

Calomel Seldom Sold Here Now

Nasty drug salivates, makes you sick and you lose a day's work.

Every druggist in town—druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and you don't know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness, constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach and constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition. adv

Using Peat in Germany.

Peat coke in Germany is proving serviceable in many ways. It is not only valuable for generating electricity at moorland stations, but is much used by blacksmiths and for various metallurgical purposes, especially as a substitute for charcoal in producing high-grade iron. A new turf-cooking plant at Elizabeth-Fehn, Oldenburg, converts 30 tons of peat into nine of coke, with gas and tar as by-products. Specially-designed ovens are used and the gas generated is made to heat the retorts and to generate electric current to drive the peat dredging machines. The tar yields creosote oil, gas oil, paraffin, sulphuric acid and ammonia.

Man and Music.

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast"—so that explains why men are more susceptible to music than women. It is the truth that all men respond to some kind of music, from Russian to ragtime, according to their tastes. Music is certainly a close second to a man's stomach as a road to that destination—his heart.

SOUTH A WINNER OF LIVE STOCK HONORS

TRI-STATE FAIR HAS BEEN THE GREAT FACTOR FOR DEVELOPMENT.

Point Comfort XIV in Taking First Honors Showed to International Stockmen Southern Possibilities—One Incident.

A few years ago there came to the Tri-State Fair as an entry in the live stock show a Mississippi Hereford bull. This bull was quite the pride of at least one Mississippi farm. He had a noble bearing, his marks were good, he was of right weight and magnificent vitality.

There were other bulls at this fair— a hundred or more of them. They came from all over the continent. There were several of them who were the pride of their Canadian owners, others had ranged the wide sweeps of the West, a few more had been bred in the valleys of New England. They all wore ribbons of some recent triumph.

The practically unknown Mississippi entry came into the ring the next day as a mystery. He did not remain so very long, however. He was walked around a few times. The owners of other champions gazed at him critically. The judge confirmed their fears by tying the blue ribbon on his horns. He was Point Comfort XIV, pride of Laverne Farm, of Jackson. And a few weeks later when he went to Kansas City and Chicago, and other judges added to his honors and he returned to Mississippi, the grand champion of all the Herefords.

This is only one instance of the tremendous power of the Tri-State Fair— just a sample demonstration of the great good that it has done the Memphis territory in encouraging breeders to raise their stock for the best that is in them.

This year a new international grand champion will be crowned, but it is safe to say that at least one of his closest competitors—if not the champion himself—will be one of the entrants at the Tri-State.

Over $10,000 will be awarded in prizes for cattle alone at the Tri-State Fair Stock Show. Nearly $3,000 will be awarded for swine. All of the other departments of the fair are offering attractive cash premiums.

Special rates to Memphis have been secured on the railroads for the ten days of the fair.

RACING AT TRI-STATE FAIR

CRACK HORSES OF SOUTH WILL BE PITTED IN SPEED TRIALS.

Announcement has been made by the Tri-State Fair Association that during the fair, which opens this year on September 26, there will be six days of harness racing.

The Tri-State Fair Grounds are built around the historic old Montgomery track, known as a record-breaking oval on which such celebrities as Dan Patch, and others of hardly lesser fame, made fame for themselves.

Entries for open purposes will close Monday, September 20, and indications are that some of the fastest horses in the country will receive the plaudits of the thousands in the big grand stand. There is nothing in the world that will make a man come to his feet quicker than a neck-and-neck finish with good horses on a good track, and as Memphis will have both of them during fair week, the craving of even the most rabid race horse fan should be satisfied.

An elaborate Horse Show for the first four nights of the fair will also be a pleasing feature to lovers of good horseflesh.

There will be special railroad rates on all lines. The fair will run for ten days, and the races will be only one of the many big features.

AUTO DEMONS AT THE FAIR

Memphis Will See World's Greatest Speed Merchants in Races.

Some of the best known auto racers in the country are going to stake life and limb in mad dashes around the mile track at the Tri-State Fair this year, in their efforts to make new speed records and incidentally win the trophies offered by the Tri-State Fair Association.

The fair will open September 26th for ten days, and the last two—October 4th and 5th—will have auto racing as their chief amusement features.

Among the speed demons who have already entered the races at the fair are Louis Disbrow, of International fame; Joe Bianchi, the great Italian driver; Eddie Hearne, who has thrilled the thousands at the speedway meets, and Johnny Raimy, of Cincinnati, who has developed into one of the fastest drivers in the business, and who says that he is determined to make a new record for himself at Memphis.

The track is in fine shape and will be given a few finishing touches. All danger of accidents will be placed at a minimum by police protection and safety methods.

Special rates are being offered by the railroads and a number of people from this section have signified their intention of going to Memphis to see the fair and the races.

DARING SPEED DEMONS WILL BATTLE FOR HONORS

WERE YOU IN THIS CROWD?—THE GRAND STAND AND BLEACHERS AT THE TRI-STATE FAIR LAST YEAR.

The above pictures show sections of the grand stand and bleachers at the Tri-State Fair on auto race day last year. It was one of the greatest crowds ever witnessing an auto race in the South. The auto races will be repeated this year. The fair opens September 26 and runs until October 5.

GREATEST FAIR IN HISTORY OF SOUTH WILL BE HELD AT MEMPHIS, SEPT. 26--OCT. 5

Fortune Is Offered in Premiums—Stock Show Will Be Biggest Yet, and Many Splendid Amusement Features Have Been Secured.

The greatest fair in the history of the South is the promise of the Tri-State Fair Association this year.

The fair, which has made Memphis as well known in the fair realm as the International Stock Show has made Chicago in the stock show world, will open this year on September 26 and will close October 5, at midnight.

Nothing has been left undone this year. Nothing has been left to chance. For a year the directors of the fair organization have planned for the 1915 triumph, and they say that it will be a triumph indeed.

Here will be shown, as cannot be shown in any other spot in the country, the great changes through which the South has passed in the last year. Diversification, the improvement in stock breeding, the coming of poultry into its own as a money producer, the crowning of Corn as Crown Prince to King Cotton, will all be reflected during the ten days of the big exposition.

A wealth of premiums have been offered. They cover every imaginable line. The woman with a recipe for good apple pie can go to Memphis and get the pie prize while her husband is down at the stock ring watching a blue ribbon being pinned on the little Jersey that he bought at the fair only two years before.

Over $16,000.00 will be offered in stock prizes alone. And then in addition to this $1,500.00 will be offered for poultry premiums, and large sums for agricultural exhibits and woman's work.

The Poultry Show will be the biggest in the history of the fair; the farm exhibits promise to be better than ever before; the industrial displays will be a splendid tribute to the progress made by the South in this line.

It is a great fair—this Memphis fair. It has been a great fair for several years and just as an indication of how splendidly it has grown let it be known that the live stock department alone is now seven times as big as it was in 1910.

Realizing that the visitors to the fair will relish modern amusement and the best of it, the amusement committee has provided not only splendid harness races this year, but has also made arrangements with several of the most famous automobile speed merchants in the country to battle for trophies on the fast mile track.

One of the best handicaps of the country has been booked for the fair, and there will be an elaborate Horse Show during the first four nights.

Every department of the fair this year will be complete. It will be without a doubt the greatest fair that any Southern city ever attempted, and it is expected to draw an attendance that will far pass previous years.

The railroads have joined with the three states and city of Memphis in making the fair a success and have offered attractive rates. Local agents at each station have full information and will gladly furnish it for the asking.

It is understood that a great many people in this section—especially the most enterprising of the local farmers and business men, have expressed their intention of going to Memphis for the fair.

WOMAN IS QUEEN

TRI-STATE FAIR OFFICIALS PAY TRIBUTE TO GENIUS OF GENTLE SEX.

ENTIRE BUILDING IS TURNED OVER TO THEM AT MEMPHIS.

A pretty compliment was paid the women of the South by the Tri-State Fair Association when announcement was made several years ago that an entire building at the Memphis Fair would be turned over to them for their exhibits.

This building has since that time developed into one of the prettiest and most interesting spots on the grounds, and is again in charge of the women for the fair which opens September 26th.

It is safe to assert that it has more men visitors than any other one building at the fair, and this year the ladies in charge of the Women's Department are determined to make it even more attractive than before.

Miss Ada Harris, who has been chief assistant and in the secretary's office for a number of years, directress of the department, announces that there will be three divisions in which the ladies of the three states may compete. They will be culinary, decorative art and textile.

Each one of these divisions has a score or more of sections. For instance, in the culinary division there is a section of catsups, pickles, canned vegetables, fruits, marmalades and a dozen other sections that make one's mouth water.

Seven different kinds of pies are eligible for competition, but they will all come under the general heading of "pies like mother used to make." At least that is provided they do not lock them in a steel cage while the judges are examining their various good points.

All of which causes every able-bodied man at the fair to wish he were a judge.

The Agricultural exhibits at the Memphis Tri-State Fair vie with the exhibits of the Corn Club boys and the Tomato Club girls for their artistic beauty. Above is shown one of the winners last year. It was the Lauderdale County display, which won first prize. The fair opens September 26th this year and runs ten days until October 5th.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for the grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without
