

Death of an Editor.

We received per last mail, the Jefferson Whig, clothed in mourning for the sudden death of THOMAS BROWN, editor of that paper.

More "Private Business."

General DeGraffenreid, has, through the columns of the Mississippian, declined the nomination for Governor by the used-up party of this State.

The population of New York City, is ascertained to be 313,629, which is equal to the whole State of Mississippi.

Rhode Island.

The majority for Harrison and Tyler in Rhode Island is 1,982. The number of votes polled in that State is 6,500.

A correspondent of the Southern Journal, writing from Monroe, Perry county, Miss., speaking of the result of the election, says: "They (the Whigs,) may now hang up their 'bristled arms for monuments.'"

There may be some State more deserving the flag, but for her base subservency in thus bending to Federalism, Mississippi certainly richly merits "the stripes."

Free Trader.

Citizens of Mississippi!—this sentiment is from the pen of an office holder under the administration of Martin Van Buren.

State Treasurer.

The vote for State Treasurer, which is complete, (Clarke County excepted) is as follows: J. S. Curtis, (Whig) 14,823

Military Election.

The majority for Capt. Wm. Lewis over W. F. Jones, for Major General is 1,999—That of P. J. Burrus, over M. J. A. G. Bennett for Brigadier General, is 555.

Steam Ship of War.

The Government of the United States, is having built at the Brooklyn Navy-Yard, a steam ship of War, which, according to the Steamship, is to be quite a magnificent affair.

Inclination of the engine, 25 degrees. Diameter of paddle wheels, 22 1/2 feet.

Every modern improvement in naval warfare has been observed in her construction, and she will be finished upon a scale of magnificence worthy the nation she is to defend.

Tennessee Election.

We have been requested to publish the vote of each county in Tennessee, by many of our friends, in order that natives of that State, residing in Mississippi, may see with pride how the "home of the thundering lion" has rebuked Mr. Van Buren and his army of office-holders.

A Screamer.

A gentle piece of female humanity yeleft Green—by courtesy Miss Green—delivered an oration, or more properly speaking, a stump speech, at Augusta, Me. on the 4th of July last.

"I shall have been so happy as to have gained the approbation of those for whose sake I have so far departed from the strict limit which ancient prejudices have so long prescribed to our sex, I shall be amply paid for all the sneers of whittings & fools."

From the Apalachicola Com. Adv. of 20th ult. Loss of the Steamboat Leroy, six Lives Lost.

The steam-boat Syren, Capt. Field, brings intelligence of the loss of the Leroy, Washington Smith, master, and reports the melancholy news that six persons were killed, and several dangerously scalded, burnt or otherwise wounded.

The Leroy was employed on the Brunswick line, in the conveyance of the mail and passengers, between Chatahochie & Iola, and in her last trip was coming from the first named place.

Among the passengers was Mr. Willis Alston, and we believe he was the only one who escaped unhurt. He is reported to have stated, that before leaving Chatahochie, he observed something about the boat which created a feeling of insecurity.

while the vessel was on fire. The killed are reported to be Daniel Rowlet, passenger.

Washington Smith, master. John Ashton, engineer. Prersly Hicks, fireman. John Waller, do. Henry Carter, a free mulatto steward.

Fortunately there were not many passengers on board, otherwise the disaster would have been still more melancholly. The Leroy was owned by the mail contractors on the great southern route, Messrs. Hopkins and Stockton.

The Leroy left Chatahochie on Sunday at half past 10, A. M. conveying the mail to Iola. The accident occurred two miles above Blount's town, at the hour above stated.

Nothing was saved but the mail which was blown on to the forecastle. The river, Capt. Smith says, is literally strewn with fragments, and since the accident the boat has entirely disappeared, leaving nothing but the stern pole to indicate where it lies.

After the explosion, and before the fire, a Mr. Tapper went on board the wreck alone, to render assistance to the wounded and recover the bodies. While thus engaged the wounded were taken away in the yawl boat, leaving him without a living companion.

Our attention was called to the river on Monday evening by the new and magnificent steamer LOUISIANA. The L. is a new boat built for the cotton trade, and is, we believe, the largest steamboat that ever floated on the Mississippi.

200 feet Keel, 235 " on deck, 13 " between Decks, 60 " in width, 28 foot wheel.

Piston 10 foot stroke; 8 double flued boilers, and carries 4,500 bales cotton. The Louisiana is commanded by Capt. J. Powell, long very favorably known in the lower trade. We wish him success.
