SAID IN SOCIETY.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Mary Hill Phillips has returned from a visit to Memphis.

Miss Pearl Sanders was a visitor to Memphis the past week.

Dr. and Mrs. Alexis Borroum visited Selmer, Tenn., last Sunday.

Mrs. John Ellis, of Rienzi, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rowsey the past week.

Miss Lucille Duncan returned Monday from a visit of several days in Rienzi.

Miss Maggie Berry of Rienzi, visited friends and relatives in the city this week.

Miss Pauline Sanders has been in New Orleans this week, enjoying the Mardi Gras festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mitchell of near Rienzi was here Saturday and Sunday, visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dalton.

Mrs. G. W. Bynum and Miss Dora Dillworth spent the week in New Orleans, attending the Mardi Gras festivities.

Miss Annie Outten, of Kentucky, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Johns, left this week for New Orleans on a visit.

Mrs. Phyfer and daughter, Miss Lizzie, of Ripley, and Mrs. Hunt of North Carolina, have been the guests of Mrs. H. B. Hilliard this week.

Booneville Plaine dealer—Miss Maud Wood, of Corinth, accompanied by her friend Miss Skillman, was the guest of Mrs. John Sanders for several days this week.

Mrs. Frank Humphrey left this week for Memphis to reside. Mr. Humphrey is located in that city now with the W. T. Adams Machine Co. There departure is a loss keenly felt by a large host of Corinth friends, and all wish them happiness in their new home.

PATHFINDERS.

The "Pathfinders" held their regular meeting on Thursday evening with Miss Mary Johnsony. The evening was delightfully spent in the discussion of one of the lectures from "Sesame and Lilies."

It is said that the way to get the most benefit from a book is to disagree with the author. If this is true, the "Pathfinders" got at least a few ideas from the discussion. After this they read and discussed "The Two Voices," by Tennyson. At first it seems difficult to get the author's meaning, but soon it begins to unveil itself and the reader is lost in its beautiful language and more beautiful thought.

At the next meeting they will begin the discussion of "Middlemarch."

$1,100.00 for Chickens in One Day. The car of chickens shipped out last week by W. T. Young, was a sight worth seeing. The car was full to overflowing with chickens while the top was covered with geese and turkeys. For this bit of enterprise Mr. Young received a check for $1,100.00.—New Albany Gazette.

R. F. Moore's Latest Move.

One of the splendid business establishments in which Corinthians take pride is that of R. F. Moore. He has for years conducted one of the most complete confectionery, fancy grocery and cigar stores to be found in any city approximating Corinth's size. His already handsome store is being overhauled and fixed up generally and when finished promises to be a marvel of beauty. The front will undergo an appreciable change, with new glass fixtures, the top portion replaced with artistically designed cathedral glass.

New shelving being placed in and fine steel ceiling will adorn the top of the room. The furnishings will be neat and attractive and reflect much credit on the establishment. There has been added to his stock a complete line of fine shoes and to this department he will devote special attention, and use every effort to give perfect satisfaction and prove a convenience to buyers of good shoes. Every attention will be paid to this trade and the public, no doubt, will show a liberal appreciation of the same.

His line of cigars and tobaccos and fine candles will be kept up to the high grade of excellency that has always characterized the store.

Solid and Safe Business Men.

The Corinthian in future issues will have something to say regarding its liberal advertising patrons. Corinth merchants are solid, safe and progressive and know the value of a good advertising medium. There are many old landmarks here with whom the people have for many years found satisfaction, profit and pleasure to deal, and to them much credit is due for the high business plane that characterizes the city. Business lines are smooth here and no injurious factions exist. The principle of co-operation and "live and let live" is well planted.

We Know This Will Strike You.

We find the following floating around among our exchanges and commend it to our readers as a bit of good advice: "If you know of anything we don't know, which people ought to know, if it is worth knowing don't you know it is your duty to let us know; that which you know and we ought to know but don't know, because you know, but won't let us know." And that's "know" he, you know.

Something Extra in Perfumery.

Remember that Henderson carries the largest line of the best, purest and most durable perfumery extracts ever brought to Corinth. Call and see them. Telephone 41.

This is 34. How is the "Old Reliable?"

Oh, the M. & O. is moving things lively now. A big grain trade is handled by south-bound freights and the fruit trade north of Mobile continues to require all the cars in sight. Spring shipments of dry goods, etc., just now is immense, and the passenger traffic, augmented by drummers and merchants going on after goods, is decidedly flattering.

Hello, 34! Alle samee telephone you likee Melican man. Helle goes:

Wife got a baby,
Lilly billy felly
Pletty likee picture,
Likee velly welly.
Now me be a drunk man,
Velly, velly tight man,
Cause me got a yelly kid
Alle samee white man.

Hello, Corinthian! This is John Bell speaking to you. This week while repairing the residence at corner Cruise and Webster streets, the workmen found a love letter, (a letter that never came) between the flooring. It was written twenty-three years ago and had an old 3-cent stamp on it.

Yes, this is the Corinthian. Had the boys pretty badly rattled, didn't they?

Yes, of course Tom Henry was at the bottom of it. And they say the boys didn't like the idea of going to Cuba a little bit—and poor Cap. Browning.

Yes, we've heard it reported, but you know how such talk starts and is kept going. Besides, she denies it, and that ought to settle it.

Hello! Yes the editor has moved his family and household goods from Tupelo to Corinth this week, and the Corinthian pages will doubtless suffer from it this issue.

How is that?

Oh, yes; you have been there, have you? It is a big job. Thanks. We know all the balance of our friends have a tear to drop for us.

Good-bye

Hello, what's that, Captain?

Why, we have a new administration now, and prosperity is now due. I feel better already; sold two bills of drugs this morning just after the inauguration. O, yes; times will be good from now on. Fred Elgin says so, and like me, Fred never jokes.

Whittemore's celebrated Shoe Dressing, the best made; also polish for tan shoes in all shades, oxbloods, etc. We carry a full line of these goods and offer them as the best on the market. Give them a trial. R. HENDERSON. Telephone 41.

As the Corinthian goes to press Friday afternoon, Herman Rothschilds, who has been for many years with the firm of Abe Rubel & Co., lies dangerously near death's door. He has been ill for about ten days, and has been attended by the best medical skill, but the worse is feared.
