THE MARRIAGE STATE

Reflections for the Thoughtful.
It is a reflection that countless human beings exist and drag through life as if to the beasts of the field, or to the insects of the earth, striving to more thoughts or reflections than those that the beasts of the field are not considered to them. They such as husbands and fathers, upon whom a dependent the burden of the whole, and the happiness of a countless and uncountable wife, will perhaps a family of children.

THE BLOOMING BRIDE.
But a few years ago in the flush of health and youth, and buoyancy of spirits, rapidly, and apparently luxuriantly, blossomed a fair, ruddy, intelligent wife, with frank countenance, sweet voice, strong, spirit depressed, countenance bearing the traces of suffering, and an ailing physical and moral constitution.

DREAFFUL INHERITANCE.
And must this continue? Shall we be wise in all that concerns the earth, our fields, our horses, our sheep, our cows, our orch, the nature and character of the soil we possess, the texture and quality of our goods and merchandise; but in all that concerns ourselves as human beings, with human passions and passions, subject to great derangement, involving our future peace and happiness—in all that concerns the health and welfare of the wife of our affections, and the mother of our children; in all that concerns the mental and physical well being of those children, we should be immersed in the darkest and most

BENIGHTED IGNORANCE,
AS CULPABLE AS INEXCUSABLE!
How long shall this ignorance prevail so productive of so bitter fruits? How long shall the wife and mother be ignorant of the nature, character and cause of the various wondrous and sexual complaints, constituting her days by suffering—often prolonged to years, eventuating in a complication of diseases vitally and hopelessly incurable? Shall we for ever close our eyes to the results of physiological science by which we may arrive at an understanding of ourselves as men and women, subject to various life-long enduring diseases, and subjecting them to our children.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND ponder!
No husband or wife will be ignorant of what concerns them most to know to secure their health and happiness. That knowledge is contained in a little book entitled
