MOBILE GASS COMPANY.
COKE AND TAR.

THIS company has on hand a constant supply of Coke for sale. This very superior article for parlor fires is not generally known, it makes a much more agreeable fire than Coal throws out a greater quantity of heat, and is free from sulphur and smoke; for kitchen ranges and cooking stoves it is far preferable to charcoal.

30 000 GALLONS COAL TAR FOR SALE—Coal Tar is most useful on every plantation for preserving fences, roofs, pickets, and all wood work. It is an excellent paint for wood or iron. When mixed with lime and sand, heated to simmering, and well laid on it will resist the action of fire for a long time

It is valuable, also, to preserve seed corn.—Crows will not eat of scratch up corn that has been saturated with Coal Tar. It does not prevent vegetation as common Pine Tar does, and is much less troublesome to use, and half a pint is sufficient for a bushel if pot red over and well stirred.

Sold at the works at 10 cents per gallon.—Barrels to be provided by the purchaser.

WORTH & CO.
DRUGS, MEDICINES, PERFUMERY,
COSMETICS, BRUSHES, &c.
Seed and Agricultural Store.
Corner of Government and Royal streets, Mobile.

OUR STOCK comprises every article sold by the trade, and which we recommend as excellent and genuine Physicians supplied with all the new and popular remedies, Chemicals, Vegetable Alkalies and Extracts, and all other medical preparations, pure and free from adulterations. Families and Planters will find it to their interest to obtain their medicines at our establishment. It may not be inappropriate to state that from an early life we have been trained to the profession of Apothecaries and Chemists, and are therefore enabled to test all medicines we purchase, and can guarantee their purity and genuineness, enabling physicians to calculate with certainty on the action of prescriptions, & thereby save the lives of their patients—whereas by the want of such security in the purity of medicines, their operation is doubtful and many no doubt are sent to an untimely grave. For instance, Calomel, is adulterated with whiting, Opium with extract of lettuce, liquorice, aloes, gum arabic, sand, ashes, and manufacturers in this country deprive it of its morphium, who does not materially affect its appearance, but is deprived of its active principle. Quinine, with the extract of dogwood; pulver Peri, starch. Blue mass with clay, etc., in fact all the most valuable chemicals, those which physicians mostly depend on to arrest disease, are adulterated, which accounts for the great difference in the relative prices for the same articles given by different druggists. As such articles have been, and are sold, we have only to guard patients and families in purchasing their supplies of medicines to be on their guard against imposition, as there are persons who sell drugs and medicines without a knowledge of the profession, and the means whereby the honor of it can be sustained. As the quality and purity of medicines are of a greater importance than the price, they can seem the first, by looking to the standing of the apothecary and the second should be such as would yield a fair recompense to the honest dealer.

Thanking our friends for past favors, (the last fifteen years) we avail ourselves of the opportunity to say that of a thorough acquaintance with Pharmacy, Chemistry, &c., in all its various details, (the result of 30 years experience) having received a practical knowledge in the laboratories of professors Howe, Greene, and Keating of the several scientific institutions, and in the college of pharmacy of Philadelphia, and having manufactured all the various chemicals in use in large quantities, will enable us to furnish the most pure and genuine medicines, and which we hope will merit from the public a liberal patronage.

We have an extensive assortment of hair, cloth, teeth and nail brushes; tortoise shell, buffalo and ivory combs of every description, superior and highly finished surgical and dental instruments, and parcel in teeth; medicine chests, garden, field and flower seeds, growth of 1847. THE ECLECTIC SYRUP.
A complete and agreeable remedy for Leucorrhœa, Florallbas or Whites.

THE Eclectic Syrup claims not so much to be a product of art or genius, as the simple offering of nature itself, to check disease and bring back to the pallid cheek the emblems of life and health.

The disease to which it is adapted as a remedy has been acknowleged to be attended with difficulty, as it regards a certainty of cure. While it seems to prevail extensively invading every walk of life and assuming as far as known in every clime, the remedy was child is fallibly and safely, and without entailing other disorders, delivers the system from it influence, has not been so clearly indicated.—We feel assured that many will feel desirous to know that a discovery has been made which places at their command a pleasant simple and sure restorative.

The syrup can be relied on as capable of affecting a cure in all the stages of this disease.

The causes of Leucorrhœa are various, and depending such on constitution, temperament, location atmosphere, and habits of life; a sedentary and luxurious life, especially in cities, is one of the most prolific

It is usually divided into three stages; the first general not affecting the general health.

No one should neglect this disease in its stage; it is always best to check the beginning of evil; the work is then more safely and certainly done. This will appear evident from an account of the last stage of this disease by a late author:

"The face becomes of a sickly greenish hue, subject to frequent flushes of heat; under the eyes there is an unnatural color; the lips becomes purple; the feet and legs swell; there is a deep cough and great difficulty of breathing; all the marks of dyspepsia take place, the whole system becomes disordered and unhealthy; and unless relief is obtained, the patient, from general debility and weakness, sinks rapidly into decline, which ends either in dropsy or consumption.

McVOY'S ELIXIR
MADE FROM THE ROOTS OF PLANTS.

A Remedy for diseases of the Chest, such as hortness of breath, pain in the side or breast, spitting of blood, cough night sweats sometimes preceded by chills and slight fever emaciation and debility consumption in its early stages, often indicated by the above symptoms, bronchitis, croup A morbid and unhealthy complexion, giddiness or swimming of the head, general weakness, frequent headache, indigestion, flatulency, yellowness of the eyes and skin, heavy dull pain in the region of the liver, extending to the point of the shoulder, and a sense of fullness. These are commonly evidences of a diseased liver.

Pain in the left side below the ribs, attended with what are called ague cakes, swelling of the side, indicating an affection of the spleen.

Derangement of the stomach and bowels, irregularity of appetite disturbed sleep, nosiveness, tumors on various parts of the body, becoming in course of time Ulcers, bees, internal and external, showing a morbid condition of the entire system, and a tendency to, or the existence of Scrofulous diseases.

No family should be without this medicine, and for children it is preferable to all others.—It overcomes disease without reducing the strength. It improves the functions of the bowels, and by restoring healthy action to the liver and lungs, enables these important organs to purify the blood more perfectly, and thus it affords additional proof, as is observed by a late medical writer, 'that Providence has given us the means of curing many of our diseases without resorting to the adulterated drugs of foreign lands.'

Indubitable evidence of its excellence and efficacy will be furnished at the places of sale.

HASTINGS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF NAPTHA: a quick and positive cure for consumption, decline, asthma, spitting of blood, night sweats, hurky heart, tearing of the flesh, bronchitis, coughs, colds, and all diseases of the chest and lungs.

This celebrated preparation is so pleasant to the taste, and so speedy in its operations, that patients plainly feel a good effect in a few minutes after taking the first dose. Prepared in London, by G. Hastings, M. D. Sole Agents for the United States, 35 A. P. Harrison, 45 Maiden Lane, N. York; M. Bonfilenel, Mobile, Agent for the southern counties.

☞ Hastings of London, has appointed M A P Harrison 45 Maiden Lane, N York, sole American agent for the celebrated Compound of syrup of Naptha; which, after the amplest experience and proof, is now acknowledged by all the ablest physicians of both hemispheres, to be a quick & positive remedy for arresting the destruction of Tubercles in the Lungs and removing those already formed, and also to be the speediest and most effective of all remedies agents in the cure of all other diseases of the throat, chest and lungs. Language cannot express the value of Hastings' Naptha syrup in these diseases. It not only cures them redeemable, but it gives immediate relief—in fact in fifty cases out of a few minutes after the first dose has been taken the patient feels that a powerful agent is in his system, strong working for his cure. Its operations are never delayed—it at once flies to and attacks the root of the disease with an energy unknown to other medicines; and that disease must be deeper seated indeed which can resist its unrivalled influence. Hastings' has repeatedly cured a pain in every part of the body, which has defied other popular remedies for months; and has removed difficulty of breathing and pain in the throat and chest in a few minutes, by the surpassing energy of its action in clearing the passages of bile & phlegm. It is believed that no person has given Hastings' Naptha Syrup a trial who has not felt its benefit, and acknowledged its virtues.

For coughs, colds sore throat, night sweats, pain in the breast, back, &c., spitting of blood, hoarseness and asthmatic affections, it is also admitted to be the speediest and most y goons and effective remedy ever discovered in all cases where its constituents are equally decisive and remarkable. Lassitude of the mind, dullness and wasting of the flesh, and all depression to inactivity and nervousness by horseblings, are also quickly corrected by the Naptha Syrup, which in a wonderful manner revives the spirits—hardens the flesh and muscles—braces the nerves—and increases the weight. Thus those who use it according to direction, generally increase in weight about a pound a week; and many take it 3 months for positive the dissipation of melancholy, or the increase of bodily strength. In fine, a perfect trial of Hastings' Compound Syrup of Naptha, is all that is required to secure the confidence of patients, and cause them to forego all other remedies in its favor. The syrup is made up in six ounce bottles, each accompanied with a pamphlet, containing directions, certificates, &c. Price, ONE DOLLAR EACH, or SIX BOTTLES can be had for FIVE DOLLARS.

N B.—As since Naptha Syrup, being an excensive preparation, cannot be let with agents on sale. Persons who want it to sell again must pay cash for it, with the usual commission off. To secure patients who cannot obtain it in the places where they reside, should write to us direct for a supply, and would forward to them without delay (packed up in a manner to secure its safe delivery.)
