It is equally impossible to forget or to omit, a gentleman from Kentucky, whom party has once made the fruitful topic of unmeasured panegyric and detraction. Of sanguine temperament, and impetuous character, his declamation was impassioned rather than in strength, his style was less elegant and correct than animated and impressive.

NOTICE. AN election will be held at the several precincts in this County, viz: Woodville, Mount Pleasant, Upper Homochitto, Lower Homochitto, Percy's Creek, Fort Adams, and Pinckneyville; on Monday the 5th day of November next, for the purpose of electing four electors, to vote for President and Vice President of the United States.

CHOLERA CHARM. The peasantry of the counties of Dublin, Wicklow, &c. in Ireland, seem to labor under a strange illusion. In order to arrest the ravages of the cholera what is called "blessed turf," that is a piece of burning turf, is seized by one person, who runs, as if for his life, to serve seven neighbors with it; the neighbors are each bound to carry the "blessed turf," to seven others, that the live turf may, through their instrumentality, touch every place and ever soil in the land!

NOTICE. To all whom it may concern.—Know ye that the regular Term of the Orphans' Court of the County of Wilkinson, to be holden in October next, I shall file my petition for my right of Dower in the Estate real and personal of which my late husband George B. NOTICE. There was, also, a gentleman from Maryland, whose ashes now slumber in your cemetery. It is long since I stood by his tomb, and recalled, as he was then, in all the pride and power of his genius. Among the first of his countrymen and contemporaries, as a jurist and statesman, first an orator, he was, if not truly elegant, the prince of rhetoricians. Nor did the soundness of his logic suffer any thing by a comparison with the richness and classical purity of the language in which he copiously poured forth those figurative illustrations of his argument, which enforced while they adorned it. But let others pronounce his eulogy. I must not, I feel as if his mighty spirit would banquet the scene of its triumphs, and when I dared to wrong them, indignantly rebuked me. These names have become historical. There were others, of whom it is more difficult to speak, because yet within the reach of praise or envy—For one who was, or aspired to be, a politician, it
