SONG OF THE CARPET BAGGERS.

From New Hampshire's green mountains,
From old Nantucket's strand,
From Lake Ontario's fountains,
And Huron's golden sand,
From old Wisconsin river
And famed Iowa's plains,
We are coming to deliver
This State to negro chains!

We love the spicy breezes
That blow from Africa's shore,
A scent that so well pleases,
Who would not live for more?
Thick lips and coal-black faces,
The gifts of God are shown,
We'll take these dusky races
And mingle with our own.

Should we whose souls are lighted
With wisdom from on high,
Wait still to be invited
Before we hither lie?
When officers are waiting,
And plunder is to reap,
Not at the present stalling,
While carpet-bags are cheap.
