

THE SOUTHERN HERALD

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

TERMS:
Subscription:
One year, in advance, $1.00
Six months, .60
Three months, .35

ADVERTISEMENTS:
One square, first insertion, 10 cents One square, each subsequent insertion, 5 cents Quarterly, half yearly and yearly advertisements contracted for at lower rates.

CARDS—PROFESSIONAL, ETC.

GEO. F. WEBB,
Attorney at Law,
Office in the Butler Building, Liberty, Amite County, Miss. 11-4-94

D. C. BRAMLETT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law, WOODVILLE, MISS.

THEO. McKNIGHT,
Attorney at Law,
SUMMIT, MISS.

J. R. GALTNEY,
Attorney at Law,
LIBERTY, MISS.

E. H. RATCLIFF,
Attorney at Law,
GLOSTER, MISS.

WILL A. PARSONS,
Attorney-at-Law,
GLOSTER, MISS.

RATCLIFF & WEBB,
Attorneys at Law,
LIBERTY, MISS.

L. L. ROSEBROUGH SUB.,
Marble and Granite Works, St. Louis, Missouri.

W. R. McDOWELL, Agent,
Amite County, Miss.

HOTEL
And Livery Stable
LIBERTY, MISS.

MRS. V. V. WEBB.

THIS PAPER IS ON FILE
IN CHICAGO
AND NEW YORK

W. R. McDOWELL, Agent,
Amite County, Miss.

HOTEL
And Livery Stable
LIBERTY, MISS.

MRS. V. V. WEBB.

THIS PAPER IS ON FILE
IN CHICAGO
AND NEW YORK

W. R. McDOWELL, Agent,
Amite County, Miss.

THEIR COMES A TIME.

There comes a time when golden-haired boys With youth and strength a skill acquire,
When sparkling words will shed the common's Bores.

CONSOLATION.

A Bit of Friendly Sympathy That Was Expensive.

It was Kitty who first suggested to me That our prescription was not working Well. As soon as she spoke I was Bound to admit it. I had thought that Jack would easily get over his unfor-

"The girl has spoiled his life!" I cried angrily. Kitty looked at me for a moment, but said nothing. "I suppose you're right," I went on. "He would be better in a livelier place."

"Oh, nonsense. It's nothing. I hope I'm always ready to do my friends a turn. But it's no use, is it? B gets worse and worse."

"I'll go," he said, with a sigh. "I won't stay a minute. After what you say, I couldn't. And, old chap, I don't know how to thank you. Many fellows would have taken the way I've been going on badly; most would—"

"Oh, you'll soon forget it when you're on the move."
"Will you, by Jove, I will!" he exclaimed, earnestly.

"I'm very sorry," apologized the head of the firm, "but I'm afraid I can do nothing for you."

KATE GARDNER'S CHAT.

Delightful Weather Told us
in Chicago.

Black Materials for Summer Dressmaking New in Chicago—
Continue in Favor—Fifty Styles
in Millinery Shops.

The materials on sale for our midsummer gowns are mostly of the airy-fairy description. There are pascowaves and gauzes, muslins and grenadines, keeping close company with cool-looking dimities and delicately-tinted lawns.

The prettiest ones, and also the most costly, have capriciously wrought flowers standing out in bold relief on sheer-est mill of snowy white or cream-tinted ground. White muslin, spotted with black and striped with pale yellow over a lining of yellow silk, makes an ideal summer gown, and a pale green grenadine spotted with black and white has a very smart effect.

The flowered shadings which have been brought out within the last month are really charming. I met a woman recently admirably gowned in one of dark green, with a shot ground delicately spotted with cream color and strewn with deep crimson and pink roses;
the bodice was of chiffon with a cape of the lace over the shoulders. It was a perfect costume, perfectly worn; just dark enough in tone not to look too festive, and distinctly chic. By the way, these lovely flowered silks are the materials for youthful looking matrons, and they should not hesitate

"Not at all. I haven't—"
"Hush! here she comes! I—I can't meet her!"

"That you're not rather a nice wife, Bob," she whispered. "Did you say anything about me, Bob?"

"I'm walking up and down the gravel walk, hitting at my flowers (of which I am rather proud) with his stick, and smoking one of my cigars (I'm a judge of cigars) at a ruinous pace. When I joined him and linked my arm through his, he started."

"I'm always ready to do my friends a
turn. But it's no use, is it? B gets
worse and worse."

"I'll go," he said, with a sigh. "I won't stay a minute. After what you say, I couldn't. And, old chap, I don't know how to thank you. Many fellows would have taken the way I've
been going on badly; most would—"

"Oh, you'll soon forget it when you're
on the move."
"Will you, by Jove, I will!" he exclaimed, earnestly.

KATE GARDNER'S CHAT.

Delightful Weather Told us
in Chicago.

Black Materials for Summer Dress-
making New in Chicago—
Continue in Favor—Fifty Styles
in Millinery Shops.

The materials on sale for our mid-
summer gowns are mostly of the airy-
fairy description. There are pascowaves
and gauzes, muslins and grenadines,
keeping close company with cool-looking dimities and delicately-tinted lawns.

The prettiest ones, and also the most
costly, have capriciously wrought flowers standing out in bold relief on sheer-
est mill of snowy white or cream-tinted ground. White muslin, spotted with black and striped with pale yellow
over a lining of yellow silk, makes an
ideal summer gown, and a pale green
grenadine spotted with black and white has a very smart effect.

The flowered shadings which have
been brought out within the last month
are really charming. I met a woman recently admirably gowned in one of dark
green, with a shot ground delicately
spotted with cream color and strewn
with deep crimson and pink roses;
the bodice was of chiffon with a cape
of the lace over the shoulders. It was a perfect costume, perfectly worn; just
dark enough in tone not to look too festive, and distinctly chic. By the way, these lovely flowered silks are
the materials for youthful looking
matrons, and they should not hesitate

"Not at all. I haven't—"
"Hush! here she comes! I—I can't
meet her!"

"I'm walking up and down the gravel walk, hitting at my flowers (of which I am rather proud) with his
stick, and smoking one of my cigars (I'm a judge of cigars) at a ruinous pace. When I joined him and linked
my arm through his, he started."

"I'm always ready to do my friends a
turn. But it's no use, is it? B gets
worse and worse."

"I'll go," he said, with a sigh. "I won't stay a minute. After what you say, I couldn't. And, old chap, I don't know how to thank you. Many fellows would have taken the way I've
been going on badly; most would—"

"Oh, you'll soon forget it when you're
on the move."
"Will you, by Jove, I will!" he exclaimed, earnestly.

"I'm very sorry," apologized the head of the firm, "but I'm afraid I can do nothing for you."

KATE GARDNER'S CHAT.

Delightful Weather Told us
in Chicago.

Black Materials for Summer Dress-
making New in Chicago—
Continue in Favor—Fifty Styles
in Millinery Shops.

The materials on sale for our mid-
summer gowns are mostly of the airy-
fairy description. There are pascowaves
and gauzes, muslins and grenadines,
keeping close company with cool-looking dimities and delicately-tinted lawns.

The prettiest ones, and also the most
costly, have capriciously wrought flowers standing out in bold relief on sheer-
est mill of snowy white or cream-tinted ground. White muslin, spotted with black and striped with pale yellow
over a lining of yellow silk, makes an
ideal summer gown, and a pale green
grenadine spotted with black and white has a very smart effect.

The flowered shadings which have
been brought out within the last month
are really charming. I met a woman recently admirably gowned in one of dark
green, with a shot ground delicately
spotted with cream color and strewn
with deep crimson and pink roses;
the bodice was of chiffon with a cape
of the lace over the shoulders. It was a perfect costume, perfectly worn; just
dark enough in tone not to look too festive, and distinctly chic. By the way, these lovely flowered silks are
the materials for youthful looking
matrons, and they should not hesitate

"Not at all. I haven't—"
"Hush! here she comes! I—I can't
meet her!"

"I'm walking up and down the gravel walk, hitting at my flowers (of which I am rather proud) with his
stick, and smoking one of my cigars (I'm a judge of cigars) at a ruinous pace. When I joined him and linked
my arm through his, he started."

"I'm always ready to do my friends a
turn. But it's no use, is it? B gets
worse and worse."

"I'll go," he said, with a sigh. "I won't stay a minute. After what you say, I couldn't. And, old chap, I don't know how to thank you. Many fellows would have taken the way I've
been going on badly; most would—"

"Oh, you'll soon forget it when you're
on the move."
"Will you, by Jove, I will!" he exclaimed, earnestly.

"I'm very sorry," apologized the head of the firm, "but I'm afraid I can do nothing for you."

VERIFIABLE HANDING BARROWS.

How to be provided by these barrows is found in the text.

Two boxes which are provided with either a wooden or a metal tray, are left without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

VERIFIABLE HANDING BARROWS.

How to be provided by these barrows
is found in the text.

Two boxes which are provided with
either a wooden or a metal tray, are
left without wheels at the front for
convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

These boxes are provided with either
a wooden or a metal tray, are left
without wheels at the front for convenient use.

AN ATTRACTIVE DESIGN

CHECKED CREPON GOWN.

THE 'JUPE VERTE' BLIND.

perched over a plain and elderly visage which gave it a look almost pathetic.
It must be difficult to realize when one grows too old for a hat and the exact moment when it is time to relinquish all pretensions to beautiful youth.

PARENTS AND CHILDREN.

One View of the Obligations Parents Owe Their Children.

It seems to me, said a woman who had spent a long life battling with unfavorable circumstances, that when it comes to the education of their children, parents have a duty to perform. It is not only their duty to provide for their children's physical needs, but also to provide for their mental and moral development. Parents should be careful to instill in their children a sense of responsibility and a love of learning.
They should also be careful to provide for their children's physical needs, such as food, clothing, and shelter. Parents should be careful to provide for their children's mental and moral development, as well as their physical needs.
They should be careful to instill in their children a sense of responsibility and a love of learning. They should also be careful to provide for their children's physical needs, such as food, clothing, and shelter.