LOCAL PARAGRAPHS. —Blow. —Healthy coast. —Stereopticon to-night. —Carey is now in his new store. —Biloxi items crowded out this week.

—Chow Jackson's best party tobacco. —See advertisement of bridge notice in another column. —Several divorce cases were disposed of in our chancery court this week.

—Isn't it about time for another twining of the orange to take place? —Read the law card of C. E. Chidsey, to be found in another column.

—We still have a few of those beautiful lace and gilt edge visiting cards. —Mobile has again quarantined New Orleans. Three cases of yellow fever was the cause.

—Rev. J. E. Thigpen has employed Miss A. DeLuna as assistant teacher in his school. —We would call the attention of oyster shippers and others to the fact that we have on hand a supply of shipping tags.

—Rev. J. E. Thigpen will preach at the Moss Point Baptist church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. All are invited to attend. —Young men who go calling on the ladies should not keep them standing out on the gallery too long these nights; they are liable to take cold, you know.

—Board of health, chancery court and board of supervisors met last Monday. The democratic executive committee tried to meet, but failed for want of a quorum. —Mrs. S. Booth's school on Pickett street received several additional scholars Monday, and several more will start next week. Her school is in a healthy condition.

—A heavy gale prevailed along our shore last Monday night, and at one time it was thought great damage would be done. After looking around Tuesday, we could learn of no accidents. —Teachers meeting of the Scranton Sunday-school held every Friday night in the academy building. All who are interested in the Sabbath-school work are invited to attend. —Prof. T. L. Rose & Co. will give another of their stereoptical exhibitions at the Scranton academy to-night. These exhibitions cannot be excelled, and is well worth witnessing. Let all attend and take their "cousins, their sisters and their aunts."

—A game of base ball was played at the Seashore Wednesday afternoon between the Nationals and Dread Nots, for the flags, the Nationals coming off victorious. The score stood 20 to 14. Afterward they played another game, when the score stood: Nationals, 12; Dread Nots, 5.

—Our young friend, Mr. Chas. E. Chidsey, was examined before a committee of lawyers, composed of Messrs. Seal and Hiedelberg, last Monday, and passed a very creditable examination. He was granted license to practice and is now a full grown attorney and counsellor at law. Chidsey deserves credit for the proficiency he has attained in the profession of his choice. He has been studying Blackstone only about year, but as he has a most remarkable memory he retains everything he reads, is very studious in his habits, and will no doubt make an eminent lawyer.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Messrs. Rose, McClure & Co., the celebrated photographic artists, who have been spending some weeks at Moss Point. The citizens of that place speak in highest praise of these gentlemen as artists and also as to their stereoptical exhibitions, and from what we have seen of their work, we can fully commend these gentlemen to the public. They have established a photographic art gallery at the old stand on Pascagoula street, opposite B. F. Pickett's residence, where our citizens can have their pictures taken in the highest style of the art.

Ellisville Items. Prof. Wall has left us. Prof. Willis Wood is absent. Business good and chickens fat. Fresh goods coming in every day.

Jones is the champion county for candidates. The political fever has assumed the synochal grade. Buy your goods in Ellisville. You can't do better between Mobile and Meridian.

The red flag over Wall's tent raised the yellow fever excitement. Some were afraid to go near the tent. Messrs. S. V. Sumrall, C. J. Favre and Clark Jordan each had the misfortune to lose a child a few days ago.

There seems to be some dispute as to whether McCaskill or Hindleson gave the lower counties each a representative. There is no use of quarrelling over this. Everybody knows that J. L. Meade is the man that introduced the bill, then McCaskill and Hindleson put it through. Honor to whom honor is due, always.

Pass Christian Items. Healthy. Stormy weather. Live shrimp five cents per dozen. Dr. G. N. Smith has been appointed by the national board of health to investigate the yellow fever at Mississippi City.

If one would form an idea as to the number of people and conveniences here let him visit the depot Sunday evening as the train leaves for New Orleans. The ladies' aid society of Trinity church contemplate giving an entertainment for charitable purposes. Whether charades, tableaux or dance and supper, will be decided at their next meeting.

The fast schooner yacht Hattie, Holley, captain, takes out excursion parties at $5 per day. The Hattie is provided with every comfort and convenience for ladies, and Capt. Holley is one of the most accomplished sailors and experienced pilots on the coast.

Monroe Campbell, colored, has just returned from Kansas. He says he was very much pleased with the country and fine stock, but wood was very scarce and he thought people would freeze to death there in winter. He says he is satisfied to live on the coast.

Semi-lithargic Frank Gazzo has astonished the natives of the Pass with the skeleton of the head of a crocodile whale or some of the family of the Sauria or cetacea. The skeleton measures three and a half feet in length by two and a half feet in breadth. The teeth, which were large and numerous, are missing. Scientists will please call and examine.

Sea-sickness has lost its terrors for the ladies, judging from the almost daily sailing parties on the yachts Hattie, Cayuga and Tempest. With sailing suits of blue blunting, trimmed with white, without crinolines or panniers, they are at once irresistible and prepared for all emergencies.

The eastern end of our town has been very lively within the last six weeks. First, a dancing party was given at the residence of Mr. A. V. Davis, a most courteous and genial host; second, a domino party at the same hospitable mansion, which was speedily succeeded by a phantom party at the summer home of Mr. Thomas Herndon, of New Orleans.

The American Club (colored), for the benefit of the New Orleans auxiliary sanitary association gave an immense excursion on Monday, Aug. 25, to Pass Christian. The party numbered about 1200, and held their picnic at Phenix park, which Mr. Robert Boyd, the proprietor, rendered free of charge. No fights, no drinks, and all expressed themselves pleased with the trip, and particularly with the park.

Bay St. Louis Items.

Litigation is largely increasing in consequence of a growing public confidence in the integrity of lawyers and an honest administration of the court. The county supervisors met on the 1st of September, and fixed the county tax as follows: General tax, 7 1/2 mills; special tax, 1 mill; school tax, 3 mills.

There was a heavy gale from the southeast last Monday, but the damage was slight. Some trees and fences were blown down and some small boats broken to pieces. The number of nominal candidates is increasing, but it is already "as plain as a pike-staff" that certain candidates for the principal offices will be elected by overwhelming majorities. Such unanimity has never before been known as to who are the right men for the right places.

Last week was church fair week. The Catholic fair was thronged several nights, and must have cleared a total of over $500. The Protestant's fair was held only one night, and cleared about $115, and which will about pay for the repairs on "the little church around the corner."

The assessment of real estate in Bay St. Louis for 1879 footed up $387,775, and for Hancock county $22,269, an increase in value of upwards of $30,000 over the last assessment. The value of personal property has increased in a much larger ratio. Old Hancock is looking up, and with a few more live men added to her population she will flourish like a green bay tree.

The schooner Anna, of Galveston, came into our port about ten days ago direct from Tuxpan, Mexico. She brought four kegs of rum, 2000 pounds of Cordova coffee, some bunches of plantains and bananas, and a dozen or two of talking-birds of bright plumage, sometimes called parrots. She also brought a clean bill of health, which saved her from any quarantine trouble. She had very tempestuous weather and adverse winds, which sprung a leak in her bottom and kept her out 16 days on a voyage of 500 miles. She is about to go to "that classic stream—Dog river," (as Judge Hamu calls it) for repairs. The rum is in the customhouse and will be sold to pay the duty.

Lo! the poor Indian! A little band of "bobobobos," the surviving remnant of the Choctaws, still linger about here. They have a settlement or camp a few miles southwest of the Bay City, and the "squaws" are now daily seen on our streets, peddling Indian baskets, of various sizes and quaint designs, which are both useful and ornamental. They also peddle "gumbo-feli," sassafras, and medicinal roots and herbs. The "bucks" kill turkeys, squirrels, deer and rabbits for market. They cultivate small patches of land and hire out as wood choppers. Some of both sexes domesticate and hire out as servants. Altogether they come very near adopting the costume and habits of civilized life.

About Cattle Shipments. GAINESVILLE, Miss., Aug. 25, 1879. Editor Democrat-Star: I noticed a query in the DEMOCRAT-STAR of the reason why some one does not buy cattle for other markets at his place or neighborhood. I can imagine that he has not shipped any cattle, or if he has he must be one of the fortunate ones. Our experience goes to show it to be a losing business. Recently I shipped three cows to the New Orleans market. When I got the account sales I felt like I had been robbed. The way they manage the beef business in New Orleans is an imposition on the shipper and consumer, and that city ought to shake off the reptile and let it perish in contempt. It will be seen from the following figures that it takes about one-third of the proceeds to pay the charges:

Sale by R. M. Plant of 3 cattle, received August 13. Sold for account of J. J. Moore:

2 head.....$24 00 1 head.....19 50

3 head.....$34 00 CHARGES.

Freight.....3 00 Driving down.....25 Stable rent.....25 Pasture.....1 50 Labor.....2 00 Commission.....3 00 $40 45

Net sales.....$23 35

The above figures will be a good reason why the New Orleans beef market ought to be let severely alone. Respectfully,

JOHN J. MOORE.

AT MOSS POINT.

POISONED BY EATING ICE CREAM—PURELY ACCIDENTAL—SEVERAL SICK FAMILIES. Last Tuesday night quite an unfortunate mishap occurred at Moss Point, which resulted in the severe illness of the members of three families of that place. On the night above referred to an ice cream party was held at the residence of Mr. Sam Elder, and during the night after those present had partaken of the refreshments Judge Wood, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Yates and two other members of the family, Mr. Mrs. Elder, their son and Miss Laura Langley were taken quite sick, and for a time it seemed as if all of them would have a serious illness. We learn the sickness was caused from eating ice cream, which in some way had become poisoned by the extract of lemon, with which the cream was flavored, coming in contact with the freezer, which oxidized the metal causing the cream to be impregnated with the poison. Mr. Elder and son were quite seriously affected, and had not prompt assistance been rendered by the physician their cases would no doubt have resulted fatally. Judge Wood was too unwell to hold court Wednesday, but we learn is now over the attack. All the others who were sick have recovered.

It is well to remark that the poisoning was purely accidental, and no blame is attached to anyone in the matter.

Montross House, Biloxi, Miss. This establishment is now ready to receive boarders. The house and grounds have been completely renovated, and now offer the most desirable comforts. The proprietor, in returning his sincere thanks for the liberal patronage heretofore accorded him, expresses the conviction that assurance that the patrons of the house will find there this year additional attractions and advantages over those of former years. The well-known salubrity of Biloxi together with its fine facilities for sea bathing, boating and fishing, stimulates this locality to the preference of those who look for quiet, and freshness, and amusements during the summer. The wharf has been enlarged, and new bath-houses have been put up within six hundred feet from the hotel. Parties coming to MONTROSS HOUSE will be transported free of charge from the depot to the train or steamboat landing. F. J. MONTROSS, Proprietor. August 17, 1879. 16-3m
