A Good Sign. It is a wise man who judiciously invests his money in a city where there are so many substantial signs of peace and prosperity as there are now in Hattiesburg.

T. M. Merchant Writes of East Mississippi Nursery.

Among the many valuable places within an hour's drive of Ellisville perhaps none furnish more pretty views than that of Mr. Earnest Williams, on which is situated the East Mississippi Nursery.

By the application of the most approved methods, Mr. Williams having made a close study of matters pertaining to the nursery business, he has succeeded in propagating for the fall trade between 30,000 and 40,000 of the most beautiful trees ever seen in this section.

After being detained for the greater part of the day by Mr. Williams and his delightful family, driving over the orchard and nursery, each member of our party trying to do "do perfect justice" to the excellent fruit which was set before us.

CURRENT COMMENT

BY T. M. MERCHANT.

It seems that Booker Washington is not without one redeeming feature at last. He sternly rees the report that he served escort Mrs. Warburton.

It is expected that the legislature will pass a law requiring the boards of supervisors in each county to purchase well trained blood hounds.

The Atlanta Constitution fears that the Sultan of Sulu may declare war against the United States because Miss Roosevelt declid his hand in marriage.

Gov. Vardaman will name about one hundred delegates from this State to the national conference of immigration which will be held in New York on December 6th and 7th.

A negro church in Indiana was blown to pieces last week with dynamite and threats are freely indulged in that if arrests are made every negro shall be driven from the town.

President Roosevelt's opinion of himself has been confirmed by a woman of the Booker Washington-Wanamaker stripe, who declares that Roosevelt is the greatest statesman of the age.

Collins is doing its part toward the development of this great country. The Commercial, of that town, chronicles the birth of five babies in five days. Next!
