attractions.

Efforts are being made to secure the presence of Gov. Folk for at least one day. A special low rate has been secured on the railroads for those who may wish to attend the Chautauqua.

The El Dorado Springs Commercial Club is standing back of this movement, which of itself will go far towards the success of the undertaking.

Special low rates have been secured at the leading hotels and private boarding houses, while tents will be provided for those who desire to use them at a rental barely sufficient to cover expense.

Squeezed By Big Snake.

Shenandoah, Pa. July 18.—A black snake, seven feet nine inches long, coiled itself about Thomas Brennan when he tried to dislodge it from a tree near Brandonville, where it was devouring the featherless young bird in a bird's nest.

His ribs were nearly cracked from the terrible pressure exerted by the snake, but Brennan grasped the serpent's neck with his left hand as the head swayed to and fro in front of him and, drawing a clasp knife from his pocket with his hand opened the blade with his teeth and severed the serpent's head. His body was black and blue about the ribs from the coil of the snake.

The Stock Law.

The Troy, (Mo.) Free Press editorially says: A number of our exchanges are in error, when they say that it is unlawful for stock to run at large anywhere in the state. The stock law is in effect only in those counties which have adopted it by a vote of the people and the only change made in this law by the last legislature is in the matter of restraining stock. Any person may take up stock running at large unlawfully and it is by the recent change made the special duty of the constable to do so. A man who does not like to take up his neighbor's stock can now avoid that unpleasant task by notifying the constable of his township.

A Human Blood Expert Dead.

Boston, July 18.—Prof. Edward S.
Wood of the Harvard medical school an expert in examining human blood, is dead at his summer home at Pocasassa. He had been ill several months. He was born in Cambridge in 1846. He gave expert testimony in many murder trials. His last appearance in court was in the trial of Charles L. Tucker, who was convicted last winter of the murder of Mabel

Missouri Banker a Suicide.

St. Louis, July 18.—Without warning of the deed, E. W. Warfield, cashier of the St. Louis County Bank at Clayton, a suburb, shot himself through the head today while seated at his desk, and sank lifeless. He was 60 years old, had been identified with the bank for years and was considered one of the wealthiest men in Clayton. It is supposed that brooding over ill health caused him to take his life.

Mr. Warfield had been transacting business all morning and gave no intimation that he contemplated suicide. Suddenly, while he was alone, he drew the pistol and killed himself. He leaves a widow and four children for whom he had just completed a handsome residence.

Them to Let Her Die.

Macon M., July 18.—"Nobody loves me; not a soul on earth will weep when I am gone. There ain't a person to be glad if I am well. Just let me be and don't bother me."

These dejected observations came from the lips of a tiny bit of woman in the operating ward of the county infirmary last night. Ellen McCarty, 65 years old, a pauper, had tied a blanket to her iron bedpost thrown one end out the window and slid down as far as she could. Then she dropped twenty feet, alighting on the stone pavement. Nearly every bone in the fra' body was broken and recovery is impossible. She begged the attending physicians not to worry over her as she had lived long enough.

Hunter's License to a Woman.

Sedalia, Mo., July 14.—Mrs. J. H.
Rodes, wife of Missouri's state game warden, made application today in the county clerk's office for a hunter's license. She tendered the legal fee and a permit was issued in her name.
Mrs. Rodes is a leader in local society and musical circles and enjoys hunting and fishing. She probably is the first woman in the state to secure a hunter's license.

Sam Jones Scores Lawson.

St. Louis, July 15.—Rev. Sam P.
Jones, the evangelist who spends much of his time addressing Chata-qua assemblies, does not have a very high opinion of Thomas W. Lawson, his fellow platform "attraction." Rev. Jones was at the Southern hotel yesterday.

"I have not much faith in Lawson," he declared. "He turned states evidence on some of his old cronies.
If he had desired to do the proper thing he would have retired from the business which he condemns them for following."

One Way to Treat Servants.

From the New York Press.
There is a shrewd Scotchman not far away whose management of servants is the wonder of the neighborhood. In twenty years he has never spoken to one of his domestics. If the breakfast is vile, he does not speak to the cook, but quietly leaves the table. It looks like a case of injured innocence and the cook is duly humiliated. He never hires, or allows his wife to hire, a servant a second time. No sort of familiarity is tolerated. "Treat servants as you would treat common soldiers," he says.
"Discipline, discipline, discipline—yet kindness and consideration."

An Expensive Hen.

Lafayette, Ind., July 18.—If the detailed record is ever written there will be found on the court books of Benton county an interesting chapter on "how a 50 cent hen cost $200." One whole day of the court's time was set aside for the trial of the hen and those interested in the case. The hen itself was in the court room and faced the jury without a quaver.

Tom O'Conner accused his neighbor, Mrs. Bud Moore, of stealing one of his hens valued at 50 cents.

Sickening Shivering Fits of ague and malaria, can be relieved and cured with Electric Bitters. This is a pure, tonic medicine; of especial benefit in malaria, for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system.

It is much to be preferred to quinine, having none of this drug's bad after-effects. E. S. Munday, of Henrietta, Tex., writes: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, still he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life. At Frank T. Clay's

THE LOCATION OF SCOTT'S MINE A DEEP MYSTERY.

Chunks of Gold Blasted Out—No Stock For Sale Says
Scott.

Denver, Colo., July 15.—The wealth of Walter Scott, the eccentric miner who recently made a hurried trip from Los Angeles, Cal., to Chicago, by special train, is in a gold mine, the location of which he will not divulge, and the value of which none can estimate, for no one has seen it.
For two years he has gone with a four mule pack team into Death Valley, Cal., and returned to Barstow with the animals loaded down with sacks of ore that is almost pure gold. The mine is located somewhere in the mountains that rim Death's Valley.

Of his property Scott says:
"I do not know what the extent of ore body is. All I know is that the ore can be blasted out, broken up with a hammer, and the rich, yellow chunks picked out and sacked. No one can buy my mine for any price, for it is as good as any quantity of money to me."
