THE BIG STAGE SUCCESS

IN

“Here Comes the Bride”

A day previous he was planning his wedding with the “prettiest girl in the world.” And now, the woman he was marrying WAS as homely as a scare-crow. But what about “the prettiest girl in the world?” Was she sitting by and swallowing it all? She was not. Most emphatically—NO!

There's no telling what a deuce of a fix money can lead us into when we need it bad. Frederick Tite certainly must have needed it to marry this woman. By all means see this comedy.

WANT LOCAL FOLKS TO ATTEND SESSION
Minneapolis Associated Ad Clubs Will Conduct a Big Meeting.
Minneapolis advertising men want representatives from Great Falls at their Better Business convention which is to be conducted under the auspices of the Associated Advertising clubs of Minneapolis March 19 and 20. The local commercial club is in receipt of a communication announcing the sessions and asking that delegates be sent to attend. The convention will be a general business affair and not for advertising work or the discussion of advertising, except that this might be one small part of the program as a whole. Business problems which affect all businessmen will be the principal matters to be talked over. During the convention there will also be a side meeting of presidents and secretaries of commercial clubs and chambers of commerce. Problems of the readjustment period as they affect the Ninth federal reserve district will be taken up and there will be a school of instruction for commercial club secretaries.

BAR ASSOCIATION RESOLVES ABOUT IT

Members Don't Express Formal Opinion About Leslie's Call, but Favor Stanton.

While it was the sentiment of the members of the Cascade county bar association that Judge J. B. Leslie well deserves the high honor that the state legislature has paid him in calling him to the supreme bench in the bill that provides for the increase in the membership of the bench there was evident also among the members at the banquet and social gathering last night in Hotel Rainbow a feeling that they would prefer to have him continue the long and friendly relation that has grown up between him and the constituency he so ably serves as a judge of the eighth district. And so the members permitted what some might call a selfish love to dictate that they leave to the judge and the legislature the question of whether he accepts the call with a hint that they would be happier if he continued to serve here where he is practically out of politics because his supporters here know no party. Those who expressed their opinion on the matter stated that the splendid reputation Judge Leslie has made by his quarter of a century on the bench and the act of the legislature conferring on him the high honor of the call leave little to be desired in recognition of his worth. But the members of the association also recognized the fact that they were facing an apparent condition and so they did pass a resolution that went to the point of taking care of a vacancy in the event that the judge decided to accept the call to the supreme bench. They voted a resolution directing the secretary of the bar association to advise Governor S. V. Stewart that it was the wish of the bar association, if Judge Leslie goes to the higher court, that John W. Stanton be appointed judge of the district court for this district.

COMMISSION FORM SATISFIES FARGO

That Is Report of William Stern, Business Man of That City on Visit Here.

That Fargo, North Dakota, is well pleased with the commission form of government and would not think of going back to the old form of ward aldermen and a city council is the statement of William Stern, son of Mayor Stern of Fargo, who was in the city this week to attend the wedding of his cousin, Miss Alice Wertheim, to Richard S. Goldman, of San Francisco. Mr. Stern says that the position of the people of Fargo, as concerns the commission form of government, does not rest on belief but is firmly imbedded on an experience of six years of successful operation of the commission form during which Fargo has been going forward along business lines, freed from the petty bickerings of the small town politician.

Fargo has made probably the greatest stride in street paving of any city in the northwest since it adopted the commission form of government and it has a total of public improvements in the various lines equalled by few cities of its size. Mr. Stern says that taxpayers have been entirely satisfied by their experience with the commission form of government and would not think of abandoning it now.

TRAINMEN GET GREAT CROWD AT THEIR BALL

“An unqualified success” was the term most generally used last night in describing the Trainmen's dance, given under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and held in the auditorium of the Masonic temple. The grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sheets, after which a program of dancing was continued until 2 in the morning.

The success of the dance was due to a combination of effort on the part of a committee that attended to arrangements during a period of over a month and the determination of the order to make its annual social event one second in importance to no other similar function during the present season. Last week it was announced by Secretary P. E. Lamere that no effort had been spared to feature the dance in a way that would give a full measure of enjoyment to the trainmen, their families and friends, and the success with which it was staged last night gave evidence as to how well the plans had been worked out.
