FORMER LOUISVILLE PASTOR'S APPOINTMENT OPPOSED

White Church Organ Says C. M. E. Assignment Surprises Membership

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. (ANP) The Southwestern Christian Advocate of the current issue tells of the appointment of Rev. I. Garland Penn, Jr., to the pastorate of the Williams C. M. E. Temple at Shreveport, La. Penn was formerly a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church and for a time served as a District Superintendent, but became involved in some trouble, said to be financial in nature, and reports are current also that he was involved in other kinds of trouble, the nature of which was not made known.

The publication in the Southwestern Christian Advocate that Penn had been assigned to the big Shreveport church came as a great surprise to the members of the Methodist Episcopal church as it reliably reported that Penn was first suspended and quit while suspended, while others claimed that he was tried and found guilty and then expelled from the ministry and membership of the Methodist Episcopal church.

It has also been authentically established that there is great disapproval to Penn's serving the C. M. E. church in Shreveport on the part of the local membership of the Williams Temple. One of the largest and most prominent of the C. M. E. church in the south. The appointment of Penn to the Shreveport church was made, it is said, by Bishop J. C. Martin, who lives in Memphis. Some of the prominent ministers of the Louisiana Annual Conference are said to greatly disapprove of Penn's appointment to Shreveport, maintaining that it is highly unethical, un-Methodistic and tends to place a premium upon a minister who has done much against the C. M. E. church for Penn is alleged to have caused the C. M. E. church to lose one of its finest edifices, the great Park Avenue church in Chicago through court litigation which cost several thousand dollars aside from the loss of the church property. Penn is said to have served the Michigan avenue C. M. E. church for a while after joining the C. M. E. church but soon resigned or gave it up and went into politics during the last campaign to make speeches. That church, Michigan avenue, too has been lost to the denomination, according to a statement in a current issue of The Christian Index, official organ of the church.

Not only does the Shreveport church and the Louisiana Annual conference disapprove of Bishop Martin's assignment of Penn to the Shreveport church, but it is rumored throughout the denomination that there has been a storm of protests to appointing Penn on the part of the leaders, and some have even hinted that protests are so voluminous that the matter may be carried to the College of Bishops of the C. M. E. church for final adjudication. Not within all the history of the C. M. E. church, its is claimed has an appointment brought forth such connection-wide disapproval and protest, and men are now dubious whether loyalty and straightforwardness in private life and official administration will mean anything in the matter of determining one's fitness for promotion in the industry if such a practice is to prevail in that denomination.

SALADS
(By) Carrie Sue Butler

Last week we talked of vegetable salads, this week I am giving a few recipes for salads made from eggs, fruits, nuts and cheese.

CHEESE AND CURRANT SALAD

Mash a cream cheese and mix with finely chopped lettuce. Shape in balls, arrange on lettuce leaves, pour over French Dressing, and over all place currants.

CHERRY SALAD

Wash cherries, and remove stones and stems. Fill cavities with nut meats. Arrange on a bed of crisp lettuce leaves, and garnish with cherries from which the stems have not been removed. Serve with one cup of mayonnaise dressing to which has been added (just before time) one-third cup heavy cream beaten until stiff.

FRUIT SALADS

Take a can of fruits for salads and pack in ice, let freeze, remove from can and slice. Place slices on crisp lettuce leaves and garnish with mayonnaise dressing, chopped nuts or grated cheese.

Take a can of fruit salad and place in gelatin, when it has congealed place the desired amount on lettuce leaves and serve with mayonnaise.

Cut an equal amount of peaches, pears, bananas, apples and pineapple into small pieces mix well and place on lettuce leaves, top with mayonnaise.

MOQUIN SALAD

Arrange slices of pineapple on lettuce leaves Take a cream cheese and moisten with french dressing. Force through a potato ricer over pineapple, serve with french dressing.

PEAR SALAD

Wipe and pare the desired number of pears, care being taken not to remove the stems. Cut cross wise, and serve in original shape on lettuce leaves, top with french or mayonnaise dressing.

CHEESE AND APPLE SALAD

Wipe and pare apples and cut in cubes or shape with vegetable cutter, then marinate with french dressing. Mash a cream cheese and add one teaspoon each, salt and salad dressing and one tablespoon chopped canned pimiento. Shape into small balls and arrange along with the apple balls on lettuce leaves garnish with strips of pimiento, serve with salad dressing.

PEANUT SALAD

Shell, skin and chop one pint of peanuts; there should be one cup of peanuts. Add one cup of celery, washed, scraped and cut in small pieces, chilled in ice water, drained and dried in a towel. Marinate with french dressing. Wipe peppers, cut in halves lengthwise, and remove seeds. Arrange on a bed of lettuce leaves, fill with prepared mixture and garnish top of each with three thin slices of radish overlapping one another.

FRUIT AND NUT SALAD

Remove skins and seeds from one-half pound grapes. Add an equal measure of english walnut meats, broken in pieces. Marinate with a salad dressing, and arrange in nests of lettuce leaves, Garnish with candied cherries cut in halves.

GINGER ALE SALAD

Soak two tablespoons granulated gelatine in two tablespoons cold water and dissolve in one-third cup boiling water. Add one cup ginger ale, one-fourth cup lemon juice and two table spoons sugar. When mixture begins to set fold in one-third cup of grapes, skinned, one-third cup celery, cut crosswise, one-third cup chopped apples, two tablespoons ginger, cut in pieces, and four tablespoons shredded pineapple. Turn into mould, and chill. Serve with mayonnaise.

CHEESE SALAD

Mix one-half cup of mayonnaise dressing with one-half pound cheese and add celery, salt and pepper to taste. Serve on lettuce leaves after the mixture has been formed into small balls. Top with mayonnaise and garnish.

CARROLLTON, ALA.

We the members of Zion Temple church wish to express how proud we are of our new pastor, Rev. A. D. Harper, ex-pastor of St. Peters A. M. E. Zion church, Meridian, Miss.

On the 27th of November Rev Harper organized his church and preached a wonderful sermon. The financial part of the church is very good. On the account of illness our pastor has not been able to be with us, but the members saw to it that the pastor's salary was raised and sent to him.

On January 7th Rev. Harper held his Board meeting, which was a wonderful meeting three were added to the church. Sister Lula Massey, chairman of the Stewardess Board is doing a great work, under her leadership the members and friends had a pound rally for the pastor which was very much appreciated.
