ALLIED ARMIES WILL ATTEMPT TO TAKE LIEGE

Begin General Offensive Movement Along German Front and Flank in Belgium.

FRENCH CAVALRY RAIDING BEHIND KAISER'S LINES

With Import Duties Gone, War Tax May Be Necessary—Industries Crippled—Warning About China Given.

Washington, Aug. 11.—In seven days from the time England and Germany simultaneously declared war on one another, the night of August 4, more than half the earth's surface became embroiled in the great European conflict.

The situation is decidedly complicated and will become more so. England, France, Russia and Belgium are officially at war with Germany. England and Belgium, however, were not at war with Austria up to the night of August 11, and France did not declare war on Austria, German's staunch ally, until the night of August 10. Servia and Montenegro are at war with Austria but not with Germany. Austrian and German allies are moving against France and Russia only.

Italy forsook her alliance with Germany and Austria, and when Germany protested Italy threatened to line up with the allies and fight defensively to protect her neutrality. Portugal has officially declared her friendship for England and Japan, remembering her alliance with Britain, is prepared to aid the British against German activities in the Far East.

The Week's Losses.

During the week of fighting in Europe 100,000 men, the physical pick of Europe, were killed or wounded. A billion of money was spent for troop transportation and ammunition. Numerous villages were destroyed. Hundreds and hundreds of acres of crops were trampled. Some cities were badly damaged by bombardment. Millions of poor are feeling the pinch of hunger.

Yet the activities of the great armies, vast machines of death and destruction, have only just started. Not a single historic battle has been fought, say military experts. So far there have been only skirmishes on land and sea.

Attempting to sweep across Belgium, a country little larger than the state of Massachusetts, and one to France, a German army of 100,000 met strong opposition at Liege, Belgium, an important city on the Belgian-German frontier. After four days of fierce fighting the Germans took the city, but they couldn't take the surrounding forts which the Belgian defenders declare are impregnable.

Big Battles Coming.

The French have entered Alsace-Lorraine, a territory taken from them during the Franco-Prussian war of 1870. It is reported that important battles will occur about August 15 between an army composed of 1,000,000 French, British and Belgian allies and a German army of 1,000,000, in Alsace, and between a large allied army and a German army, near Namur, Belgium.

A great sea battle is predicted between the combined fleets of England, France and Russia and that of Germany, in the North sea. The fleets have been maneuvering for more than a week.

The European conflict is having a serious effect in the United States. Import taxes have practically ceased. On account of this loss of revenue it may be necessary soon to impose a special war tax. Industry here has been seriously hurt; especially the rubber industry, and various machine-making lines. Cotton trade with Europe is practically dead. And the United States may have to send a considerable force to China to protect all foreigners. Secretary Bryan has notified the fighting nations that the neutrality of China must be respected and that the United States will undertake to see that it is preserved.

To Attack German Flank.

London, Aug. 11.—A general offensive movement by the French and Belgian forces has begun. The object is to retake Liege and expel the German invaders from Belgium.

Allied cavalry, supported by field artillery and mounted auxiliary forces, met the German outposts north of the Meuse. This flying column is attempting to turn the kaiser's right flank, it is believed.

Fought in Close Order.

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent, who witnessed much of the Liege fighting, says the German artillery firing was excellent, but expressed surprise at the infantry in fighting in close order. Battalion after battalion was thrown into the fight in solid formation, but, he adds, the estimate of 25,000 losses was an exaggeration.

Allied Troops Advance.

Brussels, Aug. 11.—The main allied army, composed of Belgian, French and English troops, has pushed its advance out of Louvain. Raiding cavalry columns have passed behind the German lines, burning bridges and destroying railroad tracks.

The German forward movement is now toward the River Ourthe. Skirmishing parties are retiring on the main force. Defensive works are be-

LONDON COMMITTEE AIDS THE STRANDED AMERICANS

Agents Meet Incoming Trains to Care for Women Passengers.

London, Aug. 10—Many Americans who arrived in England on the White Star line steamer Oceanic already are applying to the American relief committees for cash and a return passage to the United States. The passengers who were released from the Hamburg-American line steamers Kronprinzessin Cecilie and Prinz Adalbert interned at Falmouth also are applying for aid.

The German steamship lines refuse to grant refunds on ticket deposits, travelers being given only now transferable orders on the New York offices of the companies.

Theodore Hetzler of New York, head of the Citizens' committee, said that his committee was working in complete harmony with the London citizens' committee.

Because of "white slave" agents representing themselves as committee agents, the committees appointed three agents, two of them women, to meet all incoming trains. Three American girls who were approached in a railroad station by false agents said their suspicions were aroused by the kind of lodgings to which they were recommended, whereupon they escaped. The police have now assigned detectives to arrest suspicious characters.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Secretary Bryan announced that the American government was in communication with all European embassies and legations and that every effort was being made to care for Americans in all parts of the continent.

For many days the state department had been unable to communicate with Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, but communication has now been established through Copenhagen.

BRITISH CAPTURE A LINER?

Cruiser Essex Reported to Have Caught Kronprinz Wilhelm While En Route to Germany.

New York, Aug. 11.—Strict censorship over the cables leading out of Bermuda are keeping hidden from public knowledge the fate of the North German Lloyd steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm, which took 6,000 tons of coal out of this port under cover of darkness last week before the battleship Florida began its enforcement of the neutrality laws.

The British cruiser Essex has captured the German liner and is taking her, a prize of war, into Hamilton, Bermuda, according to wireless messages declared to have been overheard at sea. The Associated Press correspondent at Bermuda indicated, in a cryptic dispatch, that he had information which he had not been allowed to communicate by cable. This message came in response to one informing the correspondent of the reported capture of the Kronprinz Wilhelm.

Opera Singer to Jail.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 10.—Florencio Constantino, the opera singer, has been surrendered at the Charles Street jail by his sureties, and locked up for debt. The tenor was arrested about a year ago on a judgment for $30,000 brought by Oscar Hammerstein.

London, Aug. 11.—The Hamburg-American line steamer Cape Ortegal, with five million dollars in specie aboard, has been captured by the British, according to the Daily Mail. The liner sailed from Buenos Aires July 16 for Southampton.

Belfort, Aug. 11.—The French surgeons who have been caring for the wounded in the fighting in Lower Alsace report that the French bullets appear to make more serious wounds than those of the German rifles.

Now at this day comes the plaintiff herein, by his attorneys, and files herein his petition under oath, alleging among other things that the defendant, George W. Ludwick is a non-resident of the State of Missouri and can not be served with the ordinary process of law herein, and further alleging, that he verily believes there are persons interested in the subject matter of his petition, whose names he can not insert therein, because they are to him unknown; that the respective claims or interests of such unknown persons are derived by them from one or the other of the following named deceased persons, to-wit: Peter H. That Jacob Lutsenhizer outained title to a part of the real estate hereinafter described by a deed recorded in the office aforesaid in Book C, at page 150, dated in 1855, and by will attempted to dispose of the same which will so indefinately describes said real estate, that the same can not now be ascertained, whereby his heirs at law appear to have an interest in said land.

Whereupon, it is ordered by the clerk, in vacation, that the said defendants be notified by publication, that plaintiff has commenced a suit against them in this court, the object and general nature of which is to divest the said defendants and each and all of them of all right, title and interest, that they or any of them may have, in or to the following described real estate lying and being situate in Bates county, Missouri, to-wit: The south east quarter of the south east quarter of Section Fifteen (15); also that part of the south west quarter of the south east quarter of Section Fifteen (15) described as follows: Beginning at the south west corner of said tract, and running north to the center of the channel of Deepwater creek; thence down said creek to the south line of said section fifteen (15); thence west to the place of beginning.
