Mrs. ROBERT H. NORRIS

I Suffered with Kidney Trouble.

Mr. Robert H. Norris, 566 East 11th St., East Oakland, Cal., writes: "We have never had any other medicine but Peruna in our home since we have been married. "I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble, but two months' treatment with Peruna made me a well and strong man. "My wife felt weak and was easily tired and was also troubled with various pains, but since she took Peruna she is well and strong. "We are both very grateful to you and gladly do we give this unsolicited testimonial, feeling that it is the least we can do in return for what Peruna has done for us."

Catarrh Entirely Relieved.

Mr. Ira Henney, Fairfield, Freestone Co., Texas, writes: "I am completely cured of all symptoms of catarrh. "I can truly say that Peruna is the best medicine I ever saw. I will always recommend Peruna to all my friends, for catarrh."

Catarrh of Head.

Mr. C. Hallock, Antwerp, Ohio, writes: "My daughter Allie, after taking three bottles of your Peruna, is entirely cured of catarrh of the head of two years' standing. We recommend Peruna to anybody who has catarrh." Peruna is manufactured by the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Vaudeville.

The young people of Butler are now rehearsing daily under the direction of Miss Fanny Catron for the big Vaudeville Show to be given for the benefit of the Cemetery Association at Opera House Thursday, Oct. 27th. Besides many costumed songs and dances there will be the original play, "The Toy Shop," a drama in which over forty children will take part. The entertainment will close with the two act comedy, "Wreck of Stebbins Pride." The show promises to be one of the best ever given in Butler. Remember the date, Oct. 27.

FOR SALE—Muscova ducks and blue ribbon Brama Cockerels. Bargains to buyer of 4 or more if taken soon.

HER PHYSICIAN APPROVES

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabattus, Maine.—"You told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before child-birth, and we are all surprised to see how much good it did. My physician said 'Without doubt it was the Compound that helped you.' I thank you for your kindness in advising me and give you full permission to use my name in your testimonials."—Mrs. H. W. MITCHELL, Box 3, Sabattus, Me.

Another Woman Helped. Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."—Mrs. CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Proverbs of Various Countries.

The Greeks, wishing to cast doubt upon a man's probity, declared him to be "A sheep with a fox's tail," which answers to our "Wolf in sheep's clothing." "All's well that ends well" bears a strong likeness to the German "Ende gut, alles gut." There is a lengthy Oriental proverb, "Let a cur's tail be warmed, pressed out straight and swathed with bandages; if released after twelve years it will nevertheless return to its natural shape." It is easy to trace the similarity to our "You cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear."

To Keep Out Moths.

People who dislike the odor of moth balls should know that bags of dried tansy placed among the woolen garments will answer every purpose of keeping out moths, and with none of the disagreeable odor which is sure to tell the story of moth balls. Make small bags of thin white muslin and fill them with the dried crushed leaves and sew up. Place half a dozen of these in the packing box and the moths will vanish.

Windmill Country.

The great windmill country is Argentina. Plenty of water from 15 to 300 feet underground throughout the vast, level, unbroken plain, as extensive in area as one-third of this whole United States, but all like our prairie lands; and wind blowing across the even stretches all the year around. The grazing lands are dotted with windmills, and Argentina keeps on importing them, chiefly from Yankeland, at the rate of more than a thousand a month.

Preacher's Neat Rebuke.

Not long ago a London preacher indulged in a little bit of sarcasm over a small collection. And he did it very neatly in a preface to his sermon on the following Sunday. "Brethren," he said, "our collection last Sunday was a very small one. When I looked at the congregation I said to myself, where are the poor? But as I looked at the collection when we counted it, I exclaimed, Where are the rich?"

Edible Seaweed.

Many kinds of seaweeds have long been eaten. "Dulse and tangle" was once a common cry in the streets of Edinburgh, both being seaweeds, and in Chili yet a third variety is used as food. In the Swan river settlement in Australia and other places seaweed jelly frequently appears on the bill of fare, while the edible birds' nests of China are edible because the birds use seaweed as a building material.

Folly of Anticipating Evil.

Never anticipate an evil. The dog does not suffer so much as the man, because he does not feel any pain until the blow that hurts him has been struck, while the man fears that he will be struck, and so suffers twice instead of once. An eastern proverb says: "He is miserable once who meets with ill-fortune, but twice who fears it before it comes."

Scientific Farming Pays.

Detroit News
Doctor J. L. Snyder, president of the Michigan Agricultural College, is undoubtedly right in his declaration that there is no danger of all the money nor all the brains forsaking the land. There is profit—and good profit—in farming, and men are not likely to forsake permanently any occupation returning them a profit. But agriculture today is a science, and the unscientific farmer cannot accumulate riches. That condition explains, in a measure, this movement away from the farms. As men fit themselves for the new sort of agriculture, the land will come under general, under more intensive and more fruitful tillage. Then the few who are now making large profits on scientific farming will find their profit falling somewhat, but still enough to make their occupation worth while.

Land is still subject to every law of economics, and no amount of artificial means can either entice men to an economically unalluring business or draw them away from a productive one. Under his application of scientific methods, land which is today submarginal will rise into the producing class, and as sure as it does it will hold its farmer.

Old sofas, cloth-covered chairs and all cloth-covered furniture can be made to look like new by painting the cloth with a hot solution of PUTNAM FADELESS DYE.

Apples Bring 25 Cents Each.

Cashmere, Wash., Oct. 16.—E. P. Groves, an orchardist at Cashmere, has several trees growing apples so large that, but twenty-seven can be packed in one box. The apples are known as the black Ben Davis and are fully five inches in diameter. He has contracted every one of the apples at a figure approximately 25 cents each.

Out of his orchard he picked five red apples that fill a half bushel basket and ten of them fill a common apple box. These apples are growing on 3-year-old trees, about fifty apples to a tree. These are believed to be the largest apples grown in the northwest this year.
