

FOR THE FARMER AND STOCKMAN

Raise Some Sheep.

Every farmer who has any grazing land can profitably raise some sheep.

Allowance of Food.

Of course some brood sows have a greater tendency to lay on fat than others, and this tendency is kept within proper allowance by using less corn.

A Good Idea.

Dr. L. O. Howard, entomologist of the Department of Agriculture, has sailed for Southern Russia, for the purpose of securing further introduction of parasites to prey on the gypsy and brown tail moths.

Hog Killing on the Farm.

In order to do neat and rapid work at hog killing time it is necessary to have a good scraper, sticking knife, a hog hook and a place that is convenient for working.

For scalding a barrel is commonly used, and it is all that is needed unless the hogs are very large.

much better than a barrel. I have one which is made of two-inch planks for the sides and ends and sheet iron for the bottom.

I find that the proper temperature for good scalding is from 180 to 190 degrees, and if a barrel is to be used the water should be boiling when dipped out of the kettle, as the barrel will cool it some.

I hang the hog with a rope and pulley, as it is more easily hung in this way than any other.

I usually salt down on a bench or in a box as soon as it has cooled enough to trim.

While it is curing pack it in a box in a cool room, where it will neither become warm nor freeze.

Two barrels may be used, changing the meat from one to the other each time it is rubbed.

Those who use blind bridles on driving horses assume to supplement nature in behalf of the horse, whereas they are seriously obstructing nature.

Most any of us would as soon be buried as to lose our eyesight, and yet men, by the use of blinders on bridles, unhesitatingly deprive the horse of all the means he has of satisfying himself that nothing will hurt him.

It is possible to let this stand for an hour, then add very lightly to it the white of an egg beaten to a stiff froth.

Boil for forty minutes in boiling water, to which has been added one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of dripping and a little lemon juice.

A large pinch of salt put in a tank of the coal oil lamp will cause it to give a better light.

When a small hole breaks in the flour or other paper bag, cover with a piece of cotton plaster and save waste and bother.

Two or three slices of lemon in a cup of strong tea will cure a nervous headache. A teaspoonful of Jules in a cup of black coffee will relieve a bilious headache.

The work of skinning onions, which usually ends in tears, can be made a pleasure by pouring boiling water over them and covering a few minutes before peeling.

Household Matters

Pistachio Ice Cream.

Three cupfuls of thick cream, one cupful of milk, one cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of almond extract, one teaspoonful of green coloring, quarter teaspoonful of salt, half a cupful of finely chopped pistachio nuts, half a cupful of chopped almonds. Mix the ingredients together and freeze.—New York Press.

Squash Salad.

Cut a round slice off the top of a good squash, and scoop all the inside when a neat cup will result, into which the salad may be put.

White and Green Bonbons.

Divide one pound of uncooked fondant into two portions. Color one portion green and flavor it with almond extract, dust the slab with confectioner's sugar and roll the fondant into a square, one-third of an inch thick.

To make the uncooked fondant, break the white of one egg into a basin, into this sift about one pound of confectioner's sugar, adding it very gradually till the mixture is stiff enough to roll out.—New York Press.

Salsify Fritters.

To make the frying batter put two heaping tablespoonfuls of flour and half a teaspoonful of salt into a basin; beat up two yolks of eggs and add them with two tablespoonfuls of milk; mix well and add one tablespoonful of olive oil, season with salt and pepper and beat for three minutes.

When tender drain off the water and cut into pieces about two and a half inches long.

Cake pans can be more quickly greased if the pans are first heated. An easy way is to put small lumps of butter over the lining and stand pan on top of stove for a minute before spreading the grease.

A simple method of testing whether milk has been watered is to take a well polished knitting needle and dip it into a deep vessel of milk and withdraw it immediately. If the milk is unwatered some of the fluid will adhere to the needle; but if it has been watered in the least degree, the needle will come out quite free of milky fluid.

SORE EYES CURED.

Eye-Balls and Lids Became Terribly Inflamed—Was Unable to Go About—All Treatments Failed—Cuticura Proved Successful. "About two years ago my eyes got in such a condition that I was unable to go about. They were terribly inflamed, both the balls and lids. I tried home remedies without relief. Then I decided to go to my family physician, but he didn't help them. Then I tried two more of our most prominent physicians, but my eyes grew continually worse. At this time a friend of mine advised me to try Cuticura Ointment, and after using it about one week my eyes were considerably improved and in two weeks they were almost well. They have never given me any trouble since and I am now sixty-five years old. I shall never fail to praise Cuticura. G. B. Halsey, Mouth of Wilson, Va., Apr. 4, 1908."

There are some few people who acquire fame and wealth without forgetting their old friends.

INDIANS' SUDDEN WEALTH.

Wanted Money from Sale of Land in Greenbacks for Display.

Wealth has suddenly come to the French River Indians through the sale of the valuable timber on their lands near Lake Nipissing. For many years the late chief of the Ojibwas sternly repulsed the advances of the lumbermen, but his son has yielded to their solicitations, and it is stated that altogether the band will ultimately be entitled to something like £200,000.

Burdened with wealth, they returned to the agent's office; where each Indian piled his money up on the table and joyfully regarded the stacks of greenbacks which spelled ease and comfort for some time to come.

With difficulty the men were dissuaded from carrying off their money to the reserve, twenty miles across Lake Nipissing; but finally, after making generous purchases and paying their bills, nearly all deposited their wealth in the bank. It is stated that the sale will mean an income to some families of £600 a year. A not unnatural result of this sudden acquisition of wealth has been the frequent and prolonged visits of young bucks from other tribes, who are finding new attractions among the maidens of the Dokis families.
