INDUCEMENTS TO POSTMASTERS AND TO CLUBS.

As a means of compensation to Postmasters for their trouble as agents, or as an inducement for neighbors to combine, and thus save to the Publishers the cost of individual packing, direction, etc., the following additional advantages are held out:

For every 5 dollars current money, free of postage, will be sent 3 copies for one year.

For every 10 dollars current money, free of postage, will be sent 7 copies for one year.

For every 20 dollars current money, free of postage, will be sent 15 copies for one year.

For every 50 dollars current money, free of postage, will be sent 40 copies for one year.

In no case, however, will a letter receive attention, unless it is in strict accordance with the above terms, to wit: in current money in advance, free of postage.

It will be a great advantage, if Postmaster, instead of sending an individual name, will send for the number of copies in their own name.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE AGRICULTURIST—AND JOURNAL OF THE STATE, AND COUNTY SOCIETIES.

In the midst of the "HARD TIMES," we send our proposals forth once more for patronage to a Journal to which we confidently hope to be able to make it the interest of everyone capable of reading to subscribe.

Our thanks are tendered for the very liberal support to the "Agriculturist," during the three years of its publication, and we ask one effort more from our patrons, and we believe from the exceeding cheapness and utility of the work, the subscription list can be easily increased fourfold.

ABSENCE.—It is said that absence cools moderate passions, but inflames violent and solid ones.

The lady will be amiable and handsome, with a good voice and a well proportioned body, she will be married twice, and remain poor, but remain honest.

THE END OF THE WORLD.

The Millerites are at present expounding their doctrines in hundreds of places. Some converts are made, and they are persons of all classes. We annex, as a matter of information, the latest announcement of their doctrines:

"They teach as their undoubting belief, from a minute examination of prophetic writings, that there is to be seen on this earth, a personal advent, or appearance of Jesus Christ, in the same proper person and form, in which he appeared 1800 years since—in like manner as he ascended in the clouds of heaven after his resurrection; and the every human eye shall witness and see his descent. That immediately upon his appearance, there is to be a general resurrection from the dead of all the righteous or saints, who have died and been laid in their graves in past ages, and who now, together with the saints who may then be living, are to be assembled together under the conduct of Christ in some places of safety, and there kept for a season until the coming 'storm of indignation' upon the world, and the of its inhabitants shall have passed over. Thus this world is then to be destroyed, or rather, purified by fire, and 'melted fervent heat.' The wicked and unconverted who shall then be found in it shall also be assembled, separated from the saints, and, together with Satan, or the devil, be confined and shut up in the bottomless pit, and utterly destroyed or annihilated, having no further existence whatever—which is the second death.—That then the saints are to be brought from their chambers of safety, where they had retired, and, together with Christ, made the everlasting inheritors and possessors of this earth, which shall have been refined and purified by fire of all its dross and evil properties; and that in this way and this manner, the end of all things is to be brought about and accomplished.

"The beginning of this scene, by the descent and personal appearance of Christ, it is distinctly and confidently stated: is to take place in the ensuing year, 1843, and probably in some of the early days in April, being that day, at any rate, on which he was crucified.—Danville (Vermont) North Star.

A BOLD WOMAN.

The ladies of the West have always been celebrated for courage, and we find, in the late Pittsburg papers, another proof of this bravery. On Friday evening, the 30th ult., the family of Mr. Willson, who lives in Pride's fields, a short distance from the city, was alarmed, when about retiring to bed, by hearing a noise in the lower part of their dwelling. Mr. W. being absent, his wife, taking a loaded pistol rooms, and just as she got down, she observed a person passing through a door in front of her. She at once presented the pistol and fired, and from the blood discovered round premises, there is no doubt but the shot took effect. Immediately after the discharge of the pistol a man was seen rushing from the house, and a third was seen in the garden.—U. S. Saturday Post.

A SLICK TRICK.

A gentleman was robbed lately in Lexington, Ky., in a manner which does credit to the adroitness of the rogue. The robbery occurred in the Northern Bank. The gentleman robbed was standing at the counter, conversing with one of the clerks, with his bank book, from the end of which a check for near two hundred dollars was seen protruded, in his hand. While thus conversing, a rogue seeing the check gently slipped it from the book, unperceived by the owner, presented it at the counter, had it cashed, and left the bank without being detected. Shortly after, the gentleman to whom the check belonged missed it, and requested the teller to stop its payment; his astonishment may be conjectured when told it had already been paid. No clue was furnished to the detection of the adroit scoundrel. Even the sufferer must say of this fellow as the yeoman said to Sir Charles Fox, "I admire your talents, but—confound your principles!"—U. S. Sat. Post.

A hungry jury at the late court in Halifax, Va., commenced a regular dance in their room above the Court, to the tune of "Whar did you come from." The Sheriff was soon sent up by Judge Leigh, with orders to provide them a more suitable apartment in the jail, where they might continue their frolic during the night, if they thought proper.
